During Open Discussion At Lengthy Meeting

Debate Rages Pro And Con

Rhetoric and rhubarb reverberated from the rafters of City Council's chamber for nearly four hours Monday night as an audience of about 55 took full advantage of unlimited debate on the pros and cons of an income tax ordinance that was awaiting initial action.

Although there was no effort to divide time between opponents and proponents, eight spoke against the tax and seven supported it. A few held the floor for nearly half an hour, while others spoke for only a few moments. Several dozen questions were fired at Council, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper from the floor.

THE OPPOSITION hammered away at the theme that more than 5,000 East Liverpool residents voted against a similar tax last November, as opposed to 3,400 who supported it at the polls, and declared that Council was "flouting the will of the majority" by considering a tax again.

Proponents of the tax argued that the city government needs more income and that no more equitable method has been found, despite the rejection of the tax at the polls. East Liverpool needs improved municipal services and capital improvements, particularly if it hopes to attract new industry, they argued.

First to speak for the opposition, and making one of the longest addresses against the tax, was E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. However, Wheatley declared that he appeared as a private individual, not as president of the IBOP.

He cited the vote by which the 1958 tax ordinance was repealed. Indicating he expects a referendum when the tax ordinance finally is enacted, Wheatley added: "I'll be out taking a petition around as much as my time will permit if there is one circulated again."

WHEATLEY spoke for more than 20 minutes opening the attack on the ordinance. He took the floor briefly several more times to answer points raised by proponents.

Another major opponent of the bill was T. H. Kashuba of Pope Ave., operator of the T. K. Roofing Co. at Chester. He said he is willing to pay an income tax, but declared it will be a hardship on persons in low income brackets. He asserted that the administration's program was not planned wisely and declared as an alternative the city should itemize its proposals and put each to a vote of the people, along with a bond issue to raise the necessary funds.

First to take the floor for the proponents was Ed Adkins of St. Clair Ave., who declared:

"If labor or business had to take a vote of the whole community on every new proposal, they would regress instead of progressing. If our city is to progress we must look to the future. To me, the income tax is one of the easiest ways an individual can pay his share of the cost of government."

—:—

"I THINK COUNCIL has acted in the best interest of the city and should be congratulated, not condemned," Adkins continued. "The privileges of democracy sometimes are a burden. We must be willing to assume our share of the burdens."

Others who took the floor against the tax were: Herbert Goodman of Orchard Grove Ave., Victor Dorrell of Cadmus St., Frank Dales of Alton St., a vice president of the IBOP; Clarence Boley of Peake

IBOP Buys Property For Use As Parking Lot

To illustrate the IBOP's confidence in the future of East Liverpool, E. L. Wheatley, president, revealed to Council Monday night that the union has acquired property near its W. 6th St. headquarters that he indicated will be used initially as a parking lot for the union's visitors but later might become the site of a new headquarters building.

Investigation of the property was authorized at the 1958 international convention and the officers will report on their actions to the 1959 convention in July in Montreal, Wheatley said. He said the property's price was $2,400, but he did not reveal the exact location.

Six-Tenths Set As Rate; Vote 6 To 1

Council Will Meet In Another Special Session On Monday

Setting the stage for an expected referendum test at the Nov. 3 general election, Council gave the first of three required readings Monday night to new income tax legislation fixing a rate of 60 cents on each $100 of earnings and profits.

Designed to produce $240,000 to $300,000 a year to improve city services and finance a long-range program of capital improvements, the ordinance was given first reading, 6-1. Councilman H. A. Tullis of the First Ward cast the lone dissent.

Two more readings are required for final enactment. Council will meet in another special session next Monday night and expects to pass the ordinance finally at its regular meeting Monday, April 6.

THE RATE IN the new ordinance is two-tenths of one per cent lower than the tax which voters repealed at the 1958 general election. It is six-tenths of one per cent, which figures out to 60 cents on each $100 of income. The rate in the repealed ordinance was eight-tenths of one per cent, or 80 cents per $100.

The new ordinance does not contain an emergency clause, which means that it cannot become effective until 30 days after final passage and approval by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence. Within that 30 days, individuals or groups which wish to test the new ordinance by a vote of the people will have an opportunity to circulate referendum petitions seeking a ballot place for the question at the November election.

Councilmen emphasized repeatedly to the audience of about 55 that the ordinance is being considered on three readings and without an emergency clause to give the public every opportunity to launch referendum action.

They also emphasized that if the question is to be tested at the polls, the action must be initiated by the public, as Council has no authority to put such an issue directly to a vote of the people.

STATE LAW GIVES Council the right to go direct to the County Election Board with a request for a vote on a bond issue or a levy, for instance, but a vote on an income tax — whether via initiative or referendum procedure — must be launched by the public.

The emergency clause in the 1958 ordinance barred a referendum, under which the effectiveness of the questioned ordinance is held up pending a decision at the polls. However, Trades and Labor Council successfully got a repealer onto the ballot via initiative procedure, the provision in state law that al-

Briton Sees 'Success' In Berlin Talks

Macmillan Admits West Task Tough; Heading For Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan headed for home after his talks with President Eisenhower today predicting "we shall succeed" in negotiations over Berlin.

He conceded the West faces "a tough task" in dealing with the Soviet Union.

Macmillan left in apparent confidence that the strategy for negotiations leading toward a summit conference, worked out with Eisenhower, will avert a military showdown over Berlin.

In a departure statement at the airport he recalled that he had said on arrival here Thursday that disputes between the Soviet Union and the Western powers should be settled "by negotiation and not by force."

"I have no doubt," he said today, "that so long as we stand firmly by our principles—as we shall do — the free world has everything to gain from being ready to negotiate."

Macmillan said he was grateful to Eisenhower for his hospitality and that he considered the informality of Camp David, Md., a better background for discussing world problems than the more formal surrounding of most conferences.

The main talks were held over the weekend at the secluded and guarded presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains.

Macmillan said goodby to Eisenhower in a meeting at the White House late Monday. Those who headed the official farewell party at the airport this morning were Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The plans call for a meeting of foreign ministers in May, and a later summit conference to direct negotiations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Rescue Efforts Fail

Student Trapped In Crevice Dies

BUXTON, England (AP) — An Oxford freshman trapped for nearly two days in a rock crevice 1,000 feet underground died today after rescuers repeatedly had failed in a desperate struggle to free him.

The 20-year-old student and amateur explorer, Neil Moss, fell feet first Sunday afternoon into the "Devil's Hole" of Britain's deepest cave. He had been unconscious since Sunday night but early today had been reported breathing "quite well" with the aid of oxygen administered to him at intervals.

Police announced his death as Britain tensely followed the heartbreaking rescue attempt here in the English Midlands.

The husky, 170-pound collegian's shoulders were wedged so tight 40 feet down in the S-shaped rock shaft that four attempts to pull him free Monday failed. A rope slipped under his limp arms broke each time.

Rescuers tried to work from both ends of the hollow shaft holding Moss captive.

June Bailey, a 5-foot blonde weighing only 106 pounds, wriggled her way down into the funnel but gave up after six hours. She said she got within sight of Moss but was driven back by foul air.

"If the air clears I will go down again later today," she said.

Another route to the trapped student was sought by Bob Leakey a cave expert for 30 years. Wearing a frogman suit, he searched for a subterranean stream through which he might approach the bottom of the shaft to help work Moss free from below.

"Moss is stuck in a sort of hollow corkscrew," one rescue worker explained. "The only way to free him will be to revolve his body in the hole—to unscrew him."

Moss son of a cotton executive, went exploring in the cave with several friends on Sunday but strayed from the party. The cave is under a Derbyshire hillside owned by the royal family on the grounds of historic Pevril Castle.

Some of the tunnels are only a foot high—circling around an underground lake.

Moss' cries of "Help me! I'm stuck!" at 1 p.m. Sunday brought others in the party to the crevice in which he had fallen.

Pupils Empty St. Aloysius In Bomb Hoax

Some 500 pupils at St. Aloysius School returned to classes this morning after classes were dismissed hurriedly Monday afternoon when school officials received a phone threat that a bomb had been placed in the building.

Police and firemen raced to the school on W. 5th St. but a thorough check failed to uncover any bomb.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi said he is checking out a couple of tips he received on the caller.

Mrs. Alice Ann Costello, 117 Thompson Ave., a lay teacher at the school, received the telephone threat from a woman at 12:40 p. m. and immediately notified Sister Mary St. Rose, principal, and police were called.

Patrolman William McDaniel, desk officer, advised school officials to empty the building with a fire drill and sent other officers and firemen to the structure.

The Rev. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant priest, dismissed classes for the remainder of the afternoon. The school is scheduled to close Wednesday afternoon for the annual Easter vacation.

Mrs. Costello said the caller definitely was a woman, who warned the slightest vibration would set off the bomb.

While police and firemen were checking the building, John W. Russell, 410 W. 5th St., received a telephone call, apparently from a youngster, asking, " 'Mr. Russell, why don't you help them hunt the bomb?' " He advised authorities of the call.

It was the first reported "bomb scare" in East Liverpool although other towns have been plagued with the phony threats, police said.

New Contract Sets Test For Vote Machines

Commissioners Get Devices In Rental Plan For Trial Use

Commissioners R. Max Gard and Frank Wilson signed a second contact with the Shoup Voting Machine Corp. of Canton Monday afternoon, leasing 14 electrically operated voting machines for use at the May and November elections at a cost of $182.30 a machine or a total of $2,552.20.

The agreement cancels the contract signed by Gard and Wilson March 12 with the same corporation. Commissioner Walter A. Huston, lone Republican member of the board, did not join in the contract signing.

Hunston also had declined to sign previous contracts in connection with a test of the voting machines.

The new agreement allows the commissioners to exercise an option to purchase the machines any time up until Dec. 3, with the lease price applying on the purchase cost. If the machines are purchased, they would be paid for in 9 annual installments with interest at 4 per cent a year on the unpaid balance, the agreement provides.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw had advised the commissioners the first contract with the firm was a conditional sale agreement, although it contained an option to terminate by Dec. 3 and provided a 10 per cent rental fee for use of the machines at the two elections in East Palestine and Lisbon.

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss will visit the United States April 12-30. Strauss will inspect several rocket research centers and attend an air show at Las Vegas, informed sources said.

WEST GERMANY GET U.S. MISSILES. Members of a specialized unit of the West German Army race to their stations at the firing ramp of an Honest John rocket in Donnersberg, Germany, following the arrival of the first two of the missiles. The West German Army is scheduled to receive 260 of the 35-foot-long missiles and 36 launching ramps. Special units are being trained to man, arm and fire the rockets. (UPI Telephoto)

Boy Extortion Suspect Held To Grand Jury

East End Youth, 15, May Be Prosecuted Under Juvenile Law

A 15-year-old East End youth, accused of attempting to extort $500 from a physician's wife, was bound over to a Federal Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond Monday afternoon.

The youth was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner William G. Dornan at Youngstown on a charge of violating the federal juvenile delinquency act. He pleaded guilty.

His case may come before the Grand Jury at Cleveland for indictment or an information can be returned in which instance his case would be handled directly, William Murphy, agent in charge of the Cleveland office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, explained. Most juvenile cases are handled on informations, he added.

If the information is returned, the Pennsylvania Ave. boy could be placed on probation or committed to the custody of the U. S. attorney-general, in which case he would be sent to a federal correctional institution.

Since the penalty for extortion is a $1,000 fine or 5 years in jail or both, the youth could serve until he is 20, the agent continued.

The youth was nabbed by police and FBI agents Saturday night on Virginia Ave. when he picked up a paper sack purportedly containing the $500 dropped from a car by Mrs. J. Keith Rugh, 1112 Ohio Ave., in response to his instructions.

He had mailed the note to Mrs. Rugh Wednesday, advising her to place $500 in a paper bag or her children and home would be harmed. If she failed to obey or warned police, the boy's note said he would kill her.

Mrs. Rugh reported the incident to Chief Americo Radeschi Friday morning and federal agents were notified and arrangements made for the trap.

Chief Radeschi said, the youth broke into Bob's Sports Shop on Pennsylvania Ave. in January and was placed on four months' probation when arraigned in Juvenile Court.

Kidnaper Of 4 Placed In Mental Hospital

WESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Richard Arlen Payne, kidnaper of a South Charleston mother and her three children, was held in maximum security in a mental hospital today.

Deputy sheriffs brought Payne to Weston State Hospital yesterday from Kanawha County jail at Charleston, where he had been held since his capture.

County-Wide Parochial Bee To Be April 4

Fifteen students from five schools will participate in the countywide parochial spelling bee here April 4, with the winner advancing to the district finals at Canton April 24 for both the public and parochial systems of four counties.

Three students each from St. Aloysius of East Liverpool, Immaculate Conception of Wellsville, St. Paul's of Salem, St. Patrick's of Leetonia and Our Lady of Lourdes of East Palestine will compete here at St. Aloysius School. The bee will begin at 2 p. m.

Miss Ann Johnston, a principal in the East Liverpool public school system, again will serve as pronouncer.

The parochial bee is co-sponsored by The Review and the Salem News.

GOP Leaders Shout 'Foul'

Legislature Marks Battle Over Its Spending Control

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A head-to-head battle developed in the Ohio Legislature today on the Legislature's control over spending by state departments.

Republican leaders in the Democratic - dominated 103rd General Assembly shouted "foul" at their first realization that Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is proposing a lump-sum type of appropriation to finance operation of various state departments in the next two years.

A joint protest statement came from Senate Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem and House Minority Leader Roger Cloud as lawmakers gathered for their 12th work week.

But before their joint statement was issued, House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) told House committee chairmen to start DiSalle's tax program through House channels. Taxation Committee Chairman A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont) reported tax increases on cigarettes, 3.2 beer and corporation franchises probably will be recommended this week—and possibly a two-cent boost in gasoline and diesel fuel levies.

Lantz warned the Democrats to stick together, adding: "If we succumb to efforts to divide and conquer, we could come down to the end of the session with no program at all."

The hassle over the form of the budget was late in developing simply because busy legislators hadn't had time to look at the budget bill presented three weeks ago. But they screamed bloody murder when they got their first look at the official bill printed Thursday.

The proposed budget bill—not the budget itself, which is a separate document—abandons itemized appropriations for state departments and agencies and substitutes lump-sum appropriations. It gives the director of finance the authority to decide how each department's appropriation should be spent over the two-year period.

"How would you ever amend the bill," Cloud asked newsmen, "if you disapproved of a single proposed expenditure?"

Youngstown Jail Escapees Linked To Station Holdup

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Three men and a woman—believed to be the four who escaped from a Youngstown, Ohio, jail Monday held up a service station near here today and got away with $50.

Andrew Rerko, the service station attendant, said that at gun point he was tied up and put in a washroom. He said the men wore blue coveralls — apparently jail clothes—and the woman sat in the back seat of a 1956 Buick.

A car matching that description was stolen from Maple Heights, a Cleveland suburb, shortly after a station wagon was abandoned there this morning.

The service station is on Pennsylvania 358, just six miles east of the Ohio line.

The escapees—three men and a woman—used an auto owned by one of the Mahoning County jailers to make their getaway Monday. That car was found abandoned on a county road near Ravenna Monday night. In it were the master keys to the jail.

Shortly after finding that auto, the Portage County sheriff's office said it learned the fugitives switched to the station wagon.

The woman, Mrs. Lola Gordon 40, was cleared last week of a burglary charge and was merely being given shelter until she received train fare from a relative to go to New York State.

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Frank Reese said Mrs. Gordon willingly accompanied the three men. Her

Six-Tenths Set As Rate; Vote 6 To 1

Council Will Meet In Another Special Session On Monday

Setting the stage for an expected referendum test at the Nov. 3 general election, Council gave the first of three required readings Monday night to new income tax legislation fixing a rate of 60 cents on each $100 of earnings and profits.

Designed to produce $240,000 to $300,000 a year to improve city services and finance a long-range program of capital improvements, the ordinance was given first reading, 6-1. Councilman H. A. Tullis of the First Ward cast the lone dissent.

Two more readings are required for final enactment. Council will meet in another special session next Monday night and expects to pass the ordinance finally at its regular meeting Monday, April 6.

THE RATE IN the new ordinance is two-tenths of one per cent lower than the tax which voters repealed at the 1958 general election. It is six-tenths of one per cent, which figures out to 60 cents on each $100 of income. The rate in the repealed ordinance was eight-tenths of one per cent, or 80 cents per $100.

The new ordinance does not contain an emergency clause, which means that it cannot become effective until 30 days after final passage and approval by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence. Within that 30 days, individuals or groups which wish to test the new ordinance by a vote of the people will have an opportunity to circulate referendum petitions seeking a ballot place for the question at the November election.

Councilmen emphasized repeatedly to the audience of about 55 that the ordinance is being considered on three readings and without an emergency clause to give the public every opportunity to launch referendum action.

They also emphasized that if the question is to be tested at the polls, the action must be initiated by the public, as Council has no authority to put such an issue directly to a vote of the people.

STATE LAW GIVES Council the right to go direct to the County Election Board with a request for a vote on a bond issue or a levy, for instance, but a vote on an income tax — whether via initiative or referendum procedure — must be launched by the public.

The emergency clause in the 1958 ordinance barred a referendum, under which the effectiveness of the questioned ordinance is held up pending a decision at the polls. However, Trades and Labor Council successfully got a repealer onto the ballot via initiative procedure, the provision in state law that al-

New Contract Sets Test For Vote Machines

Commissioners Get Devices In Rental Plan For Trial Use

Commissioners R. Max Gard and Frank Wilson signed a second contact with the Shoup Voting Machine Corp. of Canton Monday afternoon, leasing 14 electrically operated voting machines for use at the May and November elections at a cost of $182.30 a machine or a total of $2,552.20.

The agreement cancels the contract signed by Gard and Wilson March 12 with the same corporation. Commissioner Walter A. Huston, lone Republican member of the board, did not join in the contract signing.

Hunston also had declined to sign previous contracts in connection with a test of the voting machines.

The new agreement allows the commissioners to exercise an option to purchase the machines any time up until Dec. 3, with the lease price applying on the purchase cost. If the machines are purchased, they would be paid for in 9 annual installments with interest at 4 per cent a year on the unpaid balance, the agreement provides.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw had advised the commissioners the first contract with the firm was a conditional sale agreement, although it contained an option to terminate by Dec. 3 and provided a 10 per cent rental fee for use of the machines at the two elections in East Palestine and Lisbon.

Youngstown Jail Escapees Linked To Station Holdup

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Three men and a woman—believed to be the four who escaped from a Youngstown, Ohio, jail Monday held up a service station near here today and got away with $50.

Andrew Rerko, the service station attendant, said that at gun point he was tied up and put in a washroom. He said the men wore blue coveralls — apparently jail clothes—and the woman sat in the back seat of a 1956 Buick.

A car matching that description was stolen from Maple Heights, a Cleveland suburb, shortly after a station wagon was abandoned there this morning.

The service station is on Pennsylvania 358, just six miles east of the Ohio line.

The escapees—three men and a woman—used an auto owned by one of the Mahoning County jailers to make their getaway Monday. That car was found abandoned on a county road near Ravenna Monday night. In it were the master keys to the jail.

Shortly after finding that auto, the Portage County sheriff's office said it learned the fugitives switched to the station wagon.

The woman, Mrs. Lola Gordon 40, was cleared last week of a burglary charge and was merely being given shelter until she received train fare from a relative to go to New York State.

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Frank Reese said Mrs. Gordon willingly accompanied the three men. Her

Boy Extortion Suspect Held To Grand Jury

East End Youth, 15, May Be Prosecuted Under Juvenile Law

A 15-year-old East End youth, accused of attempting to extort $500 from a physician's wife, was bound over to a Federal Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond Monday afternoon.

The youth was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner William G. Dornan at Youngstown on a charge of violating the federal juvenile delinquency act. He pleaded guilty.

His case may come before the Grand Jury at Cleveland for indictment or an information can be returned in which instance his case would be handled directly, William Murphy, agent in charge of the Cleveland office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, explained. Most juvenile cases are handled on informations, he added.

If the information is returned, the Pennsylvania Ave. boy could be placed on probation or committed to the custody of the U. S. attorney-general, in which case he would be sent to a federal correctional institution.

Since the penalty for extortion is a $1,000 fine or 5 years in jail or both, the youth could serve until he is 20, the agent continued.

The youth was nabbed by police and FBI agents Saturday night on Virginia Ave. when he picked up a paper sack purportedly containing the $500 dropped from a car by Mrs. J. Keith Rugh, 1112 Ohio Ave., in response to his instructions.

He had mailed the note to Mrs. Rugh Wednesday, advising her to place $500 in a paper bag or her children and home would be harmed. If she failed to obey or warned police, the boy's note said he would kill her.

Mrs. Rugh reported the incident to Chief Americo Radeschi Friday morning and federal agents were notified and arrangements made for the trap.

Chief Radeschi said, the youth broke into Bob's Sports Shop on Pennsylvania Ave. in January and was placed on four months' probation when arraigned in Juvenile Court.

Wellsville Council Sets Up Fund

$465,225 Appropriation Adopted

The annual appropriation with a grand total of $465,227.05 — a decrease of $582,564.32 from the 1958 fund — was adopted by Wellsville City Council at a special meeting Monday night.

The 1958 budget totaled $1,047,781.37, but $676,696 of this was for construction of the sewage disposal plant and for the relocation of storm sewers.

This year only $9,137.75 was appropriated for the sewage disposal construction. The plant is nearly complete and will be put into operation sometime this summer.

THE LEGISLATION covers the fiscal period from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 and was passed under suspension of rules.

The appropriation includes $145,342.50 for the general fund. New appropriations were $1,000 for a building code and $2,500 for a water survey. The Civil Service Commission clerk is scheduled to receive a $50 increase for the year as this appropriation was raised from $100 to $150.

A total of $1,000 was provided for fire and police telephones and telegraphs. The police department appropriation totaled $37,010, of which $27,780 is for salaries; $1,000, vacations; $1,500, special officers; $605, special police; $550, supplies, and $1,800, new cruiser.

THE FIRE department total is $25,370, of which $15,840 is for salaries. The amount also included $1,200 for new hose. The poor relief department was allotted a total of $29,524.30, which includes $3,120 for the director's salary.

The health department will receive $2,715. The dog catcher total was set at $1,500 with $700 included for rental of a pound. The appropriation also calls for the purchase of $1,600 in liability insurance. Engineering costs total $250. The Civil Defense was allotted $1,000 while $1,000 was set up for street cleaning and $500 for maintaining the equipment.

A total of $15,800 was appropriated for street lighting. Sewer maintenance was given $4,080 while the flood wall appropriation totaled $4,400.

CITY PARKS were allotted a total of $3,800 with $1,300 earmarked for supervision and $1,000 set aside for Hammond Park.

A new item in the appropriation was $61,969.67 set up for the sewage disposal revenue department. Of this amount $50,129.67 will be used for paying bonds and the interest. Councilman J. Frederick Russell, president pro-tem, remarked that only about $40,000 is anticipated in revenue from sewage rental and that the department is destined to end in the red almost before it gets started.

A total of $10,270 was allotted the water works department. This includes $3,000 to be used for repairs to the standpipes. This has been asked for in the past.

A TOTAL OF $2,000 was set aside for acquiring lands and $3,500 was earmarked for refunding money to Frank Moore. Moore, of Main St., "purchased" a section of land from the city about two years ago. After it had been advertised and sold to Moore, the city discovered it did not own the property.

A total of $36,900 was set aside for streets, including $7,300 for repair by contract and $3,000 for a new truck. The garbage disposal department was given $34,202.

After all business was completed, Council met in an impromptu session with E. T. Walsh, a representative of the legal department of the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh, to discuss further property which has to be purchased in the McQueen's Run pondage area.

WALSH TOLD Council that the basement of Homer Simms of Danbury Ave. is flooded when water is impounded. Although the home is above the anticipated high level area, the water seeps through the foundations. Walsh suggested the city and the government purchase the property on a 50-50 basis. The city could retain the home and title by giving the Corps of Engineers flowage rights.

No agreement was reached. Another meeting will be held later. Other land purchased in the area was on a 90-10 basis with the city paying the lesser amount.

House Leaders Bid To Get Ike Some Loan Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders of both parties joined forces today in an effort to provide some of the money President Eisenhower asked for the Development Loan Fund.

The compromise figure most often mentioned was 100 million dollars. Eisenhower had asked 225 millions for use between now and June 30 in making loans to underdeveloped nations. The House Appropriations Committee allowed nothing. Eisenhower termed that action irresponsible.

The House appeared likely to restore some of the money, but only after a bitter battle by opponents of foreign aid.

The 100 million dollars is the amount recommended by a subcommittee. Its recommendations were ignored by the full 50-member committee.

The lower figure was described as "realistic" by House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana following a meeting Monday of the GOP Policy Committee. Halleck said he doubted if anyone would try to add the entire 225 millions to the bill.

Without stipulating any amount, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said he believed the House should vote some money for the program.

Steel Earnings Dipped By 31% During 1958

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel industry earnings dropped 31 per cent to $817,200,000 last year after three straight years of billion dollar profits, Steel Magazine reports.

The magazine estimated 1958 earnings on reports from 33 leading steel manufacturers, which account for 94 per cent of the nation's steelmaking capacity.

Sales last year fell 21 per cent below the previous year to slightly more than 12 billion, Steel said.

However, the magazine added, the industry entered 1959 better off financially in many ways despite the recession. Working capital was at an all-time high of $3,360,000,000 for the companies in the survey. Total assets increased four per cent during 1958.

Pastor Admits He Organized Demonstration In Red's Visit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Lutheran minister has testified that he organized a demonstration that greeted Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan on his visit here Jan. 8.

The Rev. Tibor Domotor, testified in defense of Emma Halhai, 19, former Hungarian Freedom Fighter accused of tossing a stone at Mikoyan's party.

As the case opened in Municipal Court Monday, defense attorney Charles J. Kersten got in a lick against Mikoyan and industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton, who was host to the deputy premier.

In his opening argument, Kersten, a former Milwaukee congressman, told the jury Eaton provoked Mrs. Halhai's act by "harboring this well known murderer (Mikoyan)."

The defense asked the case be dismissed on grounds the city had not proved that Mrs. Halhai threw anything at Mikoyan's escorts, as charged, and that the disorderly conduct ordinance does not apply in her case.

Municipal Judge Mary B. Grossman denied the motion.

The city called just one witness, Patrolman George Pichler, who said he warned Mrs. Halhai before she allegedly threw the stone. He said he arrested her as she was getting ready to toss another.

The Rev. Mr. Domotor said he followed Mrs. Halhai and the policeman.

"The policeman asked if I wanted to go to jail, and I said I would be very glad to go to jail for my country," the minister testified. He said his brother now is in jail in Hungary.

Most Of Japanese Husbands Philanderers, Professor Says

TOKYO (AP)—Japan is a nation of philandering husbands and faithful wives, a local Dr. Kinsey reported today.

Prof. Shinichi Asayama of Osaka Municipal University estimated that 60 to 70 per cent of all Japanese husbands have sex relations with women other than their wives, but less than 8 per cent of the wives are unfaithful.

"Japanese husbands, compared to American husbands, are five times safer as far as their wives' fidelity is concerned," he said.

The 51-year-old geneticist published his findings in the leading woman's magazine "Fujin Koron" (Women's Forum) after questioning 257 married women and 182 husbands. The magazine devoted a special issue to "The Problem of Men."

Asayama also surved 4,838 unmarried men and 1,200 single working girls between the ages of 20 and 30. The incidence of sexual experience among the men ranged from 20 per cent of the 20-year-olds to 75 per cent of the 30-year-olds. Nonvirginity among the women increased from 18 to 28 per cent.

Of the unmarried men, said Asayama, "The rate was lowest among young bank employes. Perhaps their occupation made them as solid as their banks' safes."

He attributed the widespread infidelity among married men to three things((1) the traditional system of marriages arranged by parents; (2) widespread tacit approval of prostitution, and (3) the training traditionally given respectable Japanese girls which "makes them technical wives and mothers but fails to develop women with the ability to respond positively to the manly desires of their husbands."

2 In Custody 3 Others Sought In Car Theft Ring

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two men were in custody today and the FBI had warrants for three others in connection with a five-state auto theft ring.

Held at county jail were James R. Peterson, 25, of Atlantic Beach, Fla. and Richard E. Hammond, 27. Both were arraigned Monday before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn on charges of transporting stolen cars in interstate commerce.

Charles L. Staten, 33, of Columbus, was named in a similar warrant, The FBI said it expected his arrest shortly.

Charged with conspiracy to carry out plans of the ring were James A. Duvall, 35, owner of the Hickory Restaurant in Painesville, and John J. Paul, 20, of Painesville. Duvall is ill and will be taken into custody when he recovers, the FBI said. Paul is in Ashtabula County jail for attempting to steal a car.

The FBI said the men stole cars, counterfeited registration papers, and then sold them. The ring's operation covered Ohio, Tennessee, Florida and New York.

Fumes Kill 2 Men

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Monoxide fumes killed Stephen Winke, 58, and George Wendt, 35, the Ottawa County coroner ruled. Coroner C. R. Wood said the men were installing gas heaters at the Athletic Stadium Monday. Wind apparently blew fumes from the heaters back into the ventilators in the building and into the closed locker room, Wood said.

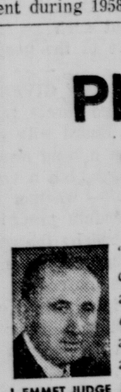
Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"



J. EMMET JUDGE

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME

The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE

Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...

Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL

All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system. This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY

We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

2 In Custody 3 Others Sought In Car Theft Ring

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two men were in custody today and the FBI had warrants for three others in connection with a five-state auto theft ring.

Held at county jail were James R. Peterson, 25, of Atlantic Beach, Fla. and Richard E. Hammond, 27. Both were arraigned Monday before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn on charges of transporting stolen cars in interstate commerce.

Charles L. Staten, 33, of Columbus, was named in a similar warrant, The FBI said it expected his arrest shortly.

Charged with conspiracy to carry out plans of the ring were James A. Duvall, 35, owner of the Hickory Restaurant in Painesville, and John J. Paul, 20, of Painesville. Duvall is ill and will be taken into custody when he recovers, the FBI said. Paul is in Ashtabula County jail for attempting to steal a car.

The FBI said the men stole cars, counterfeited registration papers, and then sold them. The ring's operation covered Ohio, Tennessee, Florida and New York.

Fumes Kill 2 Men

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Monoxide fumes killed Stephen Winke, 58, and George Wendt, 35, the Ottawa County coroner ruled. Coroner C. R. Wood said the men were installing gas heaters at the Athletic Stadium Monday. Wind apparently blew fumes from the heaters back into the ventilators in the building and into the closed locker room, Wood said.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

J. EMMET JUDGE

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME

The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE

Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...

Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL

All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system. This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY

We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

Newell School To Have Class In Home Ecs

Equipment Costing $7,274 Authorized By Hancock Board

Wells High School in Newell will have home economics classes next term for the first time in its 41-year history.

The Hancock County Board of Education cleared the way for homemaking classes at a meeting Monday night by authorizing purchase of $7,274.50 worth of equipment.

Wells High, which graduated its first Senior Class in 1928, is presently the only school in the county system that does not include home economics training in its curriculum.

Instruction in industrial arts is also missing from the school's program, while New Cumberland High School has neither course. However, Chester and Weir High School both have manual training.

Equipment for Wells will be installed this summer with additional purchases to be made later to provide complete facilities by next September. Equipment in the initial purchase includes storage cabinets and other bulky items.

Classes will be held in two rooms to be vacated by two sixth grade classes, who will attend the renovated Jefferson School next term. Eighth graders, and possibly seventh graders, will be enrolled in the first home economics course.

In other action, the board approved a bid of $5,748.00 for 14 sets of fireproof doors and partitions for various schools in the system. The purchase was ordered to comply with the code of the state fire marshal. The bid was from the Overly Manufacturing Co.

Another purchase was lockers for the new Pughtown School costing $4,353. The lockers will be installed when the building is finished, as it still is under construction by the Harry Trushel contracting firm of Weirton.

Two teachers were employed, the resignation of another was accepted and a bus driver hired in other business conducted by Dr. Dale Williams, president.

Mrs. Eleanor Watson of Weirton was employed as a teacher in an elementary school at Weirton due to an increase in enrollment, and Miss Susan Kay Finley of Chester was employed as an elementary teacher at Jefferson School in Newell. Miss Finley succeeds Mrs. Margaret Birch, who submitted her resignation at the meeting.

Sam Minesinger of New Cumberland was hired as a bus driver. The board also adopted new elementary history and geography books, and made changes in nine textbooks for Weir High School.

Hugh Manley of Weir High School was authorized to chaperone the school's Key Club to Bluefield for a state meeting, and Mrs. Betty Shaw and three other teachers were permitted to be absent April 3 to attend a spring conference of the Classroom Teachers Association in Charleston.

The New Cumberland Boosters Club was granted permission to install a hardtop basketball court and tennis court at Phillips Athletic Field in the county seat. Miss Helen Petrakis, County 4-H agent, was authorized use of the New Cumberland High School gymnasium April 11 for a county Demonstration Day program.

Routine reports were heard. The next meeting will be Monday, April 6.

Youths Cited In Gang Case

Firecrackers Cost City Motorist $10

Some of the youths involved in the teenage "rumble" at Wellsville last week are scheduled to appear Wednesday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon.

Police Chief John Hephner said today he is preparing a list of youths to be presented juvenile authorities. The investigations still are continuing, he said.

Quick action by Wellsville police prevented what could have erupted into a fight. About 25 youths, mainly from East Liverpool, were taken into custody and later released to their parents Wednesday night. Several weapons were confiscated.

The youths were congregating near the Post Office building where dances were held. The record hops have been closed by Mayor William J. Shoub. He said it was a "precautionary move."

Meanwhile, John Mathias, 1064 Oakwood Ave., East Liverpool, forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing before Shoub for illegal possession of firecrackers. The "crackers" were found in the glove compartment of his car as police were apprehending teenagers in preventing the rumble.

Hephner said today further checks have revealed that no members of a car club known as the "Drifters" were involved in the incident. Another club, the "Cam Busters," also has been cleared.

School Leaders Await Supervisors Meeting

LISBON — Three Columbiana County school officials will attend a meeting of the Northwestern Ohio County School Supervisors Association Wednesday at Canton.

Child-Beating Father Jailed

Yorkville Man Will Face Attempt To Kill

STEUBENVILLE — A charge of attempting to kill a minor child is expected to be filed today by Prosecutor Bernard McCann against a Yorkville father who surrendered to sheriff's deputies Monday afternoon after eluding police since early Saturday morning.

Howard Max Muniz is being held in jail on a warrant issued by County Judge Dominic Olivito after he came home drunk at 5 a. m. Saturday and beat the child, Howard Franklin Muniz.

The father allegedly hit the boy on the head with a flashlight, picked him up by his feet and slammed his body against a wall in their Yorkville home.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Kathryn Muniz, signed a warrant charging her husband with assault with intent to kill a minor child, but reportedly said that she wished to drop the charges.

However, the prosecutor said he would file charges if the mother refused to do so.

"He don't know his own strength," Mrs. Muniz said of her husband. "He started to whip the boy because a neighbor lady told him Howard ran away from home to see his grandmother, and he (Muniz) was just a little too drunk to stop."

The boy was admitted to Martins Ferry Hospital in "serious" condition with internal injuries and multiple contusions about the body. He was reported in "fair" condition Monday.

The Muniz family has three other children. The mother told police after the incident that the boy fell down the stairs but later changed her story.

Car-School Bus Crash Kills Family Of 4

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—A station wagon and school bus collided at an intersection near here Monday night, killing a family of four.

The dead were identified as John Wesley Grinstead Jr., 31 of Rupert, Idaho; his wife, Wanda Fern, 23; a son, John Wesley III, 5; and a daughter, Wendy, 3; all in the station wagon.

Kiln Collapse Injures Pair

Brothers Hurt In Summitville Mishap

Two southwestern Columbiana County brothers were hospitalized Monday after they were pinned under an old beehive brick kiln which collapsed at the Summitville Face Brick Co. while workmen were dismantling the kiln.

Floyd E. Kreps, 35, of Salineville R. D. 1 and Ralph L. Kreps, 26, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 were caught under the pile of bricks truck.

Ralph Kreps is in "poor" condition at Salem Central Clinic with fractures of the right arm and wrist, possible fractures of the jaw and right leg and multiple lacerations and abrasions.

The two were at work beside the kiln when a third man—apparently believing the brothers were clear of the structure—cut a steel support, causing the kiln to collapse.

Peter Johnson, vice president of the brick firm, said the pair was buried under the rubble for 15 or 20 minutes. He explained the third workman cut a steel band around the circular kiln, allowing the domed roof to cave in and the walls to fall outward.

Ralph Kreps' wife, Mrs. Shirley Kreps, is employed at the Summitville Tile Works.

The kiln was one of several being torn down at the brick firm, Johnson said.

Flu Cases In Ohio Rocketed Last Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More influenza cases were reported in Ohio last week than during all 12 months of 1958, the State Health Department said today.

Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, department director, said 1,935 cases were reported last week, as compared with 1,772 for all of last year. So far this year 3,692 cases have been reported in the state.

Last week's report is the highest total since the worst week of the Asian flu epidemic in the fall of 1957, when 3,370 cases were reported during one week in October, he said.

Driver Denies Manslaughter

Man In Fatal Crash Slated For Hearing

Bernard J. Icenhower, 40, of 305 E. 2nd St. entered a not guilty plea today in Municipal Court on a second degree manslaughter charge filed by police in connection with an E. 3rd St. traffic death March 8.

Judge George L. Brokaw fixed a preliminary hearing for Icenhower this afternoon at 2 on the charge filed after the death of Murl Oney, 37, of E. 2nd St. Mr. Oney was injured fatally when Icenhower's auto crashed into a parked tractor-trailer, police said.

Discharged this morning from City Hospital, where he had been under treatment for injuries suffered in the crash, Icenhower was taken before Judge Brokaw for arraignment on the manslaughter charge filed last Thursday by Patrolman W. A. Devon.

Earlier, Icenhower pleaded not guilty to a drunken driving charge filed in connection with the same crash. Police said the fatal mishap occurred only 11 days after Icenhower had his driver's license returned from a previous conviction of drunken driving.

The two were at work beside the kiln when a third man—apparently believing the brothers were clear of the structure—cut a steel support, causing the kiln to collapse.

Peter Johnson, vice president of the brick firm, said the pair was buried under the rubble for 15 or 20 minutes. He explained the third workman cut a steel band around the circular kiln, allowing the domed roof to cave in and the walls to fall outward.

Ralph Kreps' wife, Mrs. Shirley Kreps, is employed at the Summitville Tile Works.

The kiln was one of several being torn down at the brick firm, Johnson said.

Flu Cases In Ohio Rocketed Last Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More influenza cases were reported in Ohio last week than during all 12 months of 1958, the State Health Department said today.

Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, department director, said 1,935 cases were reported last week, as compared with 1,772 for all of last year. So far this year 3,692 cases have been reported in the state.

Last week's report is the highest total since the worst week of the Asian flu epidemic in the fall of 1957, when 3,370 cases were reported during one week in October, he said.

Driver Denies Manslaughter

Man In Fatal Crash Slated For Hearing

Bernard J. Icenhower, 40, of 305 E. 2nd St. entered a not guilty plea today in Municipal Court on a second degree manslaughter charge filed by police in connection with an E. 3rd St. traffic death March 8.

Judge George L. Brokaw fixed a preliminary hearing for Icenhower this afternoon at 2 on the charge filed after the death of Murl Oney, 37, of E. 2nd St. Mr. Oney was injured fatally when Icenhower's auto crashed into a parked tractor-trailer, police said.

Discharged this morning from City Hospital, where he had been under treatment for injuries suffered in the crash, Icenhower was taken before Judge Brokaw for arraignment on the manslaughter charge filed last Thursday by Patrolman W. A. Devon.

Earlier, Icenhower pleaded not guilty to a drunken driving charge filed in connection with the same crash. Police said the fatal mishap occurred only 11 days after Icenhower had his driver's license returned from a previous conviction of drunken driving.

No Job For Shattered Nerves

It is grim, ticklish business to dismantle the dud bomb left unexploded when the Western Allies committed themselves to stay in Berlin, completely surrounded by their Communist comrades-in-arms.

No one gives the Kremlin the benefit of a doubt in a case like this, but Berlin is as grim and ticklish a problem for its politicians and militarists as it is for the politicians and militarists of the United States, Britain and France.

All of them would like to dismantle the bomb before it explodes and blows them into oblivion. Nikita Khrushchev unavoidably is getting the blame for setting a deadline for a showdown, but his critics know that there had to be a showdown eventually.

The purpose of negotiation is to avert an explosion. And the technique of negotiation is to seek and find points of agreement. It is no job for shattered nerves. Fortunately, Dwight Eisenhower, Harold MacMillan, Nikita Khrushchev and even Charles de Gaulle have given evidence of extreme composure—far more so than the jittery political popoffs who have been exploiting a chance to go into hysterics.

If the leaders can continue to keep themselves from flying apart under pressure, the next move will be to find enough potential points of agreement to justify hope of accord.

One point might be mutual reductions of armament and military personnel in Germany, where military tension has been bleeding treasuries white.

Another might be abandonment of the idea that no settlement is possible without unification of Germany. Germany may never be united.

And still another might be recognition of the long-term impossibility of maintaining a military standoff in Berlin without a military clash.

There is a way to come out of the Berlin crisis without war; the task is to find it. If Khrushchev will quit tapping the Berlin bomb for the pleasure of watching bystanders jump, if Eisenhower and Macmillan continue to set a good example for their countrymen and if De Gaulle can forget nationalism long enough to remember he wouldn't have any if France's allies hadn't fought World War II to secure a French future, there need be no war, despite those who have been talking as if they would like to have one.

You Hear About These Executioners

There is a person who moves among us as if his conscience were as clear as the conscience of anyone else.

He looks the same, talks the same, acts the same as his neighbors. But he is by no means the same kind of person.

He is a self-appointed executioner of other people's pets.

He shoots dogs and cats, or poisons them. In his mind, he justifies this life-taking by thinking of his victims as nuisances, in much the same way as Hitler's bully-boys thought of the other human beings as nuisances.

And in exactly the same way as the bully-boys killed what they did not like, the executioners of dogs and cats kill what they do not like. This is a time of year when they become more active than usual. They declare an open season on their quarry in springtime.

Here is something for them to think about: It is an offense punishable by both imprisonment and fine under Ohio law to kill or injure a dog or cat maliciously or wilfully.

If the value of the dog, for example, is more than $35 the prison term may be as much as one year and the fine $500. For animals of lesser value, the prison term may be as much as three months and the fine as much as $200.

The trouble is, of course, that the executioners are hard to catch. You hear about them but almost never find out who they are.

They operate after dark. They do not boast of their prowess with guns and poison. If they did, their own lives wouldn't be worth much more than the value they assign to the lives of the pets they love to kill.

A stiff penalty in the law is no comfort to the owner of a pet that has been executed contrary to the law. But it can be an incentive to those who may be wronged by the executioners to demand the complete cooperation of law enforcement officials in cases where there is even an outside chance of getting enough evidence to give the culprits up to the year in jail and the $500 fine they richly deserve.

Always Good For One More

Sumner Slichter, the Harvard economist, has been at it again — and editorial writers from coast to coast can be thankful for this endless supply of provocative viewpointing.

This time the Slichterisn that gives commentators a taking-off point is in testimony before the Senate-House economic committee, one of three blue-ribbon groups looking into the economic quandary in Washington.

As Slichter sees it, congressmen shouldn't bother their white-maned heads about inflation, which he is inclined to think of as the price of progress, unless they are prepared to do something about it.

What he proposes that they do about it is drop barriers on imported goods to make U.S. producers compete with foreign producers. Wage demands of powerful unions are driving up prices and living costs, he reasons, so the obvious way to drive down living costs is to cool off the unions' monopolistic privilege of charging what the traffic will bear.

When Slichter had finished saying this, you could hear a tariff drop anywhere in the District of Columbia. But he had something else to say while he was on the stand.

He thinks it is so necessary to do something about unemployment that if it takes three-billion-dollar addition to the deficit the price would be reasonable. This will cheer up budget-unbalancing spendocrats.

But it seems odd that a Harvard economist would fail to point out the alternative to unbalancing the budget in the hope of making more job opportunities.

That would be to raise enough new money in taxation to put the federal government on a pay-as-you-go basis, thereby restoring confidence and making it easier for jobmakers to create new employment for jobholders.

But two things seem to be unmentionable in Washington. One is the fact that monopolistic unions have the power of life and death over many areas of enterprise. The other is the fact that budgets can be balanced by raising taxes, reducing expenditures, or both.

As long as Sumner Slichter was going to be blunt about unions, he might as well have been blunt about politicians who lack courage to collect in taxation what they are hell-bent on dispersing in the pursuit of votes.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Broadway is starting matinees at 2 o'clock instead of somewhere between 2:30 and 3:45 to give matinee fans a chance to get home before the traffic snafu sets in. It seems a good idea but will the women, who make up the bulk of matinee addicts, take it for long without a battle?

They go to a matinee not so much to see a play as to live dangerously, stand for unncessary roughness, swap neighborhood gossip and join in the whisper, "It looks like mink but it's imitation."

The matinee is women's territory. It is an adjunct of the midtown excursion, the hurried luncheon and the conversational binge.

SHAKESPEARE SAID, "The play's the thing." Not with the women playgoers. With them the "thing" is a combination of late starts for Broadway, traffic complications, yack-yacking, hand-wavings, costume comparisons and consternation over what happened to Mrs. Nuzzbaum who was supposed to meet the club members on the corner at 1 p.m. They are accustomed to look at the theater program around the middle of the afternoon and exclaim, "The leading man is a cowboy actor. I thought this was the Charles Boyer show." They will resent discovering this error earlier in the day.

For years a late curtain has been welcomed because it afforded an extra runback over neighborhood scandals. The 2:40 matinee has permitted an extensive period of "Wait 'til I tell you what she said"—"I hear he left her this morning"—"She can't dress like that on his salary"—and "I don't see how they lived together so long, Minnie, do you?"

WHAT LADY wants actors barging onto the state in a play just when her gal friend's gossip has reached the point where Mrs. Bozzle found the letter signed "Toots" and started for Mr. Bozzle's office with the revolver?

Who cares what Eugene O'Neill thinks if it interrupts what rumor the well-informed housewife is circulating?

This early curtain may yet be fought bitterly. It permits the playwright and the play to spoil an afternoon in the American theater. To the ramparts, gals! Nobody can do this to youse.

A MOVIE ACTOR and actress met in a Havana swimming pool one day and announced the engagement the next. (One of those pools which supplies publicity agents at each end?)

Hollywood has a new film in which a youth kills two men, including his own brother and then burns Audrey Hepburn alive in a tree. (Wonder where kids get such vicious ideas these days?)

Jimmy Hoffa is organizing Standard Oil workers. Through the McClellan probe he has had plenty of experience in a "pumping station." He's a four-gallon man. Never took the fifth, he says.

Connecticut, where the first telephone exchange in the world was opened, is now testing first pushbutton phones. You stab numbers instead of dialing. Saves wear and tear on your wrist, no doubt.

Tourist, caught in big traffic tie-up by open drawbridge, on return from Florida says he saw no boats around and asked the tender, "Why did you open it?" and got answer, "I wanted to see if it was working. It wasn't."

Odd Facts

The island of Ormuz, in the Persian Gulf, is comprised entirely of salt, rising from the ocean bottom to a height of 300 feet. The island is about 16 miles in circumference, nothing can grow on it, and all its water is quite salty.

Except in isolated cases, the U. S. Navy did not begin drafting men into its service until during World War II, when a million and a half men were inducted.

One of the oldest garden vegetables is the cucumber. It is mentioned in the Old Testament, and was known at least 3,000 years ago, probably originating in India.

International Jigsaw Puzzle

Hope Dims For Racket Curb Law

By Victor Riesel

Despite the arson, the acid bathing of juke boxes, the beatings and extortions and the parade of wooden faced goons through the Senate crime-busting committee hearing room, the most influential congressional leaders now believe there will not be a federal racket-reform law.

Victor Riesel

That's what they are saying privately. They say the anti-racket bills will die in the House leaving a mighty political stench under its beams. For the moment the political chiefs believe that the only hope for a running battle with the mob infiltrators of labor is in regional brush fire wars in the states.

There are such "wars" — some of them unnoticed in other parts of the nation. A felon, for example, can no longer be a union official in North Dakota. That's been the law for some days now.

THOSE DAKOTANS are whimsical folk. They believe that the word "Badlands" should refer only to bumpy roads and not to roads laden with the bumped off excesses of the mob.

In one of the first laws of its kind, the North Dakota legislature put it this way:

"Qualifications To Hold Office In Labor Union Or Labor Organization: No person who has been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude or of a felony, excepting traffic violations, shall serve in any official capacity in any labor union or labor organization in this state. No such person, or any labor union or any labor organization in which he is an officer, shall be qualified to act as a bargaining agent or representative for employes in this state. Such disqualification shall terminate whenever such officer is removed or resigns as an officer in such labor union or labor organization."

That's the whole law. Yet labor leaders in that state fought it. They rounded up 40 out of 110 members of the house and 12 out of 49 state senators to vote against it. Why?

Should men once convicted of attempted murder, arson, grand larceny, mayhem and other violence be permitted the truly sacred trust of leadership of working men and women? Even in North Dakota there were two union officials with long prison records.

IF THERE WERE such a federal law, many of those exposed by Sen. McClellan would have been summarily ejected from control of the hundreds of locals they run — in and out of the big unions. Such a law would almost automatically wipe out the dummy unions set up by the underworld.

Apparently the next state to pass reform laws will be Gov. Rockefeller's New York. Within a fortnight there will be a law making union chiefs responsible for union funds and property just as a corporation executive is responsible to stockholders for company property and must answer to stockholders for any profits he makes because of the position, power and prestige of his office.

This is but the first step in New York. It can be reported that Gov. Rockefeller wants legislation insuring democracy inside unions. He just isn't going to wait for Congress.

IN A DISCUSSION with three labor lawyers earlier this month, Mr. Rockefeller agreed to set up a group to study proposals which he wants passed along this line early next year.

He convinced the labor people that there should be action next year — not more debate. There was such detailed discussion that they decided even to study whether a union should pay the legal bills for the defense of an accused union officer.

The feeling that Congress has got itself all tied up in legal tape and will fall on its face is provoking other state capitals into action.

Naturally, where labor has little influence the laws will be tougher, such as the one just passed in Georgia. There it is now legal for a rank-and-filer or a company to sue a union. Previously, if anyone wanted damages from a union, he had to sue its members individually.

In one fashion or another, from New York to the states of Washington and California, there's a drive on for "little" reform bills. They'll vary. There'll be trouble.

There won't be turbulence across the land if Congress can pull itself together and whip out a national code of ethics.

About The Weather

By Truman Twill

I intend to do something about the weather.

For once and for all, I intend to quit being an easy mark for pitchmen who use the climate to sell me widgets.

There is no difference between them and the pitchmen Mama told me to be leary of when she packed my carpetbag and sent me out into the world.

"Give them a wide berth," she said. "They are only after your money."

Ever since I first let these fast-talking entrepreneuers into my living room to con me into listening to their spiel so they could sell me something, I have been getting my dander up.

This is not an easy thing to do, because my dander is hard to get up. I always will be a sucker for a glib spiel. I admire a spieler who can hold my attention.

But the weather spielers have worn out my patience.

They have fooled me too often.

From now on, I will fool them. I will not lend them my eyes or my ears for their charts and graphs and cold fronts and all the rest of the climatological jazz they play for profit.

I will go back to thinking about the weather the way I thought about it before it was converted into an electronic pitch.

The climate is not an emergency. It is normal. It is here, day in and day out. When it snows, it snows. When it rains, it rains. When it blows, it blows.

This is normal. I do not intend to take to the hills, the lifeboats, or the hurricane cellars any more, unless something extraordinary is on the way and an all-points alert is issued officially.

I do not intend to be rushed into precipitate action by some spieler who is using weather to sell me a widget.

I intend to do something about the weather; namely, to live with it on my terms, not as a subject for dramatization.

The climate pitchmen have kept me in a state of artificial anxiety. They have been interfering with my peace of mind. They have flustered me into battening down the hatches when it didn't blow and starting to bail when the boat wasn't leaking.

They have sent me forth with a raincoat when it didn't rain and on daisy-picking expeditions when it did rain. They have kept me preoccupied with hopes and fears that never materialized.

They have interfered with my slumber when there was nothing to be anxious about and they have lulled me into false security when I should have been standing by with a stout pole to fend off floating debris.

Most of the dire things that could have racked me up they have goofed on and most of the wonderful days I have enjoyed they did not see coming.

Their percentage of accuracy is not high enough to justify the confidence they have been asking me to have in their prognostications.

From now on, I will take my weather as it comes and quit letting spielers tell me how hot it is in Death Valley and how cold it is on some God-forsaken mountaintop. So what?

They can peddle potato-peelers and juice extractors until their tonsils wear out — but not in my living room.

I am going to do something about the weather. I am going to make it seem normal. Sometimes it snows and sometimes it doesn't. There is nothing I can do about it, except take the bitter with the better when it happens.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — An oration by Francis A. Hale, winner of the Hancock County contest, featured a meeting of the Chester Parent - Teacher Association.

Three special addresses, a musicale and a citywide Communion service featured the Holy Week observance at Wellsville under auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Long On Promises

By David Lawrence

Reds Cannot Be Trusted To Keep Agreements

Three years and three months isn't a long time in world affairs, yet how many people who are so enthusiastically hailing the next "summit" conference remember that the Soviet government made a solemn pledge three years ago at a "summit" conference and then broke it four months later at a foreign ministers' conference?

David Lawrence

Of what avail is any "summit" conference if the agreements are later torn into scraps of paper?

A certain comminique, for instance, is worth rereading today. The head of the Soviet government —Bulganin — with Khrushchev at his side, signed it on July 23, 1955. It was issued after a "summit" conference at Geneva, attended also by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain and Premier Faure of France. The statement says:

"The heads of government, recognizing their common responsibility for the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany, have agreed that the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany by free elections shall be carried out in conformity with the national interests of the German people and the interests of European security.

"The foreign ministers will make whatever arrangements they may consider desirable for the participation of, or for consultation with, other interested parties."

THIS WAS a "directive" or formal instruction to the foreign ministers of the same four countries —the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France and the United States. The four ministers then met at Geneva and here is the full text of the joint declaration of France, Great Britain and the United States, issued at the close of the conference on Nov. 16, 1955:

"At Geneva, the foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America tried to reach agreement with the Soviet foreign minister on what the four heads of government in July agreed were the closely linked problems of German reunification and European security. To this end, they made a proposal for the reunification of Germany by free elections in 1956 and for a treaty of assurance giving the Soviet Union far-reaching safeguards against aggression when Germany was reunified.

"Marshal Bulganin in July had agreed that the reunification of Germany was the common responsibility of the four powers and should be carried out by means of free elections. The Soviet foreign minister, however, despite the directive of the heads of government, made it plain that the Soviet government refused to agree to the reunification of Germany, since that would lead to the liquidation of the East German regime. He made counterproposals which would have involved the continued division of Germany as well as the eventual dissolution of the Western security system. It is for this reason that the negotiations have failed.

"The foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America are aware that this result must bring a sense of cruel disappointment to the German people, east and west of the zonal border which now unjustly divides them. However, the three foreign ministers believe that the Soviet government will come to recognize that its own self-interest will be served by ending the injustice of a divided Germany. They believe that the Soviet government will realize that so long as it persists in withholding unity from the German people, there can be no solid security in Europe, nor, indeed, in the world.

"THE THREE Western powers will themselves not cease their efforts to end the injustice and wrong now being done by dividing the German people and will continue to stand ready to contribute to the security which can be enjoyed by all only when Germany is reunified."

Why does the Soviet Union think now it can reap the fruits of its repudiation of the pledge given at the "summit" conference of July 1955 and gain its ends in 1959?

Perhaps it is because the Soviets have an iron determination and believe that the Western democracies are undergoing a process of moral deterioration in which principle will be sacrificed for expediency.

Perhaps it's because the politically selfish Socialist Labor party in Britain, which believes in peace-at-any-price doctrines, has forgotten the fatal appeasement of Hitler at Munich in 1938.

Perhaps it's because, inside the United States, prominent Democrats in Congress, by their speeches and statements in the press, have openly encouraged the Soviets to believe that President Eisenhower "lost the confidence" of the American people in the last congressional election, that the Democrats are going to win the presidency in 1960, and that the next administration will give softer treatment to the Kremlin.

CERTAINLY the widespread pressure for a "summit" conference this summer has persuaded a reluctant President of the United States to go again to Geneva. But the holding of the conference can have only one value; to inform the world once more of the futility of trying to negotiate with a consummate liar.

Meanwhile, all proposals for "disengagement," "nuclear free zones" and "pulling back" Western armies or "freezing" a zone in central Europe are palpable moves of offensive strategy on the military chess board of the men in the Kremlin.

Perhaps it will not take even three months after the next "summit" conference for the world to learn that, when the Soviet government puts its signature on a pledge, it cannot be trusted to keep its word. Appeasement of such an adversary can only lead to war.

A Matter Of Viewpoints

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Their handling of their foreign ministers—and their attitude toward a foreign ministers meeting —is a prime example of the difference between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev treats his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, like a bookkeeper in charge of small details. Perhaps no president in history ever depended more on his Secretary of State than Eisenhower on John Foster Dulles.

It is hard to imagine Khrushchev at a loss for a word or an idea at a summit get-together if Gromyko never showed up. He already has dismissed as a waste of time a foreign ministers meeting before a summit conference.

Dulles has been Eisenhower's strong right arm in foreign affairs. It is doubtful, because of his cancer, that Dulles can go overseas to a summit meeting with the President.

To be sure, Eisenhower, before he goes, will be well briefed on details by his State Department aides and perhaps by Dulles himself.

But on a minute by minute basis that won't be the same as having Dulles with him. The President respected Dulles' judgment, relied on him, listened, was guided by him.

It is no wonder Eisenhower, contrary to Khrushchev, until recently had insisted that any summit meeting must be preceded by a foreign ministers conference which showed some progress and agreement before the top men met.

If Eisenhower now seems to be attaching less importance to a foreign ministers meeting it may be due more to Dulles' illness than any argument by Khrushchev or influence by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Besides reliance on Dulles, there's another good reason why Eisenhower should put much store on a foreign ministers meeting as a preliminary to the summit conference. Reliance on foreign ministers to work things out has been a traditional method of Western diplomacy, not summit meetings.

There are broad differences also between the President and the Russian premier.

The chubby, bald, extroverted Khrushchev — if he had been raised in this country — would have been called a pusher. He has been pushing all his life. He is an innovator and an experimenter.

Eisenhower, although he can play slam-bang politics at campaign time, is essentially a traditionalist and a conservative. He has done no innovating socially or economically here at home. He is a preserver.

His long and successful military career by itself alone would have been an enormous force in making him a respecter of tradition.

Khrushchev, on the other hand, pushed his way up through the cannibalistic ranks of the Communist party. Once at the top he kept pushing. First, he pushed aside the traditional idolatry lavished on the memory of Stalin; next he shoved aside his co-equals, the other heirs of Stalin, like Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, Beria.

The summit meeting will be a conference between a rambunctious, daring but shrewd man and a conservative who has no revolutionary ambitions but is determined to preserve what the West holds, yielding not an inch to the advantage of the Soviet Union.

Another might be abandonment of the idea that no settlement is possible without unification of Germany. Germany may never be united.

And still another might be recognition of the long-term impossibility of maintaining a military standoff in Berlin without a military clash.

There is a way to come out of the Berlin crisis without war; the task is to find it. If Khrushchev will quit tapping the Berlin bomb for the pleasure of watching bystanders jump, if Eisenhower and Macmillan continue to set a good example for their countrymen and if De Gaulle can forget nationalism long enough to remember he wouldn't have any if France's allies hadn't fought World War II to secure a French future, there need be no war, despite those who have been talking as if they would like to have one.

You Hear About These Executioners

There is a person who moves among us as if his conscience were as clear as the conscience of anyone else.

He looks the same, talks the same, acts the same as his neighbors. But he is by no means the same kind of person.

He is a self-appointed executioner of other people's pets.

He shoots dogs and cats, or poisons them. In his mind, he justifies this life-taking by thinking of his victims as nuisances, in much the same way as Hitler's bully-boys thought of the other human beings as nuisances.

And in exactly the same way as the bully-boys killed what they did not like, the executioners of dogs and cats kill what they do not like. This is a time of year when they become more active than usual. They declare an open season on their quarry in springtime.

Here is something for them to think about: It is an offense punishable by both imprisonment and fine under Ohio law to kill or injure a dog or cat maliciously or wilfully.

If the value of the dog, for example, is more than $35 the prison term may be as much as one year and the fine $500. For animals of lesser value, the prison term may be as much as three months and the fine as much as $200.

The trouble is, of course, that the executioners are hard to catch. You hear about them but almost never find out who they are.

They operate after dark. They do not boast of their prowess with guns and poison. If they did, their own lives wouldn't be worth much more than the value they assign to the lives of the pets they love to kill.

A stiff penalty in the law is no comfort to the owner of a pet that has been executed contrary to the law. But it can be an incentive to those who may be wronged by the executioners to demand the complete cooperation of law enforcement officials in cases where there is even an outside chance of getting enough evidence to give the culprits up to the year in jail and the $500 fine they richly deserve.

Always Good For One More

Sumner Slichter, the Harvard economist, has been at it again — and editorial writers from coast to coast can be thankful for this endless supply of provocative viewpointing.

This time the Slichterisn that gives commentators a taking-off point is in testimony before the Senate-House economic committee, one of three blue-ribbon groups looking into the economic quandary in Washington.

As Slichter sees it, congressmen shouldn't bother their white-maned heads about inflation, which he is inclined to think of as the price of progress, unless they are prepared to do something about it.

What he proposes that they do about it is drop barriers on imported goods to make U.S. producers compete with foreign producers. Wage demands of powerful unions are driving up prices and living costs, he reasons, so the obvious way to drive down living costs is to cool off the unions' monopolistic privilege of charging what the traffic will bear.

When Slichter had finished saying this, you could hear a tariff drop anywhere in the District of Columbia. But he had something else to say while he was on the stand.

He thinks it is so necessary to do something about unemployment that if it takes three-billion-dollar addition to the deficit the price would be reasonable. This will cheer up budget-unbalancing spendocrats.

But it seems odd that a Harvard economist would fail to point out the alternative to unbalancing the budget in the hope of making more job opportunities.

That would be to raise enough new money in taxation to put the federal government on a pay-as-you-go basis, thereby restoring confidence and making it easier for jobmakers to create new employment for jobholders.

But two things seem to be unmentionable in Washington. One is the fact that monopolistic unions have the power of life and death over many areas of enterprise. The other is the fact that budgets can be balanced by raising taxes, reducing expenditures, or both.

As long as Sumner Slichter was going to be blunt about unions, he might as well have been blunt about politicians who lack courage to collect in taxation what they are hell-bent on dispersing in the pursuit of votes.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Broadway is starting matinees at 2 o'clock instead of somewhere between 2:30 and 3:45 to give matinee fans a chance to get home before the traffic snafu sets in. It seems a good idea but will the women, who make up the bulk of matinee addicts, take it for long without a battle?

They go to a matinee not so much to see a play as to live dangerously, stand for unnecessary roughness, swap neighborhood gossip and join in the whisper, "It looks like mink but it's imitation."

The matinee is women's territory. It is an adjunct of the midtown excursion, the hurried luncheon and the conversational binge.

SHAKESPEARE SAID, "The play's the thing." Not with the women playgoers. With them the "thing" is a combination of late starts for Broadway, traffic complications, yack-yacking, hand-wavings, costume comparisons and consternation over what happened to Mrs. Nuzzbaum who was supposed to meet the club members on the corner at 1 p.m. They are accustomed to look at the theater program around the middle of the afternoon and exclaim, "The leading man is a cowboy actor. I thought this was the Charles Boyer show." They will resent discovering this error earlier in the day.

For years a late curtain has been welcomed because it afforded an extra runback over neighborhood scandals. The 2:40 matinee has permitted an extensive period of "Wait 'til I tell you what she said"—"I hear he left her this morning"—"She can't dress like that on his salary"—and "I don't see how they lived together so long, Minnie, do you?"

WHAT LADY wants actors barging onto the state in a play just when her gal friend's gossip has reached the point where Mrs. Bozzle found the letter signed "Toots" and started for Mr. Bozzle's office with the revolver?

Who cares what Eugene O'Neill thinks if it interrupts what rumor the well-informed housewife is circulating?

This early curtain may yet be fought bitterly. It permits the playwright and the play to spoil an afternoon in the American theater. To the ramparts, gals! Nobody can do this to youse.

A MOVIE ACTOR and actress met in a Havana swimming pool one day and announced the engagement the next. (One of those pools which supplies publicity agents at each end?)

Hollywood has a new film in which a youth kills two men, including his own brother and then burns Audrey Hepburn alive in a tree. (Wonder where kids get such vicious ideas these days?)

Jimmy Hoffa is organizing Standard Oil workers. Through the McClellan probe he has had plenty of experience in a "pumping station." He's a four-gallon man. Never took the fifth, he says.

Connecticut, where the first telephone exchange in the world was opened, is now testing first pushbutton phones. You stab numbers instead of dialing. Saves wear and tear on your wrist, no doubt.

Tourist, caught in big traffic tie-up by open drawbridge, on return from Florida says he saw no boats around and asked the tender, "Why did you open it?" and got answer, "I wanted to see if it was working. It wasn't."

Odd Facts

The island of Ormuz, in the Persian Gulf, is comprised entirely of salt, rising from the ocean bottom to a height of 300 feet. The island is about 16 miles in circumference, nothing can grow on it, and all its water is quite salty.

Except in isolated cases, the U. S. Navy did not begin drafting men into its service until during World War II, when a million and a half men were inducted.

One of the oldest garden vegetables is the cucumber. It is mentioned in the Old Testament, and was known at least 3,000 years ago, probably originating in India.

International Jigsaw Puzzle

Hope Dims For Racket Curb Law

By Victor Riesel

Despite the arson, the acid bathing of juke boxes, the beatings and extortions and the parade of wooden faced goons through the Senate crime-busting committee hearing room, the most influential congressional leaders now believe there will not be a federal racket-reform law.

Victor Riesel

That's what they are saying privately. They say the anti-racket bills will die in the House leaving a mighty political stench under its beams. For the moment the political chiefs believe that the only hope for a running battle with the mob infiltrators of labor is in regional brush fire wars in the states.

There are such "wars" — some of them unnoticed in other parts of the nation. A felon, for example, can no longer be a union official in North Dakota. That's been the law for some days now.

THOSE DAKOTANS are whimsical folk. They believe that the word "Badlands" should refer only to bumpy roads and not to roads laden with the bumped off excesses of the mob.

In one of the first laws of its kind, the North Dakota legislature put it this way:

"Qualifications To Hold Office In Labor Union Or Labor Organization: No person who has been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude or of a felony, excepting traffic violations, shall serve in any official capacity in any labor union or labor organization in this state. No such person, or any labor union or any labor organization in which he is an officer, shall be qualified to act as a bargaining agent or representative for employes in this state. Such disqualification shall terminate whenever such officer is removed or resigns as an officer in such labor union or labor organization."

That's the whole law. Yet labor leaders in that state fought it. They rounded up 40 out of 110 members of the house and 12 out of 49 state senators to vote against it. Why?

Should men once convicted of attempted murder, arson, grand larceny, mayhem and other violence be permitted the truly sacred trust of leadership of working men and women? Even in North Dakota there were two union officials with long prison records.

IF THERE WERE such a federal law, many of those exposed by Sen. McClellan would have been summarily ejected from control of the hundreds of locals they run — in and out of the big unions. Such a law would almost automatically wipe out the dummy unions set up by the underworld.

Apparently the next state to pass reform laws will be Gov. Rockefeller's New York. Within a fortnight there will be a law making union chiefs responsible for union funds and property just as a corporation executive is responsible to stockholders for company property and must answer to stockholders for any profits he makes because of the position, power and prestige of his office.

This is but the first step in New York. It can be reported that Gov. Rockefeller wants legislation insuring democracy inside unions. He just isn't going to wait for Congress.

IN A DISCUSSION with three labor lawyers earlier this month, Mr. Rockefeller agreed to set up a group to study proposals which he wants passed along this line early next year.

He convinced the labor people that there should be action next year — not more debate. There was such detailed discussion that they decided even to study whether a union should pay the legal bills for the defense of an accused union officer.

The feeling that Congress has got itself all tied up in legal tape and will fall on its face is provoking other state capitals into action.

Naturally, where labor has little influence the laws will be tougher, such as the one just passed in Georgia. There it is now legal for a rank-and-filer or a company to sue a union. Previously, if anyone wanted damages from a union, he had to sue its members individually.

In one fashion or another, from New York to the states of Washington and California, there's a drive on for "little" reform bills. They'll vary. There'll be trouble.

There won't be turbulence across the land if Congress can pull itself together and whip out a national code of ethics.

About The Weather

By Truman Twill

I intend to do something about the weather.

For once and for all, I intend to quit being an easy mark for pitchmen who use the climate to sell me widgets.

There is no difference between them and the pitchmen Mama told me to be leary of when she packed my carpetbag and sent me out into the world.

"Give them a wide berth," she said. "They are only after your money."

Ever since I first let these fast-talking entrepreneuers into my living room to con me into listening to their spiel so they could sell me something, I have been getting my dander up.

This is not an easy thing to do, because my dander is hard to get up. I always will be a sucker for a glib spiel. I admire a spieler who can hold my attention.

But the weather spielers have worn out my patience.

They have fooled me too often.

From now on, I will fool them. I will not lend them my eyes or my ears for their charts and graphs and cold fronts and all the rest of the climatological jazz they play for profit.

I will go back to thinking about the weather the way I thought about it before it was converted into an electronic pitch.

The climate is not an emergency. It is normal. It is here, day in and day out. When it snows, it snows. When it rains, it rains. When it blows, it blows.

This is normal. I do not intend to take to the hills, the lifeboats, or the hurricane cellars any more, unless something extraordinary is on the way and an all-points alert is issued officially.

I do not intend to be rushed into precipitate action by some spieler who is using weather to sell me a widget.

I intend to do something about the weather; namely, to live with it on my terms, not as a subject for dramatization.

The climate pitchmen have kept me in a state of artificial anxiety. They have been interfering with my peace of mind. They have flustered me into battening down the hatches when it didn't blow and starting to bail when the boat wasn't leaking.

They have sent me forth with a raincoat when it didn't rain and on daisy-picking expeditions when it did rain. They have kept me preoccupied with hopes and fears that never materialized.

They have interfered with my slumber when there was nothing to be anxious about and they have lulled me into false security when I should have been standing by with a stout pole to fend off floating debris.

Most of the dire things that could have racked me up they have goofed on and most of the wonderful days I have enjoyed they did not see coming.

Their percentage of accuracy is not high enough to justify the confidence they have been asking me to have in their prognostications.

From now on, I will take my weather as it comes and quit letting spielers tell me how hot it is in Death Valley and how cold it is on some God-forsaken mountaintop. So what?

They can peddle potato-peelers and juice extractors until their tonsils wear out — but not in my living room.

I am going to do something about the weather. I am going to make it seem normal. Sometimes it snows and sometimes it doesn't. There is nothing I can do about it, except take the bitter with the better when it happens.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — An oration by Francis A. Hale, winner of the Hancock County contest, featured a meeting of the Chester Parent - Teacher Association.

Three special addresses, a musicale and a citywide Communion service featured the Holy Week observance at Wellsville under auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Long On Promises

By David Lawrence

Reds Cannot Be Trusted To Keep Agreements

Three years and three months isn't a long time in world affairs, yet how many people who are so enthusiastically hailing the next "summit" conference remember that the Soviet government made a solemn pledge three years ago at a "summit" conference and then broke it four months later at a foreign ministers' conference?

David Lawrence

Of what avail is any "summit" conference if the agreements are later torn into scraps of paper?

A certain comminique, for instance, is worth rereading today. The head of the Soviet government —Bulganin — with Khrushchev at his side, signed it on July 23, 1955. It was issued after a "summit" conference at Geneva, attended also by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain and Premier Faure of France. The statement says:

"The heads of government, recognizing their common responsibility for the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany, have agreed that the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany by free elections shall be carried out in conformity with the national interests of the German people and the interests of European security.

"The foreign ministers will make whatever arrangements they may consider desirable for the participation of, or for consultation with, other interested parties."

THIS WAS a "directive" or formal instruction to the foreign ministers of the same four countries —the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France and the United States. The four ministers then met at Geneva and here is the full text of the joint declaration of France, Great Britain and the United States, issued at the close of the conference on Nov. 16, 1955:

"At Geneva, the foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America tried to reach agreement with the Soviet foreign minister on what the four heads of government in July agreed were the closely linked problems of German reunification and European security. To this end, they made a proposal for the reunification of Germany by free elections in 1956 and for a treaty of assurance giving the Soviet Union far-reaching safeguards against aggression when Germany was reunified.

"Marshal Bulganin in July had agreed that the reunification of Germany was the common responsibility of the four powers and should be carried out by means of free elections. The Soviet foreign minister, however, despite the directive of the heads of government, made it plain that the Soviet government refused to agree to the reunification of Germany, since that would lead to the liquidation of the East German regime. He made counterproposals which would have involved the continued division of Germany as well as the eventual dissolution of the Western security system. It is for this reason that the negotiations have failed.

"The foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America are aware that this result must bring a sense of cruel disappointment to the German people, east and west of the zonal border which now unjustly divides them. However, the three foreign ministers believe that the Soviet government will come to recognize that its own self-interest will be served by ending the injustice of a divided Germany. They believe that the Soviet government will realize that so long as it persists in withholding unity from the German people, there can be no solid security in Europe, nor, indeed, in the world.

"THE THREE Western powers will themselves not cease their efforts to end the injustice and wrong now being done by dividing the German people and will continue to stand ready to contribute to the security which can be enjoyed by all only when Germany is reunified."

Why does the Soviet Union think now it can reap the fruits of its repudiation of the pledge given at the "summit" conference of July 1955 and gain its ends in 1959?

Perhaps it is because the Soviets have an iron determination and believe that the Western democracies are undergoing a process of moral deterioration in which principle will be sacrificed for expediency.

Perhaps it's because the politically selfish Socialist Labor party in Britain, which believes in peace-at-any-price doctrines, has forgotten the fatal appeasement of Hitler at Munich in 1938.

Perhaps it's because, inside the United States, prominent Democrats in Congress, by their speeches and statements in the press, have openly encouraged the Soviets to believe that President Eisenhower "lost the confidence" of the American people in the last congressional election, that the Democrats are going to win the presidency in 1960, and that the next administration will give softer treatment to the Kremlin.

CERTAINLY the widespread pressure for a "summit" conference this summer has persuaded a reluctant President of the United States to go again to Geneva. But the holding of the conference can have only one value; to inform the world once more of the futility of trying to negotiate with a consummate liar.

Meanwhile, all proposals for "disengagement," "nuclear free zones" and "pulling back" Western armies or "freezing" a zone in central Europe are palpable moves of offensive strategy on the military chess board of the men in the Kremlin.

Perhaps it will not take even three months after the next "summit" conference for the world to learn that, when the Soviet government puts its signature on a pledge, it cannot be trusted to keep its word. Appeasement of such an adversary can only lead to war.

A Matter Of Viewpoints

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Their handling of their foreign ministers—and their attitude toward a foreign ministers meeting —is a prime example of the difference between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev treats his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, like a bookkeeper in charge of small details. Perhaps no president in history ever depended more on his Secretary of State than Eisenhower on John Foster Dulles.

It is hard to imagine Khrushchev at a loss for a word or an idea at a summit get-together if Gromyko never showed up. He already has dismissed as a waste of time a foreign ministers meeting before a summit conference.

Dulles has been Eisenhower's strong right arm in foreign affairs. It is doubtful, because of his cancer, that Dulles can go overseas to a summit meeting with the President.

To be sure, Eisenhower, before he goes, will be well briefed on details by his State Department aides and perhaps by Dulles himself.

But on a minute by minute basis that won't be the same as having Dulles with him. The President respected Dulles' judgment, relied on him, listened, was guided by him.

It is no wonder Eisenhower, contrary to Khrushchev, until recently had insisted that any summit meeting must be preceded by a foreign ministers conference which showed some progress and agreement before the top men met.

If Eisenhower now seems to be attaching less importance to a foreign ministers meeting it may be due more to Dulles' illness than any argument by Khrushchev or influence by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Besides reliance on Dulles, there's another good reason why Eisenhower should put much store on a foreign ministers meeting as a preliminary to the summit conference. Reliance on foreign ministers to work things out has been a traditional method of Western diplomacy, not summit meetings.

There are broad differences also between the President and the Russian premier.

The chubby, bald, extroverted Khrushchev — if he had been raised in this country — would have been called a pusher. He has been pushing all his life. He is an innovator and an experimenter.

Eisenhower, although he can play slam-bang politics at campaign time, is essentially a traditionalist and a conservative. He has done no innovating socially or economically here at home. He is a preserver.

His long and successful military career by itself alone would have been an enormous force in making him a respecter of tradition.

Khrushchev, on the other hand, pushed his way up through the cannibalistic ranks of the Communist party. Once at the top he kept pushing. First, he pushed aside the traditional idolatry lavished on the memory of Stalin; next he shoved aside his co-equals, the other heirs of Stalin, like Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, Beria.

The summit meeting will be a conference between a rambunctious, daring but shrewd man and a conservative who has no revolutionary ambitions but is determined to preserve what the West holds, yielding not an inch to the advantage of the Soviet Union.

Daughter Watches As 2 Thieves Take Her Father's Car

Two unidentified men drove away from a W. 8th St. home in a stolen car about 6 Monday night while the daughter of the owner watched from a window, but the pair eluded a search that started almost immediately throughout the area.

Theft of the 1959 Chevrolet two-door sedan was reported by John Brooks, 949 W. 8th St., who said his daughter, Betty, spotted the two men as they got into the auto and drove west toward Wellsville.

Brooks said he phoned police immediately and a cruiser responded in three minutes, spreading the search for the car onto Campground Rd. and Shadyside Ave. Nearby police departments and the State Highway Patrol were notified, but no trace of the car was found.

Brooks joined in the search, pursuing the thieves in the auto of his neighbor, Leroy Starkey.

Voting Signup Rush Awaited

Wednesday's Final Chance To Qualify

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, said today he expects a last-minute rush before the deadline Wednesday at 9 p. m. for enrollment of East Liverpool voters for the May 5 primaries.

The vanguard of the rush was evident this morning at the board's office on W. 6th St., but O'Hanlon said the heaviest rush always comes shortly before the deadline. A 12-hour schedule of office hours went into effect Monday and will continue until the registration deadline tomorrow night at 9.

The board's office will be open until 9 tonight and from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday, including the lunch and dinner hours. Forty-two new registrations were recorded Monday, 20 during the normal daylight office hours and 22 at night. Fourteen transfers also were recorded.

Despite the pickup in registrations, the total of 10,481 today still is far below the 11,478 qualified for the November 1958 general election, O'Hanlon pointed out. The board dropped 1,086 from the rolls Jan. 1 in the annual year - end check to eliminate those who had not voted at least once in the preceding two years. Twenty more registrations were canceled at the end of the year because of deaths, dropping the net to 10,372.

There has been a net gain of 109 registrations since Jan. 1, O'Hanlon said.

A patent is not granted for a mere idea or suggestion, nor for an invention which lacks utility, nor for machines that will not operate.

Driver Who Fled Damage Traced By Radiator Leak

LISBON — A tale-tell trickle of water from a broken radiator led a Salem motorist into jail Monday night after he fled from where his car damaged a yard and knocked down a pine tree on Route 62 north of Salem.

The State Highway Patrol at Salem said a car driven by Arthur Meiter, 37, of Salem left a curve about 7:30 p. m., went off the right side of the road, then swerved back across the highway into the yard of Howard E. Firestone about a half mile north of the city.

The car ripped out a large pine tree and dug up the yard. Meiter then headed down the driveway—spinning the wheels of the car—and drove away, officers said.

A neighbor, alerted by the noise, quickly gave chase in his own car, following the wet trail left by the broken radiator. Meiter pulled into a roller rink area apparently to hide but the other driver spotted him, and was able to read the license plate before Meiter raced away.

The neighbor, whom the patrol did not identify, notified officers who later arrested Meiter at his home. He was jailed on charges of failure to stop at the scene of an accident and driving left of center. Meiter is due a hearing this afternoon at Salem.

2 Motorists Fined $45 For Weekend Mishaps

A Chester youth and Weirton trucker were fined a total of $45 and costs Monday night by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester as a result of two week end traffic accidents.

Joseph L. Pillo, 16, of Chester was fined $20 and costs for failing to signal a turn. He was cited Saturday at the intersection of Routes 2 and 30 when he made a turn into a driveway while a Hancock County sheriff's cruiser was passing, and the driver—Deputy Sheriff Lou Torchio of Weirton—swerved off the road and struck a utility pole.

George Ferrari, 28, of Weirton was fined $25 and costs for failure to have lights at the rear of his rig. He was arrested Saturday on Route 30 after a Hookstown youth's car almost hit the rear of the truck.

Gene Frasier, 19, braked to avoid a collision, and his auto overturned.

Welfare Care Urged For Carroll Boy, 15

LISBON — A 15-year-old Carroll County youth who admitted burglarizing the Smith Tourist Home at Kensington Saturday was placed in the custody of Carroll County authorities Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The boy, who took a wristwatch, two pen and pencil sets, a pair of socks and a silver dollar, also confessed to three other enterings. Judge Tobin recommended the youth be placed in a welfare home, a private school or the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster. The boy has been reared by grandparents.

Nomination and election of officers will be held at the May meeting. No definite date has been set.

Youth Nabbed In Fake Alarm

Tape-Recorded Call Aids Investigation

A 15-year-old boy has admitted he phoned a false alarm Monday afternoon that sent firemen hurrying to a Thompson Ave. confectionery, taking away part of the force that was fighting a brush fire in the Maine Blvd. area, police said today.

A tape-recording made routinely at Central Station of all phoned fire alarms helped trap the boy, officers said. After he confessed to the false alarm about 7 last night, he was ordered to appear today at City Hall with his parents before County Probation Officer Chris Pusey.

Patrolman William E. McDaniel, aided by the firemen's tape recording, made the investigation that led to the citation. The alarm was phoned at 3:50 p. m., reporting a fire in the Hilltop Confectionery, 221 Thompson Ave.

At the time, firemen were busy with a big brush fire off Maine Blvd. However, they also sent men and equipment to the Thompson Ave. address, although investigation showed the alarm was false.

McDaniel said he knew a boy in the same neighborhood had been in trouble with police in the past, so he went to Central Station and listened to the tape recording of the voice. He said he thought he recognized the voice as that of the boy he suspected, so he phoned the boy to verify his suspicions. A tape recording was made of the second call and it was compared with the voice of the person who had made the false alarm.

Under interrogation, the boy at first denied turning in the alarm, but finally admitted it, police said. Then he was cited to appear before the probation officer.

Firemen make the recordings of alarms primarily to aid them in locating a blaze reported by an excited caller, whose directions may be garbled or incoherent.

Easter Seal Sale Nets Group $200

Some $200 was collected in the White Lily sale conducted Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in Midland, R. E. Steebner, area chairman of the fund-raising campaign of the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, said today.

Mrs. Eileen Paisley was in charge of obtaining costumes and about 15 girls and boys rode a decorated fire truck dressed as bunnies Saturday evening.

About 25 members of the Midland Assembly 83, Order of Rainbow for Girls sold the artificial flowers again Sunday in a house-to-house canvass. Mrs. Myrtle Petrosky, mother advisor, and Miss Marilyn Petrosky, worthy advisor, were in charge. Several members of the Rotary Club were chauffeurs.

Mrs. Walter Zischkau of Ohio View sold flowers in her area. Campaign canisters will be collected from business places Monday, Steebner said.

Last year the house canvass netted $265.

2 Drivers Pay Fines And 5 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Two motorists were fined by Mayor John Todd and five others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings Monday.

Richard L. Woods, 23, of N. Market St. was fined $25 and costs for displaying dealer's plates while making deliveries and Lawrence A. Heeter, 21, of Hudson was fined $10 and costs for crossing the yellow line. Forfeiting were:

Paul R. McCully, 29, of Salineville, $15 for reckless operation; George J. Crowley, 29, of West Brownsville, Pa., $15 for speeding; William Haines, 46, of New Kensington, $10 failure to display safety devices; Olen W. Powell, 31, of Washington, Pa., $10 and Kenneth J. Yarish, 26, of Cleveland, $15, both for crossing the yellow line.

Area Man Sentenced For Pocket Picking

Robert Higgans, 27, of R. D. 1, found guilty of a July pocket picking of a Chester man, was sentenced to 1-5 years at the Ohio Penitentiary Monday by Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Higgans was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court jury in February in the theft of $500 from Clyde Finley of Chester. William Drumm, 29, of Chester R. D. 1, indicted with Higgans, was acquitted.

Voting Signup Rush Awaited

Wednesday's Final Chance To Qualify

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, said today he expects a last-minute rush before the deadline Wednesday at 9 p. m. for enrollment of East Liverpool voters for the May 5 primaries.

The vanguard of the rush was evident this morning at the board's office on W. 6th St., but O'Hanlon said the heaviest rush always comes shortly before the deadline. A 12-hour schedule of office hours went into effect Monday and will continue until the registration deadline tomorrow night at 9.

The board's office will be open until 9 tonight and from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday, including the lunch and dinner hours. Forty-two new registrations were recorded Monday, 20 during the normal daylight office hours and 22 at night. Fourteen transfers also were recorded.

Despite the pickup in registrations, the total of 10,481 today still is far below the 11,478 qualified for the November 1958 general election, O'Hanlon pointed out. The board dropped 1,086 from the rolls Jan. 1 in the annual year - end check to eliminate those who had not voted at least once in the preceding two years. Twenty more registrations were canceled at the end of the year because of deaths, dropping the net to 10,372.

There has been a net gain of 109 registrations since Jan. 1, O'Hanlon said.

Driver Who Fled Damage Traced By Radiator Leak

LISBON — A tale-tell trickle of water from a broken radiator led a Salem motorist into jail Monday night after he fled from where his car damaged a yard and knocked down a pine tree on Route 62 north of Salem.

The State Highway Patrol at Salem said a car driven by Arthur Meiter, 37, of Salem left a curve about 7:30 p. m., went off the right side of the road, then swerved back across the highway into the yard of Howard E. Firestone about a half mile north of the city.

The car ripped out a large pine tree and dug up the yard. Meiter then headed down the driveway—spinning the wheels of the car—and drove away, officers said.

A neighbor, alerted by the noise, quickly gave chase in his own car, following the wet trail left by the broken radiator. Meiter pulled into a roller rink area apparently to hide but the other driver spotted him, and was able to read the license plate before Meiter raced away.

The neighbor, whom the patrol did not identify, notified officers who later arrested Meiter at his home. He was jailed on charges of failure to stop at the scene of an accident and driving left of center. Meiter is due a hearing this afternoon at Salem.

2 Motorists Fined $45 For Weekend Mishaps

A Chester youth and Weirton trucker were fined a total of $45 and costs Monday night by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester as a result of two week end traffic accidents.

Joseph L. Pillo, 16, of Chester was fined $20 and costs for failing to signal a turn. He was cited Saturday at the intersection of Routes 2 and 30 when he made a turn into a driveway while a Hancock County sheriff's cruiser was passing, and the driver—Deputy Sheriff Lou Torchio of Weirton—swerved off the road and struck a utility pole.

George Ferrari, 28, of Weirton was fined $25 and costs for failure to have lights at the rear of his rig. He was arrested Saturday on Route 30 after a Hookstown youth's car almost hit the rear of the truck.

Gene Frasier, 19, braked to avoid a collision, and his auto overturned.

Welfare Care Urged For Carroll Boy, 15

LISBON — A 15-year-old Carroll County youth who admitted burglarizing the Smith Tourist Home at Kensington Saturday was placed in the custody of Carroll County authorities Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The boy, who took a wristwatch, two pen and pencil sets, a pair of socks and a silver dollar, also confessed to three other enterings. Judge Tobin recommended the youth be placed in a welfare home, a private school or the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster. The boy has been reared by grandparents.

30 At Dinner Event For Presbyterian Men

Some 30 attended a dinner meeting of the Philip Fletcher Chapter of the Presbyterian Men Monday at the Wellsville First Presbyterian Church.

Maj. William Murtaugh of the Salvation Army was guest speaker. The citadel's brass sextet played. O. P. McAdoo, president, presided.

Nomination and election of officers will be held at the May meeting. No definite date has been set.

Youth Nabbed In Fake Alarm

Tape-Recorded Call Aids Investigation

A 15-year-old boy has admitted he phoned a false alarm Monday afternoon that sent firemen hurrying to a Thompson Ave. confectionery, taking away part of the force that was fighting a brush fire in the Maine Blvd. area, police said today.

A tape-recording made routinely at Central Station of all phoned fire alarms helped trap the boy, officers said. After he confessed to the false alarm about 7 last night, he was ordered to appear today at City Hall with his parents before County Probation Officer Chris Pusey.

Patrolman William E. McDaniel, aided by the firemen's tape recording, made the investigation that led to the citation. The alarm was phoned at 3:50 p. m., reporting a fire in the Hilltop Confectionery, 221 Thompson Ave.

At the time, firemen were busy with a big brush fire off Maine Blvd. However, they also sent men and equipment to the Thompson Ave. address, although investigation showed the alarm was false.

McDaniel said he knew a boy in the same neighborhood had been in trouble with police in the past, so he went to Central Station and listened to the tape recording of the voice. He said he thought he recognized the voice as that of the boy he suspected, so he phoned the boy to verify his suspicions. A tape recording was made of the second call and it was compared with the voice of the person who had made the false alarm.

Under interrogation, the boy at first denied turning in the alarm, but finally admitted it, police said. Then he was cited to appear before the probation officer.

Firemen make the recordings of alarms primarily to aid them in locating a blaze reported by an excited caller, whose directions may be garbled or incoherent.

2 Rural Congregations Will Unite In Services

The Mill Creek and Hookstown Presbyterian Churches will hold joint Holy Week and Easter observances.

A preparatory service will be held Wednesday night at 8 in the Mill Creek church. Maundy Thursday observance of Communion will be at Hookstown.

The Good Friday evening service will be at 8 at Mill Creek. The Easter sunrise service also will be at Mill Creek at 7 a. m. Sunday with the Teenagers Class in charge. The Rev. Jarvis Cotton will preach.

Morning worship Sunday will be at the regular times. Hookstown services are at 9:45 a. m., and at Mill Creek at 11:15 a. m. The Rev. Robert F. Stevenson is pastor.

East End Group Plans Guest Speaker Series

The campaign committee of the United Progressive Council discussed plans for having guest speakers at weekly meetings when it met Monday night in the Civic League Building in East End.

Clyde Christian, chairman, said that a speaker is planned for each Monday night meeting at 7:30 in the League building on Beleek St.

The public is welcome to attend, he said. Alonzo Spencer, candidate for 1st Ward councilman, will attend. The next meeting will be Monday night.

Chester Post Donates $25 For Red Cross

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the Red Cross Fund by Chester American Legion Post 121 Monday night at the post home.

A pin was presented to Dale Allison, commander, for the post's achievement of exceeding the membership quota. The next meeting will be April 13.

Easter Seal Sale Nets Group $200

Some $200 was collected in the White Lily sale conducted Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in Midland, R. E. Steebner, area chairman of the fund-raising campaign of the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, said today.

Mrs. Eileen Paisley was in charge of obtaining costumes and about 15 girls and boys rode a decorated fire truck dressed as bunnies Saturday evening.

About 25 members of the Midland Assembly 83, Order of Rainbow for Girls sold the artificial flowers again Sunday in a house-to-house canvass. Mrs. Myrtle Petrosky, mother advisor, and Miss Marilyn Petrosky, worthy advisor, were in charge. Several members of the Rotary Club were chauffeurs.

Mrs. Walter Zischkau of Ohio View sold flowers in her area. Campaign canisters will be collected from business places Monday, Steebner said.

Last year the house canvass netted $265.

2 Drivers Pay Fines And 5 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Two motorists were fined by Mayor John Todd and five others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings Monday.

Richard L. Woods, 23, of N. Market St. was fined $25 and costs for displaying dealer's plates while making deliveries and Lawrence A. Heeter, 21, of Hudson was fined $10 and costs for crossing the yellow line. Forfeiting were:

Paul R. McCully, 29, of Salineville, $15 for reckless operation; George J. Crowley, 29, of West Brownsville, Pa., $15 for speeding; William Haines, 46, of New Kensington, $10 failure to display safety devices; Olen W. Powell, 31, of Washington, Pa., $10 and Kenneth J. Yarish, 26, of Cleveland, $15, both for crossing the yellow line.

Area Man Sentenced For Pocket Picking

Robert Higgans, 27, of R. D. 1, found guilty of a July pocket picking of a Chester man, was sentenced to 1-5 years at the Ohio Penitentiary Monday by Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Higgans was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court jury in February in the theft of $500 from Clyde Finley of Chester. William Drumm, 29, of Chester R. D. 1, indicted with Higgans, was acquitted.

Debate Rages Pro And Con

Both Sides Present Views At Meeting

St., H. B. Valentine of Columbia Ave. and William Boone of Erie St.

Joseph Winters, secretary-treasurer of Trades Council, was in the audience but did not take the floor.

Speaking in favor of the tax were: James Batey of Hill Blvd., Ralph Finley of Pond St., Dr. C. M. Mayberry of Mayberry Ln., Harold Allison of Sanford Ave., Frank Thomas, a city employe, Stephen Miller of Thompson Ave., and Mayor Lawrence.

When Council's meeting convened shortly before 8, President B. E. Warner explained that the first part of the agenda would be turned over to unlimited debate in the audience, although normally remarks from the citizens are not permitted at a special meeting.

THE SPEECHES continued until 11, when Council took a brief recess. Part of the audience started to drift out about 10:30, however. Back in session at 11, Council listed to another 30 minutes of debate and answered questions before starting consideration of the tax ordinance.

As an alternative to an income tax, Wheatley said the city might apply for federal aid as a labor surplus area or a "distressed area." He said he is willing to sit in on a general community meeting to thresh out the community's problems.

"We're not opposed to progress," Wheatley asserted. "Let the citizens of this town find out what is wrong, even if we have to call a mass meeting."

Wheatley declared he has been subjected to attacks in the opening phase of the campaign to renew the tax. Winters also has been attacked with "dirty, rotten, stinking political tactics," he declared.

"Let's get together and see if we can get some federal dough and get the corpse up on its feet, at least," he concluded.

—:—

FINLEY, ADVOCATING renewal of the tax, said businessmen support the idea partly because it makes possible stronger police protection. Many businessmen pay twice – once on corporate income and again on their private earnings, he declared.

In his remarks, Kashuba declared that East Liverpool "can't afford an income tax, particularly the people in the low income brackets."

"We're in a depressed area," he said. "When a person makes $3,500 a year, can you expect him to pay $20 tax? It's a lot of money to him. I can well afford to pay, but I'm thinking of the general bulk of our citizens."

Kashuba also declared that the area would be less attractive to new industry with an income tax. Attacking the administration's program, he said he can see no reason for rebuilding of Anderson Blvd., calling it "a pretty good street."

Taking the floor against the tax, Goodman asserted that he has six children and "it keeps me stepping to support them." He added that every East Liverpool precinct voted against the tax last November.

—:—

"I DON'T THINK Council should be held responsible for the size of any man's family," Dr. Mayberry commented facetiously. Then he declared that a $20 annual income tax would be far less than the average smoker spends a year on cigarettes.

"Wouldn't that same amount accomplish a great deal of good for our city?" he asked. "A person who can't pay a $20 tax can't afford to smoke."

Inflation is a big factor in the rising cost of city government, Allison declared.

"I'm one hundred per cent in favor of this income tax," he said. "No one is going to be hurt by it."

Dales cited the decline in the number of jobs in the district pottery industry. He said he saw figures which showed Homer Laughlin China Co. had 3,400 employes in 1950, but the figure recently was down to 1,500. Many idle workers are living on $30-a-week unemployment compensation, he added.

BOLEY ASSERTED that many East Liverpool residents "work for 75 cents and $1 an hour and they can't afford to pay taxes." He suggested exemptions, as in the federal tax.

Miller recalled his High School class writing essays on "What East Liverpool Needs Most." Most of the students cited the need of additional city income, he said. Miller said his Freshman Class had over 500 students, but it had narrowed down to 283 at graduation because of those who dropped out to seek work.

Batey argued for pay-as-you-go financing of city expenditures, rather than bond issues. A 30-year bond issue at 4½ per cent means that tax-payers pay twice for a major improvement, he declared.

As the discussion ended, Mayor Lawrence delivered a general reply to the opposition, answering many of the points that had been raised and emphasizing again that both Council and the administration agreed on presentation of the tax legislation in a way in which a referendum would be sought—even invited.

"THERE HAS BEEN a lot of discussion here about attracting outside industry, but apparently no one has bothered to consult industry," the mayor said. "I've done a little of that. The president of Westinghouse has said it isn't the tax rate of a community, it's the stability and progressiveness that are considered by industry looking for a site.

"They don't want to move into a broken down bankrupt community," he continued. "That means in a few years the community will start to slap taxes on the industry. The governor of North Carolina has written that no community will attract industry until it makes itself attractive.

"There's no intention to conceal anything in this program," the mayor said. "I don't see how we can make it any plainer that Council has no intention of ramming it down anyone's throat. It has been pointed out repeatedly that the ordinance will be given three readings. If it is passed, there will be a 30-day waiting period in which any citizen has a right to circulate a petition to get it on the ballot.

"IF THAT'S DONE, the ordinance will not become effective before it's voted on in November," the mayor said. "Council is doing it in such a way in order that you can exercise that right."

Turning to the city's problems, he said: "Let's have the guts to have the right thing happen. Any one who wants to obtain these things without work or without paying for them isn't worthy of the name of citizen. I'm sure there are not many like that in East Liverpool."

Then he explained that state law prohibits a city from enacting a graduated income tax. The rate must be uniform, he said. Any added minor exemptions "would drive the tax-payer crazy if he had to fill out a complicated form for such a comparatively small tax," the mayor said.

"In view of the fact the tax was repealed in November, do you think we would propose it again if we were able to find a reasonable alternative?" Lawrence asked. "We could issue bonds and put the city in debt up to the hilt. Your children and your grandchildren would be paying the debt."

Children Of The Bible

TIMOTHY

". . . From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation . . ."

—II Timothy 3:15

The child Timothy was reared in one of the first Christian homes in history. For it was about the time of his birth that the disciples were first called by that term at Antioch.

The boy was the son of a Jewish mother—Eunice—and a Greek father whose name is not preserved to us.

Not only Timothy's mother, but his grandmother, Lois had been converted to the new faith called Christianity. So his earliest memories were stories of Jesus—stories still fresh from the lips of many who had seen him.

These words, and the Scriptures he heard read each night, often occupied his thoughts as he played, close to the growing things of earth, with little concern for the problems of men.

He wondered: what is death? Why did He die?

And he was no doubt told that death is a condition of sleep which no one need fear, if he is stedfast in the faith.

Jesus came forth from the tomb, leaving the winding cloths of death, to show men that He was God as He had told them, and they had not believed.

Young Timothy understood something of death because he was a close observer of life. He saw life breathed into the dilated nostrils of oxen as they silently inhaled the fragrance of the fields. He felt it in his small hand when he caught a bee in summer, held it for a moment, and let it go free. He sensed the security of life as he stooped to watch a glowworm among shadows at dusk.

When the Apostle Paul visited Timothy's home, he observed the zeal and understanding of the lad. He learned that the boy already had distinguished himself among the people of his neighborhood as a witness to Christ's message.

When Paul left Lystra, where Timothy lived, he asked the youth to accompany him on his missionary journey. Timothy agreed, and from that time on, became one of the early sowers of the Gospel seed.

"He worketh the work of the Lord," said Paul. "As a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel."

Flood Damage Claim Allowed

Trustees Of St. Clair Authorize $650 Bill

St. Clair Township trustees Monday night authorized payment of a $650 bill to Howard Kevan for road repairs to damage which occurred from January flooding in the township.

Neil McIntosh, clerk, reported application for federal flood damage aid is to be made to the Civil Defense headquarters at Youngstown instead of through the office of the county engineer.

Trustees estimate township damage from the high water may exceed $1,500.

Clearing of a ditch along Cornell Ave. in Glenmoor was authorized following a complaint that it is blocked with lumber, forcing water onto the road.

Completion of grading and application of slag to Gonzales Ave. in Oakmont was approved, following a request from Lawrence Pierce of Oakmont.

A request for the township to file a complaint against the Lundey Mining Co. from Ralph Dean of Salem, deputy mine inspector, was received, but Dean is to be advised the strip mine is in Liverpool Township. Dean reported the mining firm's spoil banks do not conform to proper practice.

The trustees will meet again Monday night.

U.S. Criticism Of Schools Taken Seriously Abroad

CLEVELAND (AP)—A prominent educator says criticism of our school program in this country is being taken seriously by educators in some countries.

Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University, told the convention of the American Personnel and Guidance Assn. Monday our debates about education have made school men in many of the underdeveloped countries skeptical of the quality of our school system.

Several months ago Baker was a consultant on education to Cambodia and other nations in southeast Asia.

Martin W. Essex, superintendent of Akron schools, told delegates they have an increased responsibility since "the lack of social and moral solidarity in the family is robbing too many children of the humanizing warmth of parental love and guidance."

He said the great mobility of families these days "has separated families from their relatives and long-respected neighbors."

The four-day convention opened Monday.

Dr. Kuhlman Named For Health League Post

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, has been appointed a trustee for the northeastern district of the City Public Health League of Ohio.

Dr. Kuhlman was chosen at a luncheon meeting Friday in Steubenville. Dr. Kuhlman, Septimus Cook and John Owen, sanitary inspectors, and Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, public health nurse, attended.

Local members of the league are Mrs. Ila Johnston, R. N., C. Frank Dales and Dr. C. M. Mayberry.

City Native Takes Post With Columbus Firm

David Sanford, 26, of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sanford of Dixonville, has accepted a position with the North American Aviation Co. at Columbus following his graduation last week from Ohio State University with a degree in engineering.

Sanford, a graduate of East Liverpool High School who served four years in the Navy, is married to the former Harriett White of Glenmoor. They have a son and daughter.

The Stitch and Chatter Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lyle Kiffer.

Mrs. Carl McCormick will be next hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Mrs. Jack Prothero and John and Lynn Prothero of Beaver were Wednesday guests of Mrs. Thomas Calhoon.

Tax

lows the public to propose new legislation for a vote of the people.

Trades Council proposed an initiative ordinance repealing the tax measure. But if referendum procedure is used to test the current ordinance, the city will not collect a penny of income tax until the voters act in November — and then only if they vote in favor of the legislation.

The presence of the emergency clause in the 1958 ordinance was one of the major rallying points of the opposition, as it allowed the tax to be collected despite the move to repeal it.

ECEPT FOR THE lower rate, the proposed ordinance virtually is a twin of the measure that was repealed in November. It requires all East Liverpool employers to withhold the tax from the earnings of their employes and turn the money over to the city income tax office. Persons who have earnings not subject to withholding are required to file estimates of income—just as under the federal law—and then pay taxes based on those estimates.

In actual practice last year, many employers outside East Liverpool withheld the tax from wages, saving their employes the trouble of filing individual returns.

The present ordinance provides that not more than 40 per cent of the new revenue would be used for current operating expenses of the city, with the remaining 60 per cent going into capital improvement projects.

It provides the ordinance would remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1962.

THE PROPOSED ordinance also provides exemptions from the tax—the same ones outlined in the 1958 legislation. They include salaries or pensions for service in the armed forces; poor relief, pensions, unemployment compensation, disability benefits, alimony, dues received by tax-exempt organizations, including labor unions, the earnings of all persons under 16 and the salaries or wages paid student nurses, interns and students employed in schools, colleges, universities or libraries.

Council did not turn to consideration of the ordinance until 11:35, as it spent nearly 4 hours listening to unlimited debate permitted the audience. Clerk Ray Goodman finished reading the ordinance at 12:04 a. m. today and Council adjourned at 12:06 after setting its second special session for next Monday night. One 10-minute recess punctuated the meeting, which lasted just short of 5 hours.

Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen William Y. Orr, W. E. Kaiser, Samuel B. Webber, George E. Willshaw, Robert W. Sample Jr. and A. Stanley Kidder.

THE GROUNDWORK for the ordinance was laid at several special sessions earlier in the month, when Council discussed an administration program for increased city services and capital improvements.

Mayor Lawrence first suggested a $314,455 increase in the city's income, which would have meant a tax of eight-tenths of one per cent. However, most members of Council indicated they would favor a rate of six-tenths. At a meeting a few days later, the mayor scaled his financial request down to $260,000 in additional revenue, which apparently can be met with the six-tenths rate.

The principal items in his capital improvements program include: Rebuilding of sections of St. Clair Ave., Anderson Blvd. and Avondale St., a citywide recreation program, blacktopping of both unsurfaced streets and streets that are presently paved and addition of three firemen and five policemen.

The street improvements would be financed over five years, with property-owners helping foot the bill via special assessments.

Plans Patrol Boat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coast Guard officials say they plan to have a patrol boat operating on the Ohio River from Portsmouth to Madison, Ind., to investigate accidents and plug for safety among pleasure boat operators, starting May 1. The patrol, where necessary, will board pleasure craft to check safety equipment and will issue citations for violations of safety regulations.

The three men who escaped, all from Youngstown, are Robert P. Herman, 36, convicted of armed robbery; Joseph Orville, 23, serving a burglary sentence, and Donald Sweet, 24, held for grand jury action in the theft of a $3,000 gun collection. All are parole violators.

They escaped by overpowering two guards, beating one unconscious. Guard William Kriskell was forced to accompany them in his own automobile but was released later unharmed.

Man Receives Burns While Working On Car

Francis Beaver, 26, of 1147 Harker Ave. was treated at City Hospital Monday night for first and second degree burns of both hands and a slight burn of the chin suffered in a gasoline fire while working on his auto.

Beaver was pouring gasoline into the carburetor of his car while at a friend's home in the West End when the fluid ignited, said some wiring of the auto motor was damaged.

Debate Rages Pro And Con

Both Sides Present Views At Meeting

St., H. B. Valentine of Columbia Ave. and William Boone of Erie St.

Joseph Winters, secretary-treasurer of Trades Council, was in the audience but did not take the floor.

Speaking in favor of the tax were: James Batey of Hill Blvd., Ralph Finley of Pond St., Dr. C. M. Mayberry of Mayberry Ln., Harold Allison of Sanford Ave., Frank Thomas, a city employe, Stephen Miller of Thompson Ave., and Mayor Lawrence.

When Council's meeting convened shortly before 8, President B. E. Warner explained that the first part of the agenda would be turned over to unlimited debate in the audience, although normally remarks from the citizens are not permitted at a special meeting.

THE SPEECHES continued until 11, when Council took a brief recess. Part of the audience started to drift out about 10:30, however. Back in session at 11, Council listed to another 30 minutes of debate and answered questions before starting consideration of the tax ordinance.

As an alternative to an income tax, Wheatley said the city might apply for federal aid as a labor surplus area or a "distressed area." He said he is willing to sit in on a general community meeting to thresh out the community's problems.

"We're not opposed to progress," Wheatley asserted. "Let the citizens of this town find out what is wrong, even if we have to call a mass meeting."

Wheatley declared he has been subjected to attacks in the opening phase of the campaign to renew the tax. Winters also has been attacked with "dirty, rotten, stinking political tactics," he declared.

"Let's get together and see if we can get some federal dough and get the corpse up on its feet, at least," he concluded.

—:—

FINLEY, ADVOCATING renewal of the tax, said businessmen support the idea partly because it makes possible stronger police protection. Many businessmen pay twice – once on corporate income and again on their private earnings, he declared.

In his remarks, Kashuba declared that East Liverpool "can't afford an income tax, particularly the people in the low income brackets."

"We're in a depressed area," he said. "When a person makes $3,500 a year, can you expect him to pay $20 tax? It's a lot of money to him. I can well afford to pay, but I'm thinking of the general bulk of our citizens."

Kashuba also declared that the area would be less attractive to new industry with an income tax. Attacking the administration's program, he said he can see no reason for rebuilding of Anderson Blvd., calling it "a pretty good street."

Taking the floor against the tax, Goodman asserted that he has six children and "it keeps me stepping to support them." He added that every East Liverpool precinct voted against the tax last November.

"I DON'T THINK Council should be held responsible for the size of any man's family," Dr. Mayberry commented facetiously. Then he declared that a $20 annual income tax would be far less than the average smoker spends a year on cigarettes.

"Wouldn't that same amount accomplish a great deal of good for our city?" he asked. "A person who can't pay a $20 tax can't afford to smoke."

Inflation is a big factor in the rising cost of city government, Allison declared.

"I'm one hundred per cent in favor of this income tax," he said. "No one is going to be hurt by it."

Dales cited the decline in the number of jobs in the district pottery industry. He said he saw figures which showed Homer Laughlin China Co. had 3,400 employes in 1950, but the figure recently was down to 1,500. Many idle workers are living on $30-a-week unemployment compensation, he added.

BOLEY ASSERTED that many East Liverpool residents "work for 75 cents and $1 an hour and they can't afford to pay taxes." He suggested exemptions, as in the federal tax.

Miller recalled his High School class writing essays on "What East Liverpool Needs Most." Most of the students cited the need of additional city income, he said. Miller said his Freshman Class had over 500 students, but it had narrowed down to 283 at graduation because of those who dropped out to seek work.

Batey argued for pay-as-you-go financing of city expenditures, rather than bond issues. A 30-year bond issue at 4½ per cent means that tax-payers pay twice for a major improvement, he declared.

As the discussion ended, Mayor Lawrence delivered a general reply to the opposition, answering many of the points that had been raised and emphasizing again that both Council and the administration agreed on presentation of the tax legislation in a way in which a referendum would be sought—even invited.

"THERE HAS BEEN a lot of discussion here about attracting outside industry, but apparently no one has bothered to consult industry," the mayor said. "I've done a little of that. The president of Westinghouse has said it isn't the tax rate of a community, it's the stability and progressiveness that are considered by industry looking for a site.

"They don't want to move into a broken down bankrupt community," he continued. "That means in a few years the community will start to slap taxes on the industry. The governor of North Carolina has written that no community will attract industry until it makes itself attractive.

"There's no intention to conceal anything in this program," the mayor said. "I don't see how we can make it any plainer that Council has no intention of ramming it down anyone's throat. It has been pointed out repeatedly that the ordinance will be given three readings. If it is passed, there will be a 30-day waiting period in which any citizen has a right to circulate a petition to get it on the ballot.

"IF THAT'S DONE, the ordinance will not become effective before it's voted on in November," the mayor said. "Council is doing it in such a way in order that you can exercise that right."

Turning to the city's problems, he said: "Let's have the guts to have the right thing happen. Any one who wants to obtain these things without work or without paying for them isn't worthy of the name of citizen. I'm sure there are not many like that in East Liverpool."

Then he explained that state law prohibits a city from enacting a graduated income tax. The rate must be uniform, he said. Any added minor exemptions "would drive the tax-payer crazy if he had to fill out a complicated form for such a comparatively small tax," the mayor said.

"In view of the fact the tax was repealed in November, do you think we would propose it again if we were able to find a reasonable alternative?" Lawrence asked. "We could issue bonds and put the city in debt up to the hilt. Your children and your grandchildren would be paying the debt."

Children Of The Bible

TIMOTHY

"... From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation ..."

—II Timothy 3:15

The child Timothy was reared in one of the first Christian homes in history. For it was about the time of his birth that the disciples were first called by that term at Antioch.

The boy was the son of a Jewish mother—Eunice—and a Greek father whose name is not preserved to us.

Not only Timothy's mother, but his grandmother, Lois had been converted to the new faith called Christianity. So his earliest memories were stories of Jesus—stories still fresh from the lips of many who had seen him.

These words, and the Scriptures he heard read each night, often occupied his thoughts as he played, close to the growing things of earth, with little concern for the problems of men.

He wondered: what is death? Why did He die?

And he was no doubt told that death is a condition of sleep which no one need fear, if he is stedfast in the faith.

Jesus came forth from the tomb, leaving the winding cloths of death, to show men that He was God as He had told them, and they had not believed.

Young Timothy understood something of death because he was a close observer of life. He saw life breathed into the dilated nostrils of oxen as they silently inhaled the fragrance of the fields. He felt it in his small hand when he caught a bee in summer, held it for a moment, and let it go free. He sensed the security of life as he stooped to watch a glowworm among shadows at dusk.

When the Apostle Paul visited Timothy's home, he observed the zeal and understanding of the lad. He learned that the boy already had distinguished himself among the people of his neighborhood as a witness to Christ's message.

When Paul left Lystra, where Timothy lived, he asked the youth to accompany him on his missionary journey. Timothy agreed, and from that time on, became one of the early sowers of the Gospel seed.

"He worketh the work of the Lord," said Paul. "As a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel."

Flood Damage Claim Allowed

Trustees Of St. Clair Authorize $650 Bill

St. Clair Township trustees Monday night authorized payment of a $650 bill to Howard Kevan for road repairs to damage which occurred from January flooding in the township.

Neil McIntosh, clerk, reported application for federal flood damage aid is to be made to the Civil Defense headquarters at Youngstown instead of through the office of the county engineer.

Trustees estimate township damage from the high water may exceed $1,500.

Clearing of a ditch along Cornell Ave. in Glenmoor was authorized following a complaint that it is blocked with lumber, forcing water onto the road.

Completion of grading and application of slag to Gonzales Ave. in Oakmont was approved, following a request from Lawrence Pierce of Oakmont.

A request for the township to file a complaint against the Lundey Mining Co. from Ralph Dean of Salem, deputy mine inspector, was received, but Dean is to be advised the strip mine is in Liverpool Township. Dean reported the mining firm's spoil banks do not conform to proper practice.

The trustees will meet again Monday night.

U.S. Criticism Of Schools Taken Seriously Abroad

CLEVELAND (AP)—A prominent educator says criticism of our school program in this country is being taken seriously by educators in some countries.

Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University, told the convention of the American Personnel and Guidance Assn. Monday our debates about education have made school men in many of the underdeveloped countries skeptical of the quality of our school system.

Several months ago Baker was a consultant on education to Cambodia and other nations in southeast Asia.

Martin W. Essex, superintendent of Akron schools, told delegates they have an increased responsibility since "the lack of social and moral solidarity in the family is robbing too many children of the humanizing warmth of parental love and guidance."

He said the great mobility of families these days "has separated families from their relatives and long-respected neighbors."

The four-day convention opened Monday.

Dr. Kuhlman Named For Health League Post

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, has been appointed a trustee for the northeastern district of the City Public Health League of Ohio.

Dr. Kuhlman was chosen at a luncheon meeting Friday in Steubenville. Dr. Kuhlman, Septimus Cook and John Owen, sanitary inspectors, and Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, public health nurse, attended.

Local members of the league are Mrs. Ila Johnston, R. N., C. Frank Dales and Dr. C. M. Mayberry.

City Native Takes Post With Columbus Firm

David Sanford, 26, of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sanford of Dixonville, has accepted a position with the North American Aviation Co. at Columbus following his graduation last week from Ohio State University with a degree in engineering.

Sanford, a graduate of East Liverpool High School who served four years in the Navy, is married to the former Harriett White of Glenmoor. They have a son and daughter.

The Stitch and Chatter Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lyle Kiffer.

Mrs. Carl McCormick will be next hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Mrs. Jack Prothero and John and Lynn Prothero of Beaver were Wednesday guests of Mrs. Thomas Calhoon.

Tax

lows the public to propose new legislation for a vote of the people.

Trades Council proposed an initiative ordinance repealing the tax measure. But if referendum procedure is used to test the current ordinance, the city will not collect a penny of income tax until the voters act in November — and then only if they vote in favor of the legislation.

The presence of the emergency clause in the 1958 ordinance was one of the major rallying points of the opposition, as it allowed the tax to be collected despite the move to repeal it.

ECEPT FOR THE lower rate, the proposed ordinance virtually is a twin of the measure that was repealed in November. It requires all East Liverpool employers to withhold the tax from the earnings of their employes and turn the money over to the city income tax office. Persons who have earnings not subject to withholding are required to file estimates of income—just as under the federal law—and then pay taxes based on those estimates.

In actual practice last year, many employers outside East Liverpool withheld the tax from wages, saving their employes the trouble of filing individual returns.

The present ordinance provides that not more than 40 per cent of the new revenue would be used for current operating expenses of the city, with the remaining 60 per cent going into capital improvement projects.

It provides the ordinance would remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1962.

THE PROPOSED ordinance also provides exemptions from the tax—the same ones outlined in the 1958 legislation. They include salaries or pensions for service in the armed forces; poor relief, pensions, unemployment compensation, disability beneftis, alimony, dues received by tax-exempt organizations, including labor unions, the earnings of all persons under 16 and the salaries or wages paid student nurses, interns and students employed in schools, colleges, universities or libraries.

Council did not turn to consideration of the ordinance until 11:35, as it spent nearly 4 hours listening to unlimited debate permitted the audience. Clerk Ray Goodman finished reading the ordinance at 12:04 a. m. today and Council adjourned at 12:06 after setting its second special session for next Monday night. One 10-minute recess punctuated the meeting, which lasted just short of 5 hours.

Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen William Y. Orr, W. E. Kaiser, Samuel B. Webber, George E. Willshaw, Robert W. Sample Jr. and A. Stanley Kidder.

THE GROUNDWORK for the ordinance was laid at several special sessions earlier in the month, when Council discussed an administration program for increased city services and capital improvements.

Mayor Lawrence first suggested a $314,455 increase in the city's income, which would have meant a tax of eight-tenths of one per cent. However, most members of Council indicated they would favor a rate of six-tenths. At a meeting a few days later, the mayor scaled his financial request down to $260,000 in additional revenue, which apparently can be met with the six-tenths rate.

The principal items in his capital improvements program include: Rebuilding of sections of St. Clair Ave., Anderson Blvd. and Avondale St., a citywide recreation program, blacktopping of both unsurfaced streets and streets that are presently paved and addition of three firemen and five policemen.

The street improvements would be financed over five years, with property-owners helping foot the bill via special assessments.

Veterans Groups At Wellsville To Discuss Memorial Plans

Committees from Wellsville's three veterans units will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of American Legion Post 70 to further plans for the annual Memorial Day services May 30.

The service will be held by Post 70, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 and VFW Post 9285. Plans now call for a parade and a memorial service at Springhill Cemetery.

Harry Excell and Atty. Delmar O'Hara are in charge of obtaining a speaker. Confirmation has been received from Washington that an officer in the missile field will be present.

Attempts are being made to obtain a piece of new military equipment for display.

A "penny drill" will be held the week of May 18 in Wellsville schools to raise funds for the event. George Lawton and Harold Dickinson are co-chairmen of the fund raising committee. A record hop will be held. The funds will be used to purchase flags for graves and flowers. Last year's program cost $330.

A larger parade is being planned this year. Invitations will be mailed several marching units and bands. The parade will form at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave. at 8:45 a. m. The units will travel down Main St., pause for a brief service at the 4th St. memorial and then continue to the cemetery.

The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Second Presbyterian Church and the Fr. William Lawler of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church will assist in the ceremonies. Two church choirs will sing.

Group Of New Yorkers Buys Mutual Network

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of New York businessmen has purchased the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Mutual supplies 453 affiliated stations with news, sports and special features. It does not own them. Until recently it was part of the financial empire of international financier Alexander L. Guterma.

Malcolm E. Smith Jr., 42, president of Harrison Home Products, an importing firm, announced the purchase Sunday, but not the amount involved.

Richard H. Davimos, 36, of West Orange, N.J., a business associate of Smith, was the only other member of the purchasing group identified.

Davimos said Smith will become chairman of Mutual, and he will become president, with Robert F. Hurleigh, Mutual's senior vice president, becoming vice chairman.

Smith, who lives in Smithtown, N.Y., and Davimos are associates in Harrison Home Products, the Grand Award Record Corp., of which Davimos is president; the Waldorf Record Corp. and Waldorf Music Hall, Inc.

Bails Out, Uninjured

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—"It was my first jump and I hope it will be my last," Lt. Raymond McCoy, 24, said Monday after he bailed out of his F86 jet fighter when the engine stalled. McCoy, whose wife lives in Coshocton, Ohio, landed unhurt.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Democratic senators were on opposite sides of the fence Monday in the Senate's 49-46 passage of a bill to aid depressed areas. Stephen M. Young voted for the measure, Frank J. Lausche against it.

Priest Addresses Catholic Women; Election Planned

Fr. Anthony Esposito of St. Aloysius Catholic Church spoke on "The Convert and You" at a meeting of the Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women Saturday afternoon at St. Phillip Neri Church in Dungannon.

Mrs. Walter Ewing, of Lisbon, president, conducted business. A contribution was given to the Red Cross.

The diocesan convention will be held May 26 at St. Rose Parish Hall at Girard.

The nominating committee appointed is: Mrs. Fred Strabley, Salineville; Miss Theresa Feris, East Palestine; Mrs. Stephen Gonda and Miss Kathleen Gibson, Salem, and Mrs. Louis Tobin, Miss Helen Auld and Mrs. George White, all of East Liverpool.

Election and installation of officers will be held April 18 at St. Paul's Parish Hall in Salem.

Bicycle Damages Man's 1959 Auto

An East End man told police his 1959 sedan was damaged Sunday by a cyclist and a North Side motorist said his car was damaged when it dropped into a storm drain as he pulled into a parking space.

Elzie Horner, 35, of 454 Fox Alley told police the right doors of his car were scratched when a youngster on a bicycle rode off the sidewalk and into the side of his car at Fox Alley and 1st Ave. Sunday afternoon.

James A. Fisher, 302 Maplewood Ave., told police he started to pull into a parking space at North and Oak Sts. Saturday afternoon, but another car pulled in ahead.

He said he backed up and then pulled forward and the car dropped into the drain.

Red Spy Ring Smasher Heads Mounted Police

OTTAWA (AP) — A man who helped smoke out the Soviet spy ring in Canada in 1945 is coming out of retirement to head the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Deputy Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, 57, on retirement leave since Jan. 1, was appointed Monday to succeed Leonard Nicolson, 54, who resigned as commissioner in a dispute arising out of the Newfoundland loggers' strike.

Rivett-Carnac, a Mountie for 35 years, was the first person to give credence to the story of Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet Embassy cipher clerk who defected in 1945 and gave the Canadian government information with which it uncovered an espionage network.

Read Seed Package Labels, Farmers Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farmers had better read the labels on seed packages before they buy them or they may be throwing their money away.

That warning was issued Monday by John W. Baringer, chief of the State Division of Plant Industry.

A proper label indicates the percentage of seed which germinated when tested and the date of the test, Baringer said.

"If the date indicates the test is more than nine months old, the label is illegal and the seed should not be sold until it is retested," he warned.

Alcorn Doesn't Believe Rockefeller Seeks Bid

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn doesn't believe Nelson Rockefeller will seek the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Alcorn, vacationing at nearby Redington Beach, was asked if he thought the New York Governor or Vice President, Richard Nixon would win the Republican presidential nomination. He said his position prevented him from taking sides, but added:

"I do not rule out the possibility that both might be on the national ticket. But I list myself in the minority which doubts that Rockefeller will seek the top spot."

No Clermont Treasurer

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County still has no treasurer to succeed John P. Friend Jr., who resigned Wednesday after state auditors found his accounts short $48,747. The three commissioners meet again today to seek agreement on an appointee. Each commissioner nominated a different prospect Monday, but each proposal failed for lack of a seconding motion.

There are 26 bones in the human foot.

Coroner Rules Man's Death Was Accidental

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A Lawrence County man was found dead in his car Monday night about an hour after parking in his garage.

The victim, Harold Miller, 49, of nearby Arabia, died of asphysixation. Coroner Harry Nemmi ruled the death accidental. He said the fire was started either by a shorted wire or by a cigarette.

Police said a neighbor saw Miller drive into the garage about 10:30 p.m. and leave the car lights on. About an hour later the neighbor was awakened by a barking dog and saw Miller's auto aflame.

INFLATION....

Here's where inflation really hurts you

You really feel inflation when you get to the check-out counter. That is when the dollars you have in your pocket seem to vanish fast

Some people think they benefit from a little inflation—for a while.

The awakening comes when they find they are paying more and more for less and less—that more dollars are needed for the things that cost fewer dollars a while back.

That's inflation.

Inflation is caused by a lot of things. But one of the most important is rising labor costs without a substantial increase in the nation's productive efficiency. The reason: 75 percent or more of the final cost of what you buy goes for labor.

It's kind of a chain reaction. With each round of wage and price increases, your dollars lose another chunk of purchasing power.

If things keep on this way another twenty years—or ten—or five, what will you get for your dollar? What will happen to your savings, your insurance, your pension plans... your children's education?

Isn't it time to stop this spiral that eventually robs you of your future security?

The American Iron and Steel Institute brings you this message from the steel industry because

Veterans Groups At Wellsville To Discuss Memorial Plans

Committees from Wellsville's three veterans units will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of American Legion Post 70 to further plans for the annual Memorial Day services May 30.

The service will be held by Post 70, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 and VFW Post 9285. Plans now call for a parade and a memorial service at Springhill Cemetery.

Harry Excell and Atty. Delmar O'Hara are in charge of obtaining a speaker. Confirmation has been received from Washington that an officer in the missile field will be present.

Attempts are being made to obtain a piece of new military equipment for display.

A "penny drill" will be held the week of May 18 in Wellsville schools to raise funds for the event. George Lawton and Harold Dickinson are co-chairmen of the fund raising committee. A record hop will be held. The funds will be used to purchase flags for graves and flowers. Last year's program cost $330.

A larger parade is being planned this year. Invitations will be mailed several marching units and bands. The parade will form at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave. at 8:45 a. m. The units will travel down Main St., pause for a brief service at the 4th St. memorial and then continue to the cemetery.

The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Second Presbyterian Church and the Fr. William Lawler of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church will assist in the ceremonies. Two church choirs will sing.

Group Of New Yorkers Buys Mutual Network

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of New York businessmen has purchased the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Mutual supplies 453 affiliated stations with news, sports and special features. It does not own them. Until recently it was part of the financial empire of international financier Alexander L. Guterma.

Malcolm E. Smith Jr., 42, president of Harrison Home Products, an importing firm, announced the purchase Sunday, but not the amount involved.

Richard H. Davimos, 36, of West Orange, N.J., a business associate of Smith, was the only other member of the purchasing group identified.

Davimos said Smith will become chairman of Mutual, and he will become president, with Robert F. Hurleigh, Mutual's senior vice president, becoming vice chairman.

Smith, who lives in Smithtown, N.Y., and Davimos are associates in Harrison Home Products, the Grand Award Record Corp., of which Davimos is president; the Waldorf Record Corp. and Waldorf Music Hall, Inc.

Bails Out, Uninjured

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—"It was my first jump and I hope it will be my last," Lt. Raymond McCoy, 24, said Monday after he bailed out of his F86 jet fighter when the engine stalled. McCoy, whose wife lives in Coshocton, Ohio, landed unhurt.

On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Democratic senators were on opposite sides of the fence Monday in the Senate's 49-46 passage of a bill to aid depressed areas. Stephen M. Young voted for the measure, Frank J. Lausche against it.

Priest Addresses Catholic Women; Election Planned

Fr. Anthony Esposito of St. Aloysius Catholic Church spoke on "The Convert and You" at a meeting of the Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women Saturday afternoon at St. Phillip Neri Church in Dungannon.

Mrs. Walter Ewing, of Lisbon, president, conducted business. A contribution was given to the Red Cross.

The diocesan convention will be held May 26 at St. Rose Parish Hall at Girard.

The nominating committee appointed is: Mrs. Fred Strabley, Salineville; Miss Theresa Feris, East Palestine; Mrs. Stephen Gonda and Miss Kathleen Gibson, Salem, and Mrs. Louis Tobin, Miss Helen Auld and Mrs. George White, all of East Liverpool.

Election and installation of officers will be held April 18 at St. Paul's Parish Hall in Salem.

Bicycle Damages Man's 1959 Auto

An East End man told police his 1959 sedan was damaged Sunday by a cyclist and a North Side motorist said his car was damaged when it dropped into a storm drain as he pulled into a parking space.

Elzie Horner, 35, of 454 Fox Alley told police the right doors of his car were scratched when a youngster on a bicycle rode off the sidewalk and into the side of his car at Fox Alley and 1st Ave. Sunday afternoon.

James A. Fisher, 302 Maplewood Ave., told police he started to pull into a parking space at North and Oak Sts. Saturday afternoon, but another car pulled in ahead.

He said he backed up and then pulled forward and the car dropped into the drain.

Red Spy Ring Smasher Heads Mounted Police

OTTAWA (AP) — A man who helped smoke out the Soviet spy ring in Canada in 1945 is coming out of retirement to head the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Deputy Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, 57, on retirement leave since Jan. 1, was appointed Monday to succeed Leonard Nicolson, 54, who resigned as commissioner in a dispute arising out of the Newfoundland loggers' strike.

Rivett-Carnac, a Mountie for 35 years, was the first person to give credence to the story of Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet Embassy cipher clerk who defected in 1945 and gave the Canadian government information with which it uncovered an espionage network.

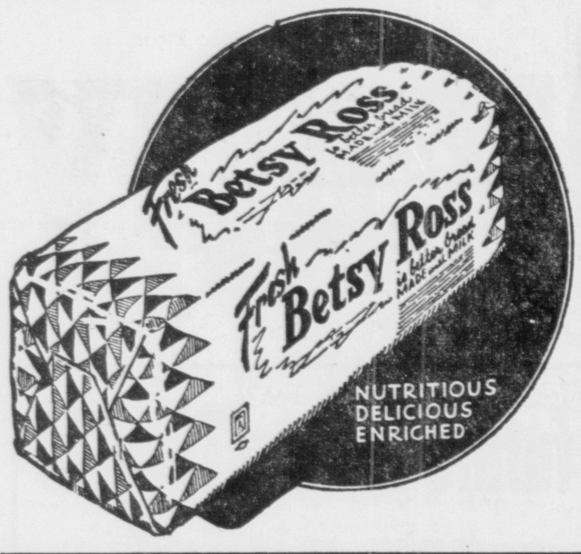
Read Seed Package Labels, Farmers Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farmers had better read the labels on seed packages before they buy them or they may be throwing their money away.

That warning was issued Monday by John W. Baringer, chief of the State Division of Plant Industry.

A proper label indicates the percentage of seed which germinated when tested and the date of the test, Baringer said.

"If the date indicates the test is more than nine months old, the label is illegal and the seed should not be sold until it is retested," he warned.



Alcorn Doesn't Believe Rockefeller Seeks Bid

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn doesn't believe Nelson Rockefeller will seek the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Alcorn, vacationing at nearby Redington Beach, was asked if he thought the New York Governor or Vice President, Richard Nixon would win the Republican presidential nomination. He said his position prevented him from taking sides, but added:

"I do not rule out the possibility that both might be on the national ticket. But I list myself in the minority which doubts that Rockefeller will seek the top spot."

No Clermont Treasurer

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County still has no treasurer to succeed John P. Friend Jr., who resigned Wednesday after state auditors found his accounts short $48,747. The three commissioners meet again today to seek agreement on an appointee. Each commissioner nominated a different prospect Monday, but each proposal failed for lack of a seconding motion.

Epistles From A Roman

Valerius Relates How The Galilean Won Debate With Priests At Temple

By TOM HENSAW
AP Religion Writer

Jerusalem, Judea

Gaius my father,

I send you the warmest filial greetings.

The wind continues to blow hot and dry from across the great eastern desert and the city fills to overflowing with outlanders.

Perhaps it is the heat or the constant babble of alien voices in the streets, but I detect a feeling of tension in the air. Although no one speaks of it, others feel it too, from the Procurator himself.

This evening, the Procurator Pilate dispatched the nightly messenger to Caesarea with unseemly haste. It is rumored he has asked that several centuries of the legion be sent to Jerusalem to stand by in case of trouble during the approaching passover festival.

OUR SINGULAR man from Galilee, he who some claim will be king of the Jews, has become an overnight sensation. It is said he went into the temple courtyard and, before the very eyes of the priests themselves, he overturned the money changers' tables and scattered the coins on the floor.

It will illustrate the eternal boredom of this place—Titus says it is the heat—when I tell you that today I donned a plain tunic and went into the temple courtyard for it was said in the streets that the Galilean would be there to speak his beliefs.

"IN TRUTH, the Galilean was comparing himself to the rejected stone and the priests to the unwise builders, which drove the priests into a frenzy."

Our Galilean appears to be very much like any other person in this place—but with a difference that is hard to define.

Perhaps it is his eyes. They are gentle yet penetrating—the eyes of a man who has seen evil and sin and has assumed their burden on his own frail shoulders. His eyes seem to plead with you to accept what their owner says as truth, not for his sake but for yours.

Or perhaps it is his voice. He speaks earnestly, in low, quiet tones. He expounds his beliefs by means of little stories, stories so simple a child could understand. Yet he is every bit as compelling to his listeners as the most spellbinding orator of the Senate.

THE GALILEAN had not been speaking his beliefs very long before the priests came out of the inner temple — where non-Jews are not admitted — and questioned his authority to speak to the people. The Galilean, neither alarmed nor offended, replied with one of his little stories.

He told them of a stone that had been rejected by builders which became the cornerstone of the building. In truth, he was comparing himself to the rejected stone and the priests to the unwise builders, which drove the priests into a frenzy.

Some of them seemed about to lay hands on the frail Galilean but the temper of the people was against them and they retreated. Instead, they began to ask him questions about his beliefs, questions slyly designed to trap him into treason against the Caesar.

"Do you think it lawful to give tribute to the Caesar?" asked one of the priests.

The Galilean paused for a moment. I strained my ears for his answer. He held up a coin of Rome for all to see and he asked whose image and inscription appeared upon it. All agreed they were those of the Caesar.

"Then," said the Galilean, "you must give to the Caesar those things which belong to Caesar and you must give to God those things which are his due."

As I walked back to the Antonia, our garrison fortress, for the evening meal, I pondered his answer.

Treasonable, to be sure, for are not all things due the Caesar? But I had not found it in me to reproach the Galilean. In fact, I found myself nodding agreement. Why was this?

I also pondered with some amusement, a remark I overheard in the courtyard. One man had told another—seriously, mind you—that the Galilean is not only king and savior but the son of god. Really now! He seemed very much flesh and blood to me.

Nevertheless, I find the man intriguing. I think tomorrow I shall go into the streets again and seek out someone who can tell me more about him.

Obediently
Valerius, thy son

Citation Awarded Ex-City Woman For Army Service

Mrs. Robert C. Meickle of Hyattsville, Md., the former Melba Garvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Garvin of R. D. 1, has been cited by the Army at Washington for meritorious civilian service in the Signal Corps.

Mrs. Meickle, who serves as assistant chief in procurement, was cited for her work as industrial and procurement officer in the Procurement and Distribution Division of the Chief Signal officer at Washington from July 12, 1957, through July 1958.

The citation, signed by Maj. Gen. R. T. Nelson, says in part, "The combination of Mrs. Meickle's extensive experience in all phases of procurement management, coupled with her unique capacity for thorough and accurate analysis of procurement program problems, are major contributions to the continuing success of the Signal Corps procurement system. Her dynamic leadership, untiring devotion to duty, great initiative and willingness to assume responsibilities are a great credit to herself and the chief signal officer."

Mrs. Meickle is a 1940 graduate of East Liverpool High School She entered civil service in 1941. She has a son, Billy, 6.

The United States flag was first raised over Alaska on Oct. 18, 1867.

Opportunity Seen Key

Success Formula Offered

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "The more people say a thing can't be done," said William R. McLain, "the greater the opportunity for the right man to do it."

His willingness to try the impossible has enabled McLain, president of a Nashville, Tenn. toy firm, to parlay $300 into a five-million-dollar annual business.

All his life McLain, a slender, 42-year-old chemical engineer, had wanted a business of his own. In 1945 he decided to make the gamble with $300 mustering-out pay he received when he left the Navy.

He and his partner, Earl Horton, a college friend, decided to enter the competitive toy field. Their families shared a farm shack outside Nashville while the partners drew up careful plans.

Impressed by their thoroughness and enthusiasm, a banker lent them $55,000—they had no collateral—to get started. They grossed $285,000 in 1946, their first year in business. And every year since then they have done better.

Today they have three plants, 350 employes. In addition to a line of 32 toys, they now turn out dozens of industrial plastic items for some of the nation's largest firms.

McLain's success principles are simple.

"Don't try to imitate the other fellow," he drawled. "It pays to be different, to plow a new furrow.

"Hire good people, treat them well, and—as far as you can—let them alone.

"Money and machinery are important in a firm's success, but the biggest factor is people. They've got the answer to most of your problems.

"We believe in starting them young and giving them responsibility. At 42, I'm the second oldest executive in our company."

The average life of a novelty toy is only two to three years.

"One of our most worrisome problems is people who keep writing us with ideas for new toys," said McLain. "We are not in the market for them. We have our own staff, and we like to originate our own toys."

Could another man start from scratch now and do as well as he did?

"Certainly," he said. "He ought to find it even easier. The opportunity is greater now, and it should be even greater in the next few years.

"All he has to do is to find something that people say can't be done—and go ahead and do it. The trouble is that few who have the desire to succeed have the willingness to put out the energy and drive that is required."

Liquor Sales Jump Prior To Price Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wholesale liquor sales in Ohio are skyrocketing in advance of a price increase April 1 of about 10 per cent on a fifth of liquor.

Richard C. Crouch, liquor director, said wholesale sales are running 350 per cent ahead of last year's March figures.

Crouch said permit holders plan to increase prices five cents a drink (one ounce). He said this means an additional $1.25 retail increase on a fifth purchased before April 1, and an additional 75 cents profit on liquors purchased after that date.

Ironton Murder Trial Gets Little Confused

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A murder trial here has become a little confused. The defendant suffered a heart attack Monday and a material witness has disappeared leaving a note saying she is "sick of the proceedings."

Warnie Blanton, 58, charged with the fatal shooting of William Kenneth Hall Dec. 8, was on the witness stand for nearly four hours Monday. The trial recessed early when the defendant said he was ill. Later, Blanton, who is out on bail, suffered a heart attack and is in King's Daughters Hospital in Ashland, Ky.

The material witness is the victim's wife, Ada, 41. Mrs. Hall disappeared Wednesday but the search for her intensified when the woman's two daughters returned to school Monday after being absent since Mrs. Hall disappeared.

Lorain City Workers Due 3% Wage Boost

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Lorain City Council's finance committee has decided a 3 per cent wage boost, including fringe benefits, is the maximum that can be given some 480 city workers at this time.

Councilman Earl R. Frank said Monday night a larger increase would mean the city would "face a retrenchment."

Graham Aide Warns On Phony Canvassers

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — An aide of Billy Graham warned Australians today against phony canvassers who have been going from house to house soliciting money in the name of the American rivivalist's crusade.

"At no time has the crusade canvassed for funds, nor has it any intention of doing so," declared John Robinson, secretary of the crusade.

Robinson said the canvassers had been busy in several Melbourne suburbs and had picked up a good deal of money from unsuspecting householders.

Graham finished his Melbourne crusade more than a week ago and is vacationing on the Queensland coast before holding more meetings in Australia. Expenses of the Melbourne crusade—$171,000—were covered by offerings at the meetings and donations from local backers.

2 Children Found Safe After Their Father Kills Self

ATLANTA (AP)—Two red-haired children spirited away by their father shortly before he killed himself with a shotgun Monday were found alive and well early today.

Police Lt. G. H. Christian reported that the father left the children at a nursery and gave the telephone number of a sister-in-law.

"The lady at the nursery," he added, "called the number all night but nobody answered. Finally she got in touch with us. The children are safe and have been well taken care of."

The youngsters, Eddie Max Norton Jr., 5, and his sister, Brenda Gail, 3, were last seen sitting in a car Monday morning in front of the apartment where they lived.

Detective R. P. McGee said the father, Eddie Max Norton Sr., 29, a chemical company employe, drove off with the children, then returned alone. A shotgun blast was heard soon after he entered the apartment.

Detectives said a suicide note found in Norton's pocket stated that an attempted reconciliation with his wife had failed.

Firemen Make 3 Runs On Grass Fire Alarms

Firemen spent a busy afternoon Monday, fighting three grass fires, one of which required 2½ hours to quell, an auto fire and a run on a false alarm.

Firemen were called to Maine Blvd. at 1:25 p. m. on a grass fire with 6 firemen remaining on the job until 4 p. m. Firemen said the blaze "burned all over the hill."

They were called to quell a grass fire on Deidrick's Hill at 2:05 p. m., and another brush fire on Ravine St. at 3:08 p. m. About 20 minutes was required to extinguish each fire, firemen said.

A backfire in the carburetor was blamed for a fire in a car operated by Carl Cuckovich, 2230 Pennsylvania Ave. The fire started about 3:20 p. m. when Cuchovich was driving on E. 5th St.

You owe it to your future to compare heating benefits and costs BEFORE you buy, build, or remodel!

THOUSANDS of your Ohio neighbors HEAT their homes, old and new ELECTRICALLY

Home heating of the future is here TODAY!

Compare these worth-more features:

CLEAN—Electric heat is pure heat energy with all the flame removed—sunshine clean. There's no soot, fumes or film to soil walls, draperies or furniture. Clean electric heat saves cleaning time—saves cleaning expense.

LOW COST—Electric heat is competitively priced when you consider all benefits and the BIG SAVINGS in cleaning and maintenance expense. Operating costs are reasonable, only a little more than the cost of ordinary home heating—repaid many times over in economy, comfort, satisfaction.

MODERN—Electric heat is the way to heat today...and tomorrow!...an asset to your property that won't go out of date. Electric heat will keep your home new and modern for decades.

TRULY AUTOMATIC—Electric heat systems have individual thermostats in each room—give a selection of heating comfort never before available—keep extra warmth in nursery or sick room without overheating other rooms.

SAFE—Electric heat is flameless—safe as electric light—assures complete safety for the home and family.

HEALTHFUL—Electric heat gives you exact, even temperature in each room. There are no hot blasts, no chilly drafts, no cold floors, no unhealthy overheating. Electric heat—like sunshine—is the most healthful, most uniform heating obtainable.

THREE BASIC TYPES—One type becomes a part of the baseboard, another recesses into the wall. Cable type is installed under the plaster of a new home. Baseboard and wall units are easily installed to replace your present heating system.

Epistles From A Roman

Valerius Relates How The Galilean Won Debate With Priests At Temple

By TOM HENSAW
AP Religion Writer

Jerusalem, Judea

Gaius my father,

I send you the warmest filial greetings.

The wind continues to blow hot and dry from across the great eastern desert and the city fills to overflowing with outlanders.

Perhaps it is the heat or the constant babble of alien voices in the streets, but I detect a feeling of tension in the air. Although no one speaks of it, others feel it too, from the Procurator himself.

This evening, the Procurator Pilate dispatched the nightly messenger to Caesarea with unseemly haste. It is rumored he has asked that several centuries of the legion be sent to Jerusalem to stand by in case of trouble during the approaching passover festival.

OUR SINGULAR man from Galilee, he who some claim will be king of the Jews, has become an overnight sensation. It is said he went into the temple courtyard and, before the very eyes of the priests themselves, he overturned the money changers' tables and scattered the coins on the floor.

It will illustrate the eternal boredom of this place—Titus says it is the heat—when I tell you that today I donned a plain tunic and went into the temple courtyard for it was said in the streets that the Galilean would be there to speak his beliefs.

"IN TRUTH, the Galilean was comparing himself to the rejected stone and the priests to the unwise builders, which drove the priests into a frenzy."

Our Galilean appears to be very much like any other person in this place—but with a difference that is hard to define.

Perhaps it is his eyes. They are gentle yet penetrating—the eyes of a man who has seen evil and sin and has assumed their burden on his own frail shoulders. His eyes seem to plead with you to accept what their owner says as truth, not for his sake but for yours.

Or perhaps it is his voice. He speaks earnestly, in low, quiet tones. He expounds his beliefs by means of little stories, stories so simple a child could understand. Yet he is every bit as compelling to his listeners as the most spellbinding orator of the Senate.

THE GALILEAN had not been speaking his beliefs very long before the priests came out of the inner temple — where non-Jews are not admitted — and questioned his authority to speak to the people. The Galilean, neither alarmed nor offended, replied with one of his little stories.

He told them of a stone that had been rejected by builders which became the cornerstone of the building. In truth, he was comparing himself to the rejected stone and the priests to the unwise builders, which drove the priests into a frenzy.

Some of them seemed about to lay hands on the frail Galilean but the temper of the people was against them and they retreated. Instead, they began to ask him questions about his beliefs, questions slyly designed to trap him into treason against the Caesar.

"Do you think it lawful to give tribute to the Caesar?" asked one of the priests.

The Galilean paused for a moment. I strained my ears for his answer. He held up a coin of Rome for all to see and he asked whose image and inscription appeared upon it. All agreed they were those of the Caesar.

"Then," said the Galilean, "you must give to the Caesar those things which belong to Caesar and you must give to God those things which are his due."

As I walked back to the Antonia, our garrison fortress, for the evening meal, I pondered his answer.

Treasonable, to be sure, for are not all things due the Caesar? But I had not found it in me to reproach the Galilean. In fact, I found myself nodding agreement. Why was this?

I also pondered with some amusement, a remark I overheard in the courtyard. One man had told another—seriously, mind you—that the Galilean is not only king and savior but the son of god. Really now! He seemed very much flesh and blood to me.

Nevertheless, I find the man intriguing. I think tomorrow I shall go into the streets again and seek out someone who can tell me more about him.

Obediently
Valerius, thy son

Citation Awarded Ex-City Woman For Army Service

Mrs. Robert C. Meickle of Hyattsville, Md., the former Melba Garvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Garvin of R. D. 1, has been cited by the Army at Washington for meritorious civilian service in the Signal Corps.

Mrs. Meickle, who serves as assistant chief in procurement, was cited for her work as industrial and procurement officer in the Procurement and Distribution Division of the Chief Signal officer at Washington from July 12, 1957, through July 1958.

The citation, signed by Maj. Gen. R. T. Nelson, says in part, "The combination of Mrs. Meickle's extensive experience in all phases of procurement management, coupled with her unique capacity for thorough and accurate analysis of procurement program problems, are major contributions to the continuing success of the Signal Corps procurement system. Her dynamic leadership, untiring devotion to duty, great initiative and willingness to assume responsibilities are a great credit to herself and the chief signal officer."

Mrs. Meickle is a 1940 graduate of East Liverpool High School She entered civil service in 1941. She has a son, Billy, 6.

The United States flag was first raised over Alaska on Oct. 18, 1867.

Opportunity Seen Key

Success Formula Offered

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "The more people say a thing can't be done," said William R. McLain, "the greater the opportunity for the right man to do it."

His willingness to try the impossible has enabled McLain, president of a Nashville, Tenn. toy firm, to parlay $300 into a five-million-dollar annual business.

All his life McLain, a slender, 42-year-old chemical engineer, had wanted a business of his own. In 1945 he decided to make the gamble with $300 mustering-out pay he received when he left the Navy.

He and his partner, Earl Horton, a college friend, decided to enter the competitive toy field. Their families shared a farm shack outside Nashville while the partners drew up careful plans.

Impressed by their thoroughness and enthusiasm, a banker lent them $55,000—they had no collateral—to get started. They grossed $285,000 in 1946, their first year in business. And every year since then they have done better.

Today they have three plants, 350 employes. In addition to a line of 32 toys, they now turn out dozens of industrial plastic items for some of the nation's largest firms.

McLain's success principles are simple.

"Don't try to imitate the other fellow," he drawled. "It pays to be different, to plow a new furrow.

"Hire good people, treat them well, and—as far as you can—let them alone.

"Money and machinery are important in a firm's success, but the biggest factor is people. They've got the answer to most of your problems.

"We believe in starting them young and giving them responsibility. At 42, I'm the second oldest executive in our company."

The average life of a novelty toy is only two to three years.

"One of our most worrisome problems is people who keep writing us with ideas for new toys," said McLain. "We are not in the market for them. We have our own staff, and we like to originate our own toys."

Could another man start from scratch now and do as well as he did?

"Certainly," he said. "He ought to find it even easier. The opportunity is greater now, and it should be even greater in the next few years.

"All he has to do is to find something that people say can't be done—and go ahead and do it. The trouble is that few who have the desire to succeed have the willingness to put out the energy and drive that is required."

Liquor Sales Jump Prior To Price Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wholesale liquor sales in Ohio are skyrocketing in advance of a price increase April 1 of about 10 per cent on a fifth of liquor.

Richard C. Crouch, liquor director, said wholesale sales are running 350 per cent ahead of last year's March figures.

Crouch said permit holders plan to increase prices five cents a drink (one ounce). He said this means an additional $1.25 retail increase on a fifth purchased before April 1, and an additional 75 cents profit on liquors purchased after that date.

Ironton Murder Trial Gets Little Confused

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A murder trial here has become a little confused. The defendant suffered a heart attack Monday and a material witness has disappeared leaving a note saying she is "sick of the proceedings."

Warnie Blanton, 58, charged with the fatal shooting of William Kenneth Hall Dec. 8, was on the witness stand for nearly four hours Monday. The trial recessed early when the defendant said he was ill. Later, Blanton, who is out on bail, suffered a heart attack and is in King's Daughters Hospital in Ashland, Ky.

The material witness is the victim's wife, Ada, 41. Mrs. Hall disappeared Wednesday but the search for her intensified when the woman's two daughters returned to school Monday after being absent since Mrs. Hall disappeared.

Lorain City Workers Due 3% Wage Boost

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Lorain City Council's finance committee has decided a 3 per cent wage boost, including fringe benefits, is the maximum that can be given some 480 city workers at this time.

Councilman Earl R. Frank said Monday night a larger increase would mean the city would "face a retrenchment."

Graham Aide Warns On Phony Canvassers

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — An aide of Billy Graham warned Australians today against phony canvassers who have been going from house to house soliciting money in the name of the American rivivalist's crusade.

"At no time has the crusade canvassed for funds, nor has it any intention of doing so," declared John Robinson, secretary of the crusade.

Robinson said the canvassers had been busy in several Melbourne suburbs and had picked up a good deal of money from unsuspecting householders.

Graham finished his Melbourne crusade more than a week ago and is vacationing on the Queensland coast before holding more meetings in Australia. Expenses of the Melbourne crusade—$171,000—were covered by offerings at the meetings and donations from local backers.

2 Children Found Safe After Their Father Kills Self

ATLANTA (AP)—Two red-haired children spirited away by their father shortly before he killed himself with a shotgun Monday were found alive and well early today.

Police Lt. G. H. Christian reported that the father left the children at a nursery and gave the telephone number of a sister-in-law.

"The lady at the nursery," he added, "called the number all night but nobody answered. Finally she got in touch with us. The children are safe and have been well taken care of."

The youngsters, Eddie Max Norton Jr., 5, and his sister, Brenda Gail, 3, were last seen sitting in a car Monday morning in front of the apartment where they lived.

Detective R. P. McGee said the father, Eddie Max Norton Sr., 29, a chemical company employe, drove off with the children, then returned alone. A shotgun blast was heard soon after he entered the apartment.

Detectives said a suicide note found in Norton's pocket stated that an attempted reconciliation with his wife had failed.

Firemen Make 3 Runs On Grass Fire Alarms

Firemen spent a busy afternoon Monday, fighting three grass fires, one of which required 2½ hours to quell, an auto fire and a run on a false alarm.

Firemen were called to Maine Blvd. at 1:25 p. m. on a grass fire with 6 firemen remaining on the job until 4 p. m. Firemen said the blaze "burned all over the hill."

They were called to quell a grass fire on Deidrick's Hill at 2:05 p. m., and another brush fire on Ravine St. at 3:08 p. m. About 20 minutes was required to extinguish each fire, firemen said.

A backfire in the carburetor was blamed for a fire in a car operated by Carl Cuckovich, 2230 Pennsylvania Ave. The fire started about 3:20 p. m. when Cuchovich was driving on E. 5th St.

THOUSANDS of your Ohio neighbors HEAT their homes, old and new ELECTRICALLY

Home heating of the future is here TODAY!

Compare these worth-more features:

CLEAN—Electric heat is pure heat energy with all the flame removed—sunshine clean. There's no soot, fumes or film to soil walls, draperies or furniture. Clean electric heat saves cleaning time—saves cleaning expense.

LOW COST—Electric heat is competitively priced when you consider all benefits and the BIG SAVINGS in cleaning and maintenance expense. Operating costs are reasonable, only a little more than the cost of ordinary home heating—repaid many times over in economy, comfort, satisfaction.

MODERN—Electric heat is the way to heat today...and tomorrow!...an asset to your property that won't go out of date. Electric heat will keep your home new and modern for decades.

TRULY AUTOMATIC—Electric heat systems have individual thermostats in each room—give a selection of heating comfort never before available—keep extra warmth in nursery or sick room without overheating other rooms.

SAFE—Electric heat is flameless—safe as electric light—assures complete safety for the home and family.

HEALTHFUL—Electric heat gives you exact, even temperature in each room. There are no hot blasts, no chilly drafts, no cold floors, no unhealthy overheating. Electric heat—like sunshine—is the most healthful, most uniform heating obtainable.

THREE BASIC TYPES—One type becomes a part of the baseboard, another recesses into the wall. Cable type is installed under the plaster of a new home. Baseboard and wall units are easily installed to replace your present heating system.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Arthritic Dieter Triumphs Over Obstacles

"Remind your readers that I had to lick disease and drink before I could even get started on my reducing project. Truly I am a new person." From those two lines you know this story is quite out of the ordinary.

Ida Jean Kain

What does it take to triumph over the pounds? First of all, you must have a conviction in your own mind that it is possible to reduce, and worth the doing. When your circumstances are vastly different from others who are trying to reduce, you feel utterly alone in your struggles. Your problem may appear so hopeless it seems futile to even try.

This honest account of one dieter's struggles and triumphs can serve to bring a surge of new hope.

"I AM ANOTHER happy reducer. I think my situation was a bit different from most. I am an arthritic and for eleven years I have had little or no exercise. While I am still in a wheel chair, I am no longer completely shut in.

"The first few years were very painful and I drank heavily in order to get sleep and some measure of relief. One day I decided that had gone far enough! I stopped drinking. To compensate for my boredom and enforced inactivity. I turned to eating sweets—all kinds and in high quantities. Of course you know what happened! Last June the scales hit 176 pounds. I am 5 feet 2, and 43 years old.

"I had gone outside that June for the first time in three years, and I was conscious of my appearance. Shortly after that, I decided that I didn't need to be fat any more than I needed to drink. I talked to my doctor about reducing and he was all for it. With his approval, I stayed on a 1,000 calorie a day diet. The doctor prescribed Dexedrine to help me get my appetite under control.

"I made a game of counting the calories, using your calorie chart. I kept an exact score, recording everything I ate. Honestly it has been fun. From the nutrition standpoint I have actually eaten better. Now I really prefer to eat this way. Almost as much as losing the weight I am thrilled with the way my skin has cleared. It's pretty!

"To date I weigh 144 pounds. I had set my goal at 140 but I think I can do better, so I'll keep on the same pattern. Exercise is still a problem because of the arthritis, but I am managing much more housework than in the past."

—:—

IN A LONG distance telephone conversation on February 27 with this dieter, I learned that she now weighs 130 pounds and, miracle of miracles, she doesn't even have to use a cane around the house.

Sometimes she ventures outdoors without the wheel chair. From the arthritis standpoint our reducer notices the greatest improvement in the knee joints now that the load is lightened.

We salute this young woman whose courage is of a high order, and we wish her Godspeed on the road to complete recovery.

For the "Revised Calorie Chart", send a stamped self-addressed, long envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

Health Threats Termed Ineffective

To get children to do as they wish, parents often make health threats, statements such as the following: "If you keep running outdoors without a cap you'll get earaches or catch cold."

By Garry Meyers

No wonder you have a cough, you've been going without rubbers and getting your feet wet." "If you don't quit eating so much candy your teeth will get holes in them and ache." "You are going to get diabetes if you keep on eating so many sweets." "If you don't eat more foods you will get tuberculosis."

So parents threaten children as young as three or as old as 16. These warnings and exhortations usually have no effect except to annoy or worry the child and to make the parent feel important and self-righteous.

A NUMBER of published studies have revealed, that to most children, especially young children, sickness comes as punishment for misdeeds.

One reports that common beliefs in one group of young children were that colds were the result of getting wet, diabetes was from eating too much candy and rheumatic disease was from too much running.

Another points out that "the little child is unable to distinguish between feelings of suffering caused by disease inside the body and suffering imposed on him from the outside for the sake of curing the disease."

Perhaps the child under five or six would have this belief without silly warnings by parents. Yet these warnings confirm his beliefs and increase his worries and anxieties.

OUR MAIN problem with the preschool child is to see that he cultivates good health habits (and safety habits) without uttering threats and warnings of the consequence if he doesn't. Even the child 6, 12, or 15 the usual parental warnings do more harm than good.

A case in point is frequently issued warnings to the child who is overweight. This is frequently revealed in letters I receive. Typically, the mother says, "When I tell him he should not eat this fattening food or that, he is enraged." In such case the parent should put up or shut up.

Yet, some parents still have enough control of such a child to command him effectively to choose a better diet.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "A Parent's Prayer," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

New York City's Employes Slate One-Day Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 30,000 city employes plan a one-day walkout next Tuesday unless a pay dispute is settled by then, according to union leaders.

About 2,000 members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes voted Monday night to call the walkout in a protest over Mayor Robert F. Wagner's austerity program.

Wagner, a Democrat, failed to get all the tax powers he asked from the Republican-controlled state Legislature. As a result, he cut the proposed city budget, lopping off 32 million dollars in raises for 80,000 city workers. Policemen firemen, teachers and correction officers were the losers in the budget cutting.

Workers in other departments also have been demanding pay raises.

Professional Sniffers In 'Smelling Booths'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All day long research scientists at Battelle Memorial Institute sit in closed "smelling booths" sniffing 30 kinds of substances.

The professional sniffers take a whiff every 30 seconds and then try to write a detailed description of the odor.

The research is designed to help the Army Quartermaster Corps provide tastier food for soldiers.

4 Students Inducted Into Honorary Society

Fourteen Chester High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society at a ceremony Monday afternoon at the school.

New members are Lynn Clark, Bertha Cunningham, David Elphinstone, Joyce Haught, Sondra Hayes, Maria Hrnek, Mary Lee Mosser, Sarette McKnight, Sharon Roberts, Judy Stackhouse, Darlene Walker, Anne Watkins, Keith Wetzel and Reid Calcott.

Glen Stanley, president, was in charge of the rite. Talks were given by Kay Snyder on "Character," Joy Lilly, "Scholarship;" Frank Kenny, "Leadership," and Doris Bourne, "Service." Other society members assisted.

Piano music was played by John Clovis, music supervisor.

Driver Loses License Under Demerit System

LISBON — Paul L. Crowe, 33, of Columbiana has lost his driving license for a year under the state's 12-point demerit system.

Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp suspended the permit after a report from the State Department of Motor Vehicles showed these four violations:

Columbiana mayor's court, 2 points for crashing a red light Feb. 6 and 6 points for leaving the scene of an accident Feb. 7; Lisbon mayor's court, June 10, 1958, 2 points for driving an unsafe vehicle, and Feb. 3, 1958, in Canfield major's court, 2 points for driving left of center.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Arthritic Dieter Triumphs Over Obstacles

"Remind your readers that I had to lick disease and drink before I could even get started on my reducing project. Truly I am a new person." From those two lines you know this story is quite out of the ordinary.

Ida Jean Kain

What does it take to triumph over the pounds? First of all, you must have a conviction in your own mind that it is possible to reduce, and worth the doing. When your circumstances are vastly different from others who are trying to reduce, you feel utterly alone in your struggles. Your problem may appear so hopeless it seems futile to even try.

This honest account of one dieter's struggles and triumphs can serve to bring a surge of new hope.

"I AM ANOTHER happy reducer. I think my situation was a bit different from most. I am an arthritic and for eleven years I have had little or no exercise. While I am still in a wheel chair, I am no longer completely shut in.

"The first few years were very painful and I drank heavily in order to get sleep and some measure of relief. One day I decided that had gone far enough! I stopped drinking. To compensate for my boredom and enforced inactivity. I turned to eating sweets—all kinds and in high quantities. Of course you know what happened! Last June the scales hit 176 pounds. I am 5 feet 2, and 43 years old.

"I had gone outside that June for the first time in three years, and I was conscious of my appearance. Shortly after that, I decided that I didn't need to be fat any more than I needed to drink. I talked to my doctor about reducing and he was all for it. With his approval, I stayed on a 1,000 calorie a day diet. The doctor prescribed Dexedrine to help me get my appetite under control.

"I made a game of counting the calories, using your calorie chart. I kept an exact score, recording everything I ate. Honestly it has been fun. From the nutrition standpoint I have actually eaten better. Now I really prefer to eat this way. Almost as much as losing the weight I am thrilled with the way my skin has cleared. It's pretty!

"To date I weigh 144 pounds. I had set my goal at 140 but I think I can do better, so I'll keep on the same pattern. Exercise is still a problem because of the arthritis, but I am managing much more housework than in the past."

—:—

IN A LONG distance telephone conversation on February 27 with this dieter, I learned that she now weighs 130 pounds and, miracle of miracles, she doesn't even have to use a cane around the house.

Sometimes she ventures outdoors without the wheel chair. From the arthritis standpoint our reducer notices the greatest improvement in the knee joints now that the load is lightened.

We salute this young woman whose courage is of a high order, and we wish her Godspeed on the road to complete recovery.

For the "Revised Calorie Chart", send a stamped self-addressed, long envelope to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

Health Threats Termed Ineffective

To get children to do as they wish, parents often make health threats, statements such as the following: "If you keep running outdoors without a cap you'll get earaches or catch cold."

By Garry Meyers

No wonder you have a cough, you've been going without rubbers and getting your feet wet." "If you don't quit eating so much candy your teeth will get holes in them and ache." "You are going to get diabetes if you keep on eating so many sweets." "If you don't eat more foods you will get tuberculosis."

So parents threaten children as young as three or as old as 16. These warnings and exhortations usually have no effect except to annoy or worry the child and to make the parent feel important and self-righteous.

A NUMBER of published studies have revealed, that to most children, especially young children, sickness comes as punishment for misdeeds.

One reports that common beliefs in one group of young children were that colds were the result of getting wet, diabetes was from eating too much candy and rheumatic disease was from too much running.

Another points out that "the little child is unable to distinguish between feelings of suffering caused by disease inside the body and suffering imposed on him from the outside for the sake of curing the disease."

Perhaps the child under five or six would have this belief without silly warnings by parents. Yet these warnings confirm his beliefs and increase his worries and anxieties.

OUR MAIN problem with the preschool child is to see that he cultivates good health habits (and safety habits) without uttering threats and warnings of the consequence if he doesn't. Even the child 6, 12, or 15 the usual parental warnings do more harm than good.

A case in point is frequently issued warnings to the child who is overweight. This is frequently revealed in letters I receive. Typically, the mother says, "When I tell him he should not eat this fattening food or that, he is enraged." In such case the parent should put up or shut up.

Yet, some parents still have enough control of such a child to command him effectively to choose a better diet.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "A Parent's Prayer," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Countians To Discuss West Virginia Picnic

Plans for the annual "West Virginia Day Picnic" will be outlined at a meeting March 31 at the Memorial Building at Salem of all former West Virginia residents now living in this area of Ohio.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p. m.

Sponsored by the West Virginia Association of Columbiana County, the picnic will be held Aug. 1 at Salem.

New York City's Employes Slate One-Day Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 30,000 city employes plan a one-day walkout next Tuesday unless a pay dispute is settled by then, according to union leaders.

About 2,000 members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes voted Monday night to call the walkout in a protest over Mayor Robert F. Wagner's austerity program.

Wagner, a Democrat, failed to get all the tax powers he asked from the Republican-controlled state Legislature. As a result, he cut the proposed city budget, lopping off 32 million dollars in raises for 80,000 city workers. Policemen firemen, teachers and correction officers were the losers in the budget cutting.

Workers in other departments also have been demanding pay raises.

Professional Sniffers In 'Smelling Booths'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All day long research scientists at Battelle Memorial Institute sit in closed "smelling booths" sniffing 30 kinds of substances.

The professional sniffers take a whiff every 30 seconds and then try to write a detailed description of the odor.

The research is designed to help the Army Quartermaster Corps provide tastier food for soldiers.

4 Students Inducted Into Honorary Society

Fourteen Chester High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society at a ceremony Monday afternoon at the school.

New members are Lynn Clark, Bertha Cunningham, David Elphinstone, Joyce Haught, Sondra Hayes, Maria Hrnek, Mary Lee Mosser, Sarette McKnight, Sharon Roberts, Judy Stackhouse, Darlene Walker, Anne Watkins, Keith Wetzel and Reid Calcott.

Glen Stanley, president, was in charge of the rite. Talks were given by Kay Snyder on "Character," Joy Lilly, "Scholarship;" Frank Kenny, "Leadership," and Doris Bourne, "Service." Other society members assisted.

Piano music was played by John Clovis, music supervisor.

Driver Loses License Under Demerit System

LISBON — Paul L. Crowe, 33, of Columbiana has lost his driving license for a year under the state's 12-point demerit system.

Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp suspended the permit after a report from the State Department of Motor Vehicles showed these four violations:

Columbiana mayor's court, 2 points for crashing a red light Feb. 6 and 6 points for leaving the scene of an accident Feb. 7; Lisbon mayor's court, June 10, 1958, 2 points for driving an unsafe vehicle, and Feb. 3, 1958, in Canfield major's court, 2 points for driving left of center.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Allen And 'Maverick' Continue Feud

Nothing like a crackling feud to perk up things and offer relief from the ominous "ifs" intoned by the Dr. Frank Stantons and the Robert W. Sarnoffs at that broadcasters' convention in Chicago.

Marie Torre

There hasn't been a good tiff in TV since Ed Sullivan publicly called Steve Allen "a punk," and now Allen — our choice for "old reliable" honors—appears to have brought us another.

He's taken on "Maverick."

A week ago Sunday, you remember, Allen's show began at 7:30 (instead of 8), same time as "Maverick," and when Trendex reported that the Western had given all opponents a drubbing, Allen issued a statement to the effect that he wasn't "surprised."

-:-

"IN FACT," he added, "I would have been astounded had it turned out the other way. The youngsters from ages 5 to 12 rule the American home early Sunday evening and they naturally will prefer a good Western to a relatively sophisticated comedy program as ours."

An inoffensive remark, you'd think, until you know what "Maverick" producer Roy Huggins attributes to the success of his brainchild. He is "surprised" at Allen's statement.

"Kids from 5 to 12 watch our show!" Mr. Huggins exclaimed with incredulity. "I always figured it out differently. I've always thought that the intellectuals watch Ed Sullivan, the Western fans watch Allen, and the people who hate Westerns watch 'Maverick.'

"When we go off at 8:30 on Sundays," Huggins continued, "Allen's rating invariably jumps 25 per cent. I'd take that to mean that when the so - called sophisticates haven't 'Maverick' to watch, they turn, not to Sullivan, but to Allen's relatively sophisticated show.

"I'm really surprised at Allen for saying what he did. I'd call it a bitter, grouchy statement. Five- to 12-year-olds! Is he kidding? How old is Oscar Hammerstein? And Jerry Lewis? And Oscar Levant? They're all 'Maverick' fans."

-:-

IN THE INTEREST of preserving American ideals, we certainly hope the kids are not watching "Maverick." Awfully corrupting stuff! That Maverick fellow is forever attributing "old sayings" to his "Pappy" and in that way he gets off some of the most irreverent assaults on people and things. Such as:

"You can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, and those are very good odds."

"Love is the only thing on earth you have to earn. Everything else you can steal."

"There are times when a man must rise above principle."

"Marriage is the only game of chance I know of in which both parties can lose."

And once, in response to the question: "Do you think you'll ever amount to anything?" Maverick replied: "Of course, I will. My pappy told me once, 'Son, you're shifty, self-centered, and you know the value of a dollar. You'll die wealthy and honored.' "

For goodness sake, Allen, tell us that kids are not watching Maverick!

A NEWCOMER to the private eye ranks next season will be "Philip Marlowe," based on the exploits of Raymond Chandler's fictional detective. NBC will launch the series, which will star Philip Carey.

Some soap operas will be tossed out of the afternoon NBC radio schedule to make room for a two-hour musical variety show with Frank Blair and Don Russell as co-hosts. It'll be known as "It's Network Time," and it will be preoccupied with entertainment "in the best traditions of network radio," meaning no allegiance to rock 'n' roll disharmony or "Top 40" recording hits. . . .

As narrator of William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy" on NBC next Saturday, Burgess Meredith will be heard but not seen. . . .

Mickey Rooney's "Eddie," the one-character play originally shown on TV last November, will be repeated on "Alcoa Theater" April 6 "by popular request" — if not that, certainly management's desire to save a little money.

Lisbon Street Head Retained Through 1960

Blacktopping Plans Delayed For Survey Of Needs And Costs

LISBON — Thirl Flugan was reappointed as street commissioner for the term of April 1 through Feb. 1, 1960, at the newly increased annual salary of $4,680 at Village Council's meeting Monday night. He has been commissioner the past year and is also acting fire chief.

In other business, Councilmen heard a report on proposed blacktopping by Robert Kelm of the street committee but the group suggested the condition of all streets be checked to determine which needs attention first and to ascertain the cost.

Council pointed out it has a limited amount to spend on streets this year and, due to the severe winter, most are in poor condition.

A bid of $7.30 per ton was received from the Youngstown Asphalt Co. One ton was estimated to cover 10 square yards, 2 inches thick, Council said. This does not include the expense labor for applying and rolling it.

Costs of placing a blinker light at W. Lincoln Way and Thomas Rd. was discussed with one bid for $550.

Council decided to obtain other bids before deciding definitely. The Board of Education has offered to pay $150 towards the project, for the safety of school children.

A letter was read from Mrs. R. C. Conkle, 510 W. Lincoln Way, in regards to an alley just west of Green St. Her home borders the alley and she complained that because of parking of cars she is unable to enter her garage. Mrs. Thelma Hall, solicitor, was instructed to investigate and contact her.

The ordinance banning parking of trucks on state routes through the community was mentioned again but no action was taken. Truckers recently protested to Council after it was enforced for the first time in years with a couple of arrests. Council had agreed to study the situation.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was given permission to hold a street fair June 3-6 on S. Market St. and S. Park Ave. after a delegation presented a list of merchants who have consented.

Proceeds will be used for recreational facilities at the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool, according to William Jones, chairman. He said the group will contact Heck's Amusements of East Liverpool for the concessions. Other Jaycees present were Gene Tollson, president, and Don Lepley.

The next meeting will be April 13.

Navy To Unveil First All-Weather Helicopter Today

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Navy's first all-weather helicopter, the turbine - powered Sikorsky HSS2, makes its public debut today.

Styled with a boat-type hull that enables it to land on and take off from water in emergencies, the big craft has twin gas turbine engines for greater load lifting capability, faster crusing speed and longer combat range.

Navy officials, military observers and newsmen were invited to the Sikorsky plant for the first public flight demonstration, which included landings on the nearby Housatonic River.

The Navy has awarded Sikorsky Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp. a 32-million-contract to develop and build the HSS2, and initial production is under way. The number to be produced is secret, as are data on size and performance.

The Navy describes the machine, sometimes known as a turbocopter, as "the latest antisubmarine weapons system, the first helicopter that can both search out and destroy enemy submarines."

Sikorsky officials said the new helicopter carries improved submarine detection gear and an advanced navigation system, designed jointly by the Navy and Sikorsky.

3 Youths Charged In Kidnap Of Cabbie

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three youths who forced a Dayton taxicab driver at knife point to drive them to Dublin, Ind., Saturday, where they robbed him, have been charged with kidnaping.

Charges were filed Monday against Claude Akers, 19, of Surosa, W. Va.; his brother, Andy, 18, and Ronald Foster, 18, both of Dayton. The youths were arrested Sunday in Indianapolis and were later taken to a Richmond, Ind., jail where they were charged with auto banditry.

Stroke Fatal At 89

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Sarah Sabina McFall, 89, mother of Jack K. McFall, former U.S. ambassador to Finland, died Monday of a stroke. McFall also was a former assistant secretary of state under Secretary Dean Acheson. Mrs. McFall was born in Sullivan, Ind.

Chamber Gives Warning Against Spring Rackets

Warning East Liverpool district householders against "rackets that bloom in the spring," the Chamber of Commerce today cited a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau declaring that some unscrupulous operators take advantage of the season's first warm weather to attempt to hoax the public.

The Chamber warned especially against phony "tree surgeons," hawkers of fake "humus" or lawn dressing, bogus "termite experts" and fake "roofing experts" and added that the itinerant swindlers generally work door-to-door in residential districts.

It also cited the BBB's warning against self-styled furnace repair experts who dismantle a furnace and then declare that it is dangerous and beyond repair.

"If asked to reassemble the furnace, they say that they cannot assume responsibility for a worn-out dangerous furnace," the BBB bulletin said. "If the frightened home owner agrees to buy a new furnace, the gyp charges an enormous price for an inferior installation that wasn't needed in the first place."

The Chamber's warning also covers "offers of combination storm windows and doors at extremely low prices." It declared that "a minority of unscrupulous firms in this field use these offers as 'bait' and then try to switch the home-owner to a more expensive product."

A small minority of mail order offers of flowers and bulbs also have proved questionable, the BBB's bulletin said.

In the building and home repair field, home-owners should guard against the so-called 'model home' racket, in which unscrupulous promoters pretend to give bargain prices to persons who will let the builder show the completed job to other prospective customers, the Chamber warned. It added that commissions sometimes are offered to the home-owner for sales made via the "model home" offer. But, it warned, such offers have proved to be "come-on devices used by unscrupulous building firms." The Chamber warned that the actual charges "frequently are excessive, the work often is inferior and no commissions are forthcoming."

The Chamber issued this seven-point reminder from the BBB to help householders guard against rackets:

1. Beware the man who rings the doorbell and says that he "just happened to be in the neighborhood" with his gardening supplies or home repair equipment. Do not permit such persons to perform any work on the premises until information has been obtained concerning the firm and its reliability.

2. Check "amazing" bargain offers before any money is spent or any investment is made. If a mail-order offer is involved, secure information on the firm before remitting money.

3. Beware of salesmen who use the so-called "model home pitch." It is a standard sales approach of unscrupulous promoters.

4. Beware of "bait" advertising. Do not do business with any firm which knocks its own advertised goods and attempts to switch you to something else.

5. Secure price quotations from firms of established reputation on all landscaping improvements or home repairs.

6. Read and understand all written agreements and contracts that you are asked to sign. Do not sign until you are satisfied concerning all specifications and until you are sure that you want to go ahead. Be sure that all promises or representations are contained in writing in the contract.

7. Seek information for the Chamber on persons or firms not known to you personally.

Top Senators Optimistic On Berlin Accord

See Inch-By-Inch Process, However, In Summit Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential senators expressed cautious optimism today that some agreement on Berlin can be reached at forthcoming foreign minister and summit conferences with the Soviets.

There was a general feeling among five veteran members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, that negotiations with the Soviets will prove to be an inch-by-inch process and may require many months to produce tangible results.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) said the West ought not to expect any great accomplishments from any single meeting with the Soviets, even at the summit.

"We are going to have to inch along toward better relations and it may take several summit meetings to gain any real agreement," Humphrey said.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a separate interview that Americans ought not to get their hopes too high.

"All our problems are not going to be settled by either a foreign minister or summit conference," he said. "It may take years before the suspicions between the East and the West are allayed sufficiently to bring about any really substantial agreements."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) said that if the West believes it can accept the premise that the Soviets don't want war, then there may be increased hope of a settlement.

"We have to take into consideration also the vital question of whether the Kremlin would keep any agreements that might be made," he said. "Any of these are going to have to contain some advantages for both sides to be effective."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the success or failure of efforts to reach agreement depends largely on the Soviets.

"If the Soviets are sincere about negotiating, that fact should show up quickly at the foreign ministers meeting," he said.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said he thinks Soviet Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev may be genuinely uneasy about the Soviet position in East Germany and may be willing to make some concessions to get rid of responsibilities there.

U.S. Described Meshed In UN By Treaty Clauses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The United States government has been meshed into the United Nations by means of treaty clauses, the 60th annual conference of the Ohio Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was told Monday.

Mrs. Frederic A. Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., president general of the national society of the DAR said the U.S. constitution is subordinated to the UN by "clever use—or misuse — of the treaty clause."

She told the opening session of the three-day conference:

"The United Nations has established a host of international bureaus and agencies, with vast powers over world political, social and economic agencies. . . .

"The result is that today organs of the United Nations and its subsidiaries have a decisive influences on our foreign policies, our tariffs, agriculture, investment, social welfare and even our defense."

The four primary divisions of the human body are the head, neck, trunk, and extremities.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Allen And 'Maverick' Continue Feud

Nothing like a crackling feud to perk up things and offer relief from the ominous "ifs" intoned by the Dr. Frank Stantons and the Robert W. Sarnoffs at that broadcasters' convention in Chicago.

Marie Torre

There hasn't been a good tiff in TV since Ed Sullivan publicly called Steve Allen "a punk," and now Allen — our choice for "old reliable" honors—appears to have brought us another.

He's taken on "Maverick."

A week ago Sunday, you remember, Allen's show began at 7:30 (instead of 8), same time as "Maverick," and when Trendex reported that the Western had given all opponents a drubbing, Allen issued a statement to the effect that he wasn't "surprised."

-:-

"IN FACT," he added, "I would have been astounded had it turned out the other way. The youngsters from ages 5 to 12 rule the American home early Sunday evening and they naturally will prefer a good Western to a relatively sophisticated comedy program as ours."

An inoffensive remark, you'd think, until you know what "Maverick" producer Roy Huggins attributes to the success of his brainchild. He is "surprised" at Allen's statement.

"Kids from 5 to 12 watch our show!" Mr. Huggins exclaimed with incredulity. "I always figured it out differently. I've always thought that the intellectuals watch Ed Sullivan, the Western fans watch Allen, and the people who hate Westerns watch 'Maverick.'

"When we go off at 8:30 on Sundays," Huggins continued, "Allen's rating invariably jumps 25 per cent. I'd take that to mean that when the so - called sophisticates haven't 'Maverick' to watch, they turn, not to Sullivan, but to Allen's relatively sophisticated show.

"I'm really surprised at Allen for saying what he did. I'd call it a bitter, grouchy statement. Five- to 12-year-olds! Is he kidding? How old is Oscar Hammerstein? And Jerry Lewis? And Oscar Levant? They're all 'Maverick' fans."

-:-

IN THE INTEREST of preserving American ideals, we certainly hope the kids are not watching "Maverick." Awfully corrupting stuff! That Maverick fellow is forever attributing "old sayings" to his "Pappy" and in that way he gets off some of the most irreverent assaults on people and things. Such as:

"You can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, and those are very good odds."

"Love is the only thing on earth you have to earn. Everything else you can steal."

"There are times when a man must rise above principle."

"Marriage is the only game of chance I know of in which both parties can lose."

And once, in response to the question: "Do you think you'll ever amount to anything?" Maverick replied: "Of course, I will. My pappy told me once, 'Son, you're shifty, self-centered, and you know the value of a dollar. You'll die wealthy and honored.'"

For goodness sake, Allen, tell us that kids are not watching Maverick!

A NEWCOMER to the private eye ranks next season will be "Philip Marlowe," based on the exploits of Raymond Chandler's fictional detective. NBC will launch the series, which will star Philip Carey.

Some soap operas will be tossed out of the afternoon NBC radio schedule to make room for a two-hour musical variety show with Frank Blair and Don Russell as co-hosts. It'll be known as "It's Network Time," and it will be preoccupied with entertainment "in the best traditions of network radio," meaning no allegiance to rock 'n' roll disharmony or "Top 40" recording hits. . . .

As narrator of William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy" on NBC next Saturday, Burgess Meredith will be heard but not seen. . . .

Mickey Rooney's "Eddie," the one-character play originally shown on TV last November, will be repeated on "Alcoa Theater" April 6 "by popular request" — if not that, certainly management's desire to save a little money.

Lisbon Street Head Retained Through 1960

Blacktopping Plans Delayed For Survey Of Needs And Costs

LISBON — Thirl Flugan was reappointed as street commissioner for the term of April 1 through Feb. 1, 1960, at the newly increased annual salary of $4,680 at Village Council's meeting Monday night. He has been commissioner the past year and is also acting fire chief.

In other business, Councilmen heard a report on proposed blacktopping by Robert Kelm of the street committee but the group suggested the condition of all streets be checked to determine which needs attention first and to ascertain the cost.

Council pointed out it has a limited amount to spend on streets this year and, due to the severe winter, most are in poor condition.

A bid of $7.30 per ton was received from the Youngstown Asphalt Co. One ton was estimated to cover 10 square yards, 2 inches thick, Council said. This does not include the expense labor for applying and rolling it.

Costs of placing a blinker light at W. Lincoln Way and Thomas Rd. was discussed with one bid for $550.

Council decided to obtain other bids before deciding definitely. The Board of Education has offered to pay $150 towards the project, for the safety of school children.

A letter was read from Mrs. R. C. Conkle, 510 W. Lincoln Way, in regards to an alley just west of Green St. Her home borders the alley and she complained that because of parking of cars she is unable to enter her garage. Mrs. Thelma Hall, solicitor, was instructed to investigate and contact her.

The ordinance banning parking of trucks on state routes through the community was mentioned again but no action was taken. Truckers recently protested to Council after it was enforced for the first time in years with a couple of arrests. Council had agreed to study the situation.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was given permission to hold a street fair June 3-6 on S. Market St. and S. Park Ave. after a delegation presented a list of merchants who have consented.

Proceeds will be used for recreational facilities at the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool, according to William Jones, chairman. He said the group will contact Heck's Amusements of East Liverpool for the concessions. Other Jaycees present were Gene Tollson, president, and Don Lepley.

The next meeting will be April 13.

Navy To Unveil First All-Weather Helicopter Today

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Navy's first all-weather helicopter, the turbine - powered Sikorsky HSS2, makes its public debut today.

Styled with a boat-type hull that enables it to land on and take off from water in emergencies, the big craft has twin gas turbine engines for greater load lifting capability, faster crusing speed and longer combat range.

Navy officials, military observers and newsmen were invited to the Sikorsky plant for the first public flight demonstration, which included landings on the nearby Housatonic River.

The Navy has awarded Sikorsky Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp. a 32-million-contract to develop and build the HSS2, and initial production is under way. The number to be produced is secret, as are data on size and performance.

The Navy describes the machine, sometimes known as a turbocopter, as "the latest antisubmarine weapons system, the first helicopter that can both search out and destroy enemy submarines."

Sikorsky officials said the new helicopter carries improved submarine detection gear and an advanced navigation system, designed jointly by the Navy and Sikorsky.

3 Youths Charged In Kidnap Of Cabbie

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three youths who forced a Dayton taxicab driver at knife point to drive them to Dublin, Ind., Saturday, where they robbed him, have been charged with kidnaping.

Charges were filed Monday against Claude Akers, 19, of Surosa, W. Va.; his brother, Andy, 18, and Ronald Foster, 18, both of Dayton. The youths were arrested Sunday in Indianapolis and were later taken to a Richmond, Ind., jail where they were charged with auto banditry.

Stroke Fatal At 89

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Sarah Sabina McFall, 89, mother of Jack K. McFall, former U.S. ambassador to Finland, died Monday of a stroke. McFall also was a former assistant secretary of state under Secretary Dean Acheson. Mrs. McFall was born in Sullivan, Ind.

Chamber Gives Warning Against Spring Rackets

Warning East Liverpool district householders against "rackets that bloom in the spring," the Chamber of Commerce today cited a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau declaring that some unscrupulous operators take advantage of the season's first warm weather to attempt to hoax the public.

The Chamber warned especially against phony "tree surgeons," hawkers of fake "humus" or lawn dressing, bogus "termite experts" and fake "roofing experts" and added that the itinerant swindlers generally work door-to-door in residential districts.

It also cited the BBB's warning against self-styled furnace repair experts who dismantle a furnace and then declare that it is dangerous and beyond repair.

"If asked to reassemble the furnace, they say that they cannot assume responsibility for a worn-out dangerous furnace," the BBB bulletin said. "If the frightened home owner agrees to buy a new furnace, the gyp charges an enormous price for an inferior installation that wasn't needed in the first place."

The Chamber's warning also covers "offers of combination storm windows and doors at extremely low prices." It declared that "a minority of unscrupulous firms in this field use these offers as 'bait' and then try to switch the home-owner to a more expensive product."

A small minority of mail order offers of flowers and bulbs also have proved questionable, the BBB's bulletin said.

In the building and home repair field, home-owners should guard against the so-called 'model home' racket, in which unscrupulous promoters pretend to give bargain prices to persons who will let the builder show the completed job to other prospective customers, the Chamber warned. It added that commissions sometimes are offered to the homeowner for sales made via the "model home" offer. But, it warned, such offers have proved to be "come-on devices used by unscrupulous building firms." The Chamber warned that the actual charges "frequently are excessive, the work often is inferior and no commissions are forthcoming."

The Chamber issued this seven-point reminder from the BBB to help householders guard against rackets:

1. Beware the man who rings the doorbell and says that he "just happened to be in the neighborhood" with his gardening supplies or home repair equipment. Do not permit such persons to perform any work on the premises until information has been obtained concerning the firm and its reliability.

2. Check "amazing" bargain offers before any money is spent or any investment is made. If a mail-order offer is involved, secure information on the firm before remitting money.

3. Beware of salesmen who use the so-called "model home pitch." It is a standard sales approach of unscrupulous promoters.

4. Beware of "bait" advertising. Do not do business with any firm which knocks its own advertised goods and attempts to switch you to something else.

5. Secure price quotations from firms of established reputation on all landscaping improvements or home repairs.

6. Read and understand all written agreements and contracts that you are asked to sign. Do not sign until you are satisfied concerning all specifications and until you are sure that you want to go ahead. Be sure that all promises or representations are contained in writing in the contract.

7. Seek information for the Chamber on persons or firms not known to you personally.

Top Senators Optimistic On Berlin Accord

See Inch-By-Inch Process, However, In Summit Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential senators expressed cautious optimism today that some agreement on Berlin can be reached at forthcoming foreign minister and summit conferences with the Soviets.

There was a general feeling among five veteran members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, that negotiations with the Soviets will prove to be an inch-by-inch process and may require many months to produce tangible results.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) said the West ought not to expect any great accomplishments from any single meeting with the Soviets, even at the summit.

"We are going to have to inch along toward better relations and it may take several summit meetings to gain any real agreement," Humphrey said.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a separate interview that Americans ought not to get their hopes too high.

"All our problems are not going to be settled by either a foreign minister or summit conference," he said. "It may take years before the suspicions between the East and the West are allayed sufficiently to bring about any really substantial agreements."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) said that if the West believes it can accept the premise that the Soviets don't want war, then there may be increased hope of a settlement.

"We have to take into consideration also the vital question of whether the Kremlin would keep any agreements that might be made," he said. "Any of these are going to have to contain some advantages for both sides to be effective."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the success or failure of efforts to reach agreement depends largely on the Soviets.

"If the Soviets are sincere about negotiating, that fact should show up quickly at the foreign ministers meeting," he said.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said he thinks Soviet Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev may be genuinely uneasy about the Soviet position in East Germany and may be willing to make some concessions to get rid of responsibilities there.

U.S. Described Meshed In UN By Treaty Clauses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The United States government has been meshed into the United Nations by means of treaty clauses, the 60th annual conference of the Ohio Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was told Monday.

Mrs. Frederic A. Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., president general of the national society of the DAR said the U.S. constitution is subordinated to the UN by "clever use—or misuse — of the treaty clause."

She told the opening session of the three-day conference:

"The United Nations has established a host of international bureaus and agencies, with vast powers over world political, social and economic agencies. . . .

"The result is that today organs of the United Nations and its subsidiaries have a decisive influences on our foreign policies, our tariffs, agriculture, investment, social welfare and even our defense."

The four primary divisions of the human body are the head, neck, trunk, and extremities.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a mother who is afraid to come home from shopping without gifts for her three children?

I've seen this woman run herself dizzy trying to get "something different," and this is no small feat, when one considers her children already have everything under the sun that money can buy.

When she can't find a gift, she gives them each a dollar bill "so they won't feel that Mummy has forgotten them." I wouldn't care, except this woman is my wife and I think she's making a terrible mistake. She claims the kids have a feeling of security when Mummy remembers them on every shopping trip.

Is she right? Please discuss this in your column. When she uses those high-sounding phrases. I'm no match for her.—OUT-TALKED.

Dear Out: When a mother is so driven that she must bring home a gift for her children every time she returns from a shopping trip (or pay off in cash) something is wrong. It means she feels guilty about not "delivering" in other areas and is trying to make up for it.

Children would much rather have time spent on them than money. The smallest child knows when he is being bribed. So, tell your wife to get smart. The best gift a mother and father can give their children cannot be bought in any store. It is love, attention, patience and time together—and it doesn't cost a dime.

Double Life

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago when I was 17 I came to the city to find work. Things were tough. This is a manufacturing town and the two big plants were on strike.

I won't make excuses for myself. I should have gone home and I know it. Instead, I moved in with a bartender who promised to get me a waitress job. I'll call him Ted.

Most people think Ted and I are married. On the mailbox it says Ted and Mary ——. We split the rent, groceries, light and gas bills. I buy my own clothes. Ted says he "cares for me" (avoids the word "love") but he claims marriage spoils everything. In the meantime, he's jealous of any man who looks at me.

Now I've met a saint who believes I'm the answer to his prayers. He's asked me to marry him. He thinks the guy I'm living with is my brother. I'm a nervous wreck trying to keep the truth from him.

If he knew the score, I'm afraid he'd be so disillusioned he'd die. I'm only 19 but I look like 30 because of all I've been through. Can you help me?—TANGERINE.

Dear Tangerine: If you don't own a suitcase, get a large box and move out at once. Tell "The Saint" everything. A marriage based on lies is sure to crumble. You'll soon look like 90 if you try to play this double game.

You owe Ted nothing. He had two years in which to marry you if he wanted to. Now that you have a chance to be decent and respectable—grab it. But play it straight.

Share Or Scream

Dear Ann: I'm never hungry in the morning and I just can't eat breakfast. I always bring some cookies to work and about 10 o'clock I take them out of the sack.

A couple of girls in this office get big eyes whenever they see a cookie. I've suggested we pool our money and buy a big box of cookies for everyone but the answer is always the same, "We're on a diet."

I hate to be nasty but I can't supply cookies for the entire office. They continue to ask and I do a slow burn. Is there a solution?—VEE.

-:-

Dear Vee: A few cookies aren't worth high blood pressure. If you can't spend 39 cents once every few months, just to be a sport, then excuse yourself at 10 o'clock and go down the hall and eat the cookies in private.

Confidentially

Could Use U.S. Money, Though

Governors Want No U.S. Standards On Jobless Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has received these views on unemployment compensation from eight governors: The states want no federal standards but they could use federal money in an emergency.

The governors, representing the executive committee of the Governors Conference, issued a statement summarizing their views after meeting with the President Monday.

In essence, their statement agreed with Eisenhower's feelings. He, too, said the states should continue to set their own separate standards on unemployment compensation.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told newsmen the administration would ask Congress to make two important changes in the program.

One would extend coverage to about 3,200,000 more workers. At present, only employers of four or more workers must join the plan. Mitchell said the administration wants all employers in. It also wants some employes of nonprofit institutions covered.

The other would raise the base for payroll taxes. At present, employers pay on the first $3,000 of a worker's wage. Mitchell said this should be raised to $4,200. The present average tax is less than 2 per cent.

Mitchell said the President recommended that the states increase their benefits so the unemployed receive at least half the wages they were getting when they had jobs. At present benefits range from $26 per week in South Carolina to $45 per week in New York.

He said a second major proposal was that states pay benefits for at least 26 weeks. The range is from 16 weeks maximum in Florida to 45 weeks in Pennsylvania.

Young Actress Finds Solitude Away From Hollywood Life

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Actress Diane Varsi apparently found today the solitude she wanted in her escape from the glamor of Hollywood.

A small knot of newsmen and photographers was the only reception committee when the 21-year-old actress arrived Monday with her ½-year-old son, Shawn.

No one was there to show her to her modest four-room apartment, first floor rear of a three-story wood and stucco building.

Stoical Vermonters went about their own business.

After a 15-minute wait outside the house in chilly temperature, Mary Marshall, the landlady, arrived with the key and showed Miss Varsi to the sparsely furnished apartment.

Reporters carried in two canvas suitcases and a wicker basket, the only luggage the blonde actress brought with her. Shawn carried a tiny toy dog.

She said she decided to settle in this town of 13,000 population in Vermont's rolling hills because she knew some girls who attended Bennington College.

The starlet quit Hollywood last week because she thought it was destroying her. She flew to Chicago and then, Monday, to Albany, N.Y.

Miss Varsi had planned to take a bus for the 40-mile trip from Albany to Bennington, but an American Airlines representative volunteered to drive her in his car.

House Group To Hear DiSalle On Capital Punishment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill to end capital punishment in Ohio, recently reported unlikely to receive House Judiciary Committee approval, will get the support of the state's No. 1 citizen.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appears before the committee today to support the measure. House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) invited DiSalle to appear before the committee as a citizen.

The governor told newsmen Monday:

"I have a few things to tell them that no one else in Ohio can tell them. After all, I live with those convicts. My wife and children are alone with eight to 10 of those who have been convicted."

He referred to first degree murderers serving life sentences who work at the governor's mansion. His chauffeur is also a convict.

Following a meeting with Lantz and Sen. Frank W. King (D-Lucas), Senate majority leader, DiSalle said the legislators are considering creating a special committee of both Senate and House members to study proposed changes in the school foundation program. Such a blue ribbon committee Statehouse veterans said, has not been used for nearly 30 years.

DiSalle said the committee will hold hearings on finances, equalization and other school problems and would make recommendations to education committees in both houses.

The governor also announced that a proposed constitutional amendment giving him the power for partial vetoes apparently will not go on the ballot for a popular vote. DiSalle said it might cost $80,000 and would not be worth it.

Dayton Police Break Moonshine Operation

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One of the biggest moonshine operations ever uncovered in this city was broken up Monday night with the arrest of two men and the confiscation of 600 gallons of the illegal liquor.

Charged with possessing a still, untaxed liquor and untaxed liquor for sale were Samuel Hearn, 33, and John Dubois, 35, both of Dayton.

Vice squadmen said they discovered a 400-gallon capacity still when they raided a west side house rented by the two men.

Illinois Will Try Confessed Slayer On Felony First

CHICAGO (AP) — A West Virginia sheriff says Cook County officials have declined to surrender a prisoner charged with two murders in West Virginia until after he is tried on a felony indictment here.

The man is Nick Petrou, 53, an ex-convict. Police said Petrou confessed on March 18 to the 1955 slaying of two Clarksburg, W. Va., women during a robbery attempt.

Petrou has been indicted in Cook County for assault to murder, burglary and robbery. He was arrested Jan. 25 after a gun battle in the north side apartment of his former wife, now Mrs. Cora Christfalos.

Sheriff Rex Bumgardner of Harrison County, W. Va., said Benjamin Adamowski, Cook County state's attorney, has notified Robert Zeigler, Harrison County Prosecutor, that he would surrender Petrou to West Virginia authorities only after he is tried on the assault to murder charge here. No date has been set for that trial.

City Mason Receives Highest York Degree

Ernest Park MacKenzie, 1831 Harvey Ave., has been awarded the Knight of York Cross of Honour—the highest honorary degree in the York Rite of Freemasonry.

The degree is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite. He becomes the 7,211th to receive the award in the last 29 years, although there are 4 million members of the fraternity.

MacKenzie served as master of Riddle Masonic Lodge in 1950, high priest of East Liverpool Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, in 1953; master of Keramos Council, Royal and Select Masters, in 1952, and commander of Pilgrim Commandery, Knights Templar, in 1958.

He was elected to membership in the Ohio Priory and the election was confirmed by the Covent General of the order on March 17. There are 58 Priories in North America with a membership of 5,500.

Need Seen For Small Liberal Arts Colleges

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite a trend toward mass education, there is still a great need for small liberal arts colleges, the president of Lake Erie College says.

Paul Weaver, president of the girls college in Painesville, expressed his opinion Monday as the college announced a fund drive to collect two million dollars for a new science building, infirmary, a theater and arts center, and modernization of part of college hall and the power plant.

Stoical Vermonters went about their own business.

After a 15-minute wait outside the house in chilly temperature, Mary Marshall, the landlady, arrived with the key and showed Miss Varsi to the sparsely furnished apartment.

Reporters carried in two canvas suitcases and a wicker basket, the only luggage the blonde actress brought with her. Shawn carried a tiny toy dog.

She said she decided to settle in this town of 13,000 population in Vermont's rolling hills because she knew some girls who attended Bennington College.

The starlet quit Hollywood last week because she thought it was destroying her. She flew to Chicago and then, Monday, to Albany, N.Y.

Miss Varsi had planned to take a bus for the 40-mile trip from Albany to Bennington, but an American Airlines representative volunteered to drive her in his car.

House Group To Hear DiSalle On Capital Punishment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill to end capital punishment in Ohio, recently reported unlikely to receive House Judiciary Committee approval, will get the support of the state's No. 1 citizen.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appears before the committee today to support the measure. House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) invited DiSalle to appear before the committee as a citizen.

The governor told newsmen Monday:

"I have a few things to tell them that no one else in Ohio can tell them. After all, I live with those convicts. My wife and children are alone with eight to 10 of those who have been convicted."

He referred to first degree murderers serving life sentences who work at the governor's mansion. His chauffeur is also a convict.

Following a meeting with Lantz and Sen. Frank W. King (D-Lucas), Senate majority leader, DiSalle said the legislators are considering creating a special committee of both Senate and House members to study proposed changes in the school foundation program. Such a blue ribbon committee Statehouse veterans said, has not been used for nearly 30 years.

DiSalle said the committee will hold hearings on finances, equalization and other school problems and would make recommendations to education committees in both houses.

The governor also announced that a proposed constitutional amendment giving him the power for partial vetoes apparently will not go on the ballot for a popular vote. DiSalle said it might cost $80,000 and would not be worth it.

Dayton Police Break Moonshine Operation

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One of the biggest moonshine operations ever uncovered in this city was broken up Monday night with the arrest of two men and the confiscation of 600 gallons of the illegal liquor.

Charged with possessing a still, untaxed liquor and untaxed liquor for sale were Samuel Hearn, 33, and John Dubois, 35, both of Dayton.

Vice squadmen said they discovered a 400-gallon capacity still when they raided a west side house rented by the two men.

Illinois Will Try Confessed Slayer On Felony First

CHICAGO (AP) — A West Virginia sheriff says Cook County officials have declined to surrender a prisoner charged with two murders in West Virginia until after he is tried on a felony indictment here.

The man is Nick Petrou, 53, an ex-convict. Police said Petrou confessed on March 18 to the 1955 slaying of two Clarksburg, W. Va., women during a robbery attempt.

Petrou has been indicted in Cook County for assault to murder, burglary and robbery. He was arrested Jan. 25 after a gun battle in the north side apartment of his former wife, now Mrs. Cora Christfalos.

Sheriff Rex Bumgardner of Harrison County, W. Va., said Benjamin Adamowski, Cook County state's attorney, has notified Robert Zeigler, Harrison County Prosecutor, that he would surrender Petrou to West Virginia authorities only after he is tried on the assault to murder charge here. No date has been set for that trial.

City Mason Receives Highest York Degree

Ernest Park MacKenzie, 1831 Harvey Ave., has been awarded the Knight of York Cross of Honour—the highest honorary degree in the York Rite of Freemasonry.

The degree is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite. He becomes the 7,211th to receive the award in the last 29 years, although there are 4 million members of the fraternity.

MacKenzie served as master of Riddle Masonic Lodge in 1950, high priest of East Liverpool Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, in 1953; master of Keramos Council, Royal and Select Masters, in 1952, and commander of Pilgrim Commandery, Knights Templar, in 1958.

He was elected to membership in the Ohio Priory and the election was confirmed by the Covent General of the order on March 17. There are 58 Priories in North America with a membership of 5,500.

Need Seen For Small Liberal Arts Colleges

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite a trend toward mass education, there is still a great need for small liberal arts colleges, the president of Lake Erie College says.

Paul Weaver, president of the girls college in Painesville, expressed his opinion Monday as the college announced a fund drive to collect two million dollars for a new science building, infirmary, a theater and arts center, and modernization of part of college hall and the power plant.

Field Narrowed To 20 Teams In Wellsville Jaycee Tourney

8 More Contests Carded Tonight

By CHUCK CRONIN

Action continues at a rapid pace tonight in the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament with eight games on tap beginning at 6 at Beacom Memorial Gym.

The original 30-team field was narrowed to 20 following opening action Monday. Tonight's eight winners will advance to the quarter-finals Wednesday, with semi-finals slated Thursday and the championship and consolation games Saturday.

Grafton Motors, listing Toronto area cagers, and Tri-State Vending Co., a tournament "dark-horse," will clash in tonight's first game. Tri-State includes players from this year's champions of the City Basketball League, in addition to towering Jerry Neff, Dave Pugh and Phil Hayes.

Down for the second tilt tonight are Burton Ford, cagers from the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol, and Fitzsimmons Roofing & Heating, listing players from Wellsville.

The lower bracket favorite — Chuck Kennedy's — will battle Muzzy's Bar in the third game at 7:30. Kennedy's boasts former East Liverpool stars, including Bill Thornberry, George Parfitt and Bob Bickle, plus John Riser of Pitt fame. The bar entry features players from Midland.

Game No. 4 pits Titanium of Toronto against Maple Lane Coal of Steubenville. Reynolds Poultry, a winner Monday, goes against Bayless Gas in the fifth game. Bayless Gas is expected to be led by All-Ohio Woody Deitch, who starred this year at Salem High School.

American Billiards-Alex's Carryout meets Grafton's in the sixth game at 9:45, Tink Healey's Fulton Merchants tussle with strong Welcome Cafe at 10:30, and Height's Cafe meets Johnny's Lunch in tonight's finale at 11:15.

Favorites dominated the action Monday, with Welcome Cafe, boasting Geneva College stars, and Pangrazious Pizza of Dennison turning in impressive victories.

Welcome Cafe easily passed its opening test by trouncing Horsley's Studio, 45-27. Southpaw Tom Yancey scored 16 points for the winners, with big Nick Tepavich adding 9 from the pivot.

Prolific Don Schena, a Geneva Little-America choice, couldn't play with Welcome Cafe Monday, but is expected to make an appearance soon. Schena will participate in an attraction at Pittsburgh tonight with other area college cagers in a giants-midget game.

The Pizza Shop entry stamped itself as a real threat to Welcome Cafe by eliminating Wellsville Feed & Supply, 53-26. Towering Terry Deens rifled in 22 points for the Pizza squad and was the standout performer in the opening round.

In Monday's opening game, Reynolds Poultry roared past American Vitrified, 42-17. Kenny Brophey matched Deen's efforts by hitting 22 for the winners.

In the only forfeit of the opening round, Grafton Motors advanced after CIO Local 5047 failed to appear. American Billiards sidelined Berlin Center in the second tilt, 22-17.

Tink Healey's Fulton Merchants whipped Augusta, 39-29. Height's Cafe of Steubenville sidetracked the Men's Shop of East Liverpool, 50-27. Chuck Clark led the winners with 19 points.

Another strong entry, Radio WMOD of Moundsville, romped over Isaly's by 35-25. Thorofare of East Liverpool routed the 45 St. Recreation of Wellsville, 31-15, and Cravats Coal of Steubenville stayed awake long enough in a game after midnight to relegate SOI of Wellsville to the sidelines with an easy 45-17 triumph. Ferguson led Cravats with 12 points, and Sid Winland and Earl "Gabby" Finney led the losers with four points each.

Fifty-four trophies will be awarded at the climax of the tourney Saturday night. The Dover Basketeers will appear between the championship and consolation games Saturday night, Ralph Fusco, publicity chairman, said.

Sturdivant No Longer Listed As Trade Bait

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Erase one pitcher from the possible list of Washington Senators starters.

The name is Tom Sturdivant. He wears blue pin stripes and has a big "NY" on the front of his uniform.

The experts had him figured a cinch Senator by opening day April 9, but Monday he pitched like a Yankee should and it now appears he'll be staying in New York come cheery blossom time.

Sturdivant hardly looked like one of the expendables the Yanks reportedly have been using as trade bait for a front-line Washington pitcher.

The 6-1 Yankee, who finished 1958 in Manager Casey Stengel's doghouse, allowed only two hits in five innings. He walked three and struck out one. Both hits came in the same inning, but a double play ball got him out of trouble.

Another Yank with his job on the line, veteran pitcher Virgil Trucks, followed Sturdivant and pitched goose eggs for two innings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, hung a 10-6 defeat on Milwaukee, its 10th in 13 games. Lew Burdette gave up six runs and Bob Rush the other four, all in the big Dodger seventh.

The Detroit Tigers, finally getting both pitching and hitting won their fourth in a row, 15-5, over Cincinnati at Lakeland. Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Frank Bolling and Rocky Bridges combined for 13 of the Tigers' 19 hits.

The Philadelphia Phillies came up with an impressive rookie performance as 19-year-old Ed Keegan permitted St. Louis only one run in five innings, but it took a pinch grand slam homer by 38-year-old Dave Philley before St. Louis was beaten 9-5 at St. Petersburg.

Turk Lown, Don Rudolph and Bob Shaw combined in a six-hitter for the Chicago White Sox as Chicago scored five runs in the first two innings off Kansas City starter Walt Craddock. The 8-5 Chicago victory was the first taste of major league ball for Hollywood, Fla.

The Chicago Cubs, San Francisco, Boston, Cleveland, Washington and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Little Minor League Meeting Set Tonight

Plans for the coming season will be reviewed at a meeting of the Little Minor League tonight at 7:30 at the Travelers Hotel. Lionel Smurthewaite, president, will preside.

Martin Left Hard Feelings Among Tigers

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have a hot feud going with second baseman Billy Martin of the Cleveland Indians, a former Detroit outfielder reports.

Tito Francona, traded to the Indians by Detroit for Larry Doby, reported to the Tribe's training camp Monday.

Francona said hard feelings resulted from Martin's comment that several Detroit players were "not giving 100 per cent last year." Martin made the statement after Detroit traded him to Cleveland.

"The stories were posted on the bulletin board in the Tigers' clubhouse," Francona said, "and made some of the guys mad."

"They're layin' for Martin now," he added.

Francona, a 25-year-old outfielder who also plays first base, hasn't played regularly since 1956, his rookie year. He batted .258 in 30 games and hit nine homers for the Baltimore Orioles that year. He bats and throws left-handed.

"I just hope I get a chance to play here," he said.

Back From Tourney

A Chester delegation of six returned Sunday from Huntington where they attended the West Virginia high school basketball tournament. They were Max Tuttle, Dominic Amedeo, Dr. J. M. Brand, Kenneth Kimble, Dave Brookes and Robert McMahan.

Middlecoff Fires 275 To Win St. Pete Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If history repeats, Cary Middlecoff will win the Master's Tournament this year.

In 1955 the gangling golf jitterbug won the St. Petersburg Open and then went on to win at Augusta.

Monday he completed half of that parlay by again winning the St. Petersburg Open, and doing it in a manner to convince any doubters that a six-month layoff from tournament competition had improved his game, if anything.

He was as fidgety as ever, but when he settled down to stroke a putt there was no fooling about it. He sank the ball from all parts of the greens in compiling rounds of 70, 69, 67 and 69 for a 13-under-par total of 275, three strokes better than the second-place finisher, Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla.

The first day he trailed George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill.; Tom Mahan Jr. of Danvers, Mass., and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., by four strokes with his two-under-par 70.

At the half-way point he still was four strokes back of Bayer, who was leading with 135, and after three rounds he trailed Bob Goalby of Bellesville, Ill., the new leader, by a stroke.

He caught up with Goalby on the first hole of the final round, and thereafter crept slowly ahead. Goalby faded to a 75 and a third-place finish at 280; Cooper, only a stroke behind Middlecoff at the start of the final 18, carded a 71 and finished in second place at 278.

Alabama's smallest football squads were in 1806 and 1903. They each had 16 players.

FRED TAYLOR
Ohio State Basketball Coach To Speak Here.

Taylor To Speak At Cage Banquet

Fred Taylor, a teammate of John Karaffa's at Ohio State and now head cage coach there, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet honoring the East Liverpool High School basketball squad next Monday night.

The affair will be held at the American Legion Post 4 home beginning at 6:30. The dinner is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the East Liverpool High School Athletic Association.

Tickets are $2 and may be obtained at the high school or from Kiwanis Club members.

Taylor was named head basketball coach at Ohio State in June, 1958, replacing Floyd Stahl, who resigned his coaching duties in favor of administrative work.

Taylor has been a full-time member of the Buckeye coaching staff since the fall of 1953, serving as freshman basketball and baseball coach.

Karaffa and Taylor played together on the Ohio State teams of 1950 which went to the NCAA tourney, losing by one point in the playoffs to City College of New York.

Taylor, a native of Zanesville, also starred in baseball and was named to the All-American team in 1950.

Following his graduation from Ohio State in June 1950, Taylor signed a professional baseball contract with the Washington Senators.

He spent the 1950 season with Chattanooga of the Southern Association and the following year hit .296 and batted in 103 runs with the same club.

This earned him a trial with the Washington team and he divided the season between the Senators and Charleston.

In 1953, he was sold to Beaumont of the Texas League and had another good season, hitting 22 home runs and batting in 88 runs.

In the fall of 1953, he accepted a position with the Ohio State Athletic Department and has served on the athletic staff since.

His record this season was 11-11. Ohio State tied for fifth place in the Big Ten conference with a 7-7 mark.

Tri-State Tourney Receives First Entry For 34th Event

The Tri-State tournament received its first entry today when the Wig Wam Restaurant squad of London, Ohio, came into the fold.

Had Connel, tournament director, said this marks the first time that London has been represented in the tourney.

Connell also reminded district squads to get their entries in early since the field may be limited to 16 teams.

The 34th annual tournament will be held April 2, 3 and 4 and April 9, 10, and 11.

Gengarellas have won the title the last two years. If the team is entered this year and wins the title it will mark the first any squad has captured the trophy three times. Should this happen, a "three-year" trophy will be given. It was established in 1940, but no team has won it to date.

Lou Rossini of New York University has been named Coach-of-the-Year by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Assn. of New York. This is the first time in eight years the writers have selected a local coach.

Wells Qualifies In Seniors Event At St. Augustine

Joe Wells of Newell fired a 79 Monday at St. Augustine, Fla., to qualify for today's championship flight of the American Seniors Golf Association tournament.

Entrants had to shoot 80 or better to make the top round.

Eighteen holes of match play are on schedule today and the title round will be played Saturday.

The tournament is limited to golfers 55 years of age or older.

Michigan State's Men's Intramural Building contains a 125-by-127 foot dirt arena in which a baseball infield is laid out for winter practice.

Action Gets Underway Wednesday

3 East Tech Cagers Due In Nonpareil Tournament

Officials of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's Invitational tournament scheduled to get underway at Memorial Auditorium Wednesday have cut the field from 12 to 10 teams for the 12th annual affair.

A last minute change added one team and dropped three from the original field. Club officials cut Clover A. C., Chuck Brant A. C. and an entry from Farrell.

Officials said they wanted only the top clubs in the tourney and that was the reason for cutting the field to 10.

Gengarellas have come up with one of the strongest entries and at the present rate the team to beat. They have secured the services of Woody Deitch and Clyde Marks of Salem along with three seniors from Cleveland East Tech's Class "A" championship team and three cagers from Youngstown Chaney.

Gengarellas originally were to sponsor Aliquippa High but Eason Insurance will sponsor the Aliquippa team.

Bethel High School will be under the banner of Chambers Co. The other entries include West Virginia All-Stars, Tastee-Freeze, of East Liverpool and Wellsville, Uniontown, Cornecki A.C., Swissvale, Canton Presbyterian and Midland Legion.

Pairings for Wednesday night's opening round show Chambers and Cornecki meeting in the opener at 7, while Swissvale and Tastee Freeze clash at 7:30.

Highlighting Wednesday's schedule will be the West Virginia All-Stars going against Uniontown. The first two games will be sandwiched.

The top game of the evening will pit Canton Presbyterian, against Gengarellas.

No games will be played on Good Friday but semi-finals and finals will be held Saturday night.

Here's Schedule For Nonpareil Tourney

Detroit Belts Reds' Osteen

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—It looks as though young Claude Osteen must wait until next year at least to be a major league pitcher for his hometown Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds are starting to cut down their spring training roster and Osteen, despite a creditable curve and much ambition, seems destined to throw in the minors this season.

Detroit's Tigers, in Monday's exhibition, jumped on the 19-year-old southpaw for 12 runs on 14 hits, three walks and a balk, and went on to defeat Cincinnati, 15-5.

Pitching Coach Claude King said of Osteen: "He definitely should win in the majors, maybe not this season, but definitely in the next one or two. . . .

He has a lot of pitching savvy and a whale of a curve ball. And don't forget lefties with a good curve win in the big leagues."

Last season, throwing for Wenatche in the Northwest League, he finished 15 of his 17 starts and wound up with a 14-won, 14-lost record.

The Reds have lost six straight exhibition games. The team gets a new chance to reverse the trend today against Washington's Senators. Whammy Douglas and Hal Jeffcoat are booked to pitch for Cincinnati.

City League Playoffs Reset For Next Week

The playoffs in the City Basketball League set for Wednesday night have been postponed until sometime next week, Glenn Barnett, league president, said today. Most of the City League players are participating in tournaments around the district this week, Barnett added.

America's oldest intercollegiate athletic event, the Harvard-Yale crew regatta, will be held on the Thames River in New London, Conn., June 13.

Morrow To Save Best Races For Big Meets

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Olympic sprint champion Bobby Morrow has been running 9.3 hundreds but he says he isn't at his peak.

He doesn't want to be — he's saving that for the big meets like the National AAU, the United States-Soviet Union dual meet and the Pan-American Games.

Morrow was timed in 9.35 at Odessa, Tex., Saturday when he beat his arch rival, Dave Sime of Duke, in a special 100-yard dash that evened their sprint series. Each has beaten the other twice.

"If I'd known they were going to time like that—you can't time in the hundredths — I wouldn't have run," said Morrow. "I guess that's the only place in the world where they do that."

He said since he was timed past 9.3 it had to be 9.4, and that Sime was given a time of 9.4. "We weren't that close," said Morrow.

Anyway, Morrow is aiming at his next appearance — a special 100-meter dash at the Texas Relays in Austin April 4. He won that event in the Olympics of 1956. He has been timed in 10.2 for the 100 meters.

Morrow is ineligible for the relay meets because he has finished his college athletic eligibility and has to appear only in special races. He'll do the same at the Drake Relays.

He also is planning to run at Salt Lake City and the Coliseum and Modesto Relays in California.

Field Narrowed To 20 Teams In Wellsville Jaycee Tourney

8 More Contests Carded Tonight

By CHUCK CRONIN

Action continues at a rapid pace tonight in the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament with eight games on tap beginning at 6 at Beacom Memorial Gym.

The original 30-team field was narrowed to 20 following opening action Monday. Tonight's eight winners will advance to the quarter-finals Wednesday, with semi-finals slated Thursday and the championship and consolation games Saturday.

Here's Cage Schedule In Wellsville Tourney

TONIGHT

6—Grafton Motors vs. Tri-State Vending Co.

6:45—Burton Ford vs. Fitzsimmons Roofing & Heating

7:30—Chuck Kennedy's vs. Muzzy's Bar

8:15—Titanium vs. Maple Lane Coal

9—Reynolds Poultry vs. Bayless Gas

9:45—American Billiards - Alex's vs. Grafton's

10:30—Fulton Merchants vs. Welcome Cafe

11:15—Height's Cafe vs. Johnny's Lunch

Grafton Motors, listing Toronto area cagers, and Tri-State Vending Co., a tournament "dark-horse," will clash in tonight's first game. Tri-State includes players from this year's champions of the City Basketball League, in addition to towering Jerry Neff, Dave Pugh and Phil Hayes.

Down for the second tilt tonight are Burton Ford, cagers from the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol, and Fitzsimmons Roofing & Heating, listing players from Wellsville.

The lower bracket favorite — Chuck Kennedy's — will battle Muzzy's Bar in the third game at 7:30. Kennedy's boasts former East Liverpool stars, including Bill Thornberry, George Parfitt and Bob Bickle, plus John Riser of Pitt fame. The bar entry features players from Midland.

Game No. 4 pits Titanium of Toronto against Maple Lane Coal of Steubenville. Reynolds Poultry, a winner Monday, goes against Bayless Gas in the fifth game. Bayless Gas is expected to be led by All-Ohio Woody Deitch, who starred this year at Salem High School.

American Billiards-Alex's Carryout meets Grafton's in the sixth game at 9:45, Tink Healey's Fulton Merchants tussle with strong Welcome Cafe at 10:30, and Height's Cafe meets Johnny's Lunch in tonight's finale at 11:15.

Favorites dominated the action Monday, with Welcome Cafe, boasting Geneva College stars, and Pangrazious Pizza of Dennison turning in impressive victories.

Welcome Cafe easily passed its opening test by trouncing Horsley's Studio, 45-27. Southpaw Tom Yancey scored 16 points for the winners, with big Nick Tepavich adding 9 from the pivot.

Prolific Don Schena, a Geneva Little-America choice, couldn't play with Welcome Cafe Monday, but is expected to make an appearance soon. Schena will participate in an attraction at Pittsburgh tonight with other area college cagers in a giants-midget game.

The Pizza Shop entry stamped itself as a real threat to Welcome Cafe by eliminating Wellsville Feed & Supply, 53-26. Towering Terry Deens rifled in 22 points for the Pizza squad and was the standout performer in the opening round.

Deens Monday was named most valuable player in the Ohio Conference for the second straight year. He performed with Wittenberg College.

In Monday's opening game, Reynolds Poultry roared past American Vitrified, 42-17. Kenny Brophey matched Deen's efforts by hitting 22 for the winners.

In the only forfeit of the opening round, Grafton Motors advanced after CIO Local 5047 failed to appear. American Billiards sidelined Berlin Center in the second tilt, 22-17.

Tink Healey's Fulton Merchants whipped Augusta, 39-29. Height's Cafe of Steubenville sidetracked the Men's Shop of East Liverpool, 50-27. Chuck Clark led the winners with 19 points.

Another strong entry, Radio WMOD of Moundsville, romped over Isaly's by 35-25. Thorofare of East Liverpool routed the 45 St. Recreation of Wellsville, 31-15, and Cravats Coal of Steubenville stayed awake long enough in a game after midnight to relegate SOI of Wellsville to the sidelines with an easy 45-17 triumph. Ferguson led Cravats with 12 points, and Sid Winland and Earl "Gabby" Finney led the losers with four points each.

Fifty-four trophies will be awarded at the climax of the tourney Saturday night. The Dover Basketeers will appear between the championship and consolation games Saturday night, Ralph Fusco, publicity chairman, said.

Middlecoff Fires 275 To Win St. Pete Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If history repeats, Cary Middlecoff will win the Master's Tournament this year.

In 1955 the gangling golf jitterbug won the St. Petersburg Open and then went on to win at Augusta.

Monday he completed half of that parlay by again winning the St. Petersburg Open, and doing it in a manner to convince any doubters that a six-month layoff from tournament competition had improved his game, if anything.

He was as fidgety as ever, but when he settled down to stroke a putt there was no fooling about it. He sank the ball from all parts of the greens in compiling rounds of 70, 69, 67 and 69 for a 13-under-par total of 275, three strokes better than the second-place finisher, Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla.

The first day he trailed George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill.; Tom Mahan Jr. of Danvers, Mass., and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., by four strokes with his two-under-par 70.

At the half-way point he still was four strokes back of Bayer, who was leading with 135, and after three rounds he trailed Bob Goalby of Bellesville, Ill., the new leader, by a stroke.

He caught up with Goalby on the first hole of the final round, and thereafter crept slowly ahead. Goalby faded to a 75 and a third-place finish at 280; Cooper, only a stroke behind Middlecoff at the start of the final 18, carded a 71 and finished in second place at 278.

Alabama's smallest football squads were in 1806 and 1903. They each had 16 players.

Sturdivant No Longer Listed As Trade Bait

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Erase one pitcher from the possible list of Washington Senators starters.

The name is Tom Sturdivant. He wears blue pin stripes and has a big "NY" on the front of his uniform.

The experts had him figured a cinch Senator by opening day April 9, but Monday he pitched like a Yankee should and it now appears he'll be staying in New York come cheery blossom time.

Sturdivant was one of four Yankee right-handers who combined in a 5-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles at Miami. It was the first spring shutout for the Yanks.

Sturdivant hardly looked like one of the expendables the Yanks reportedly have been using as trade bait for a front-line Washington pitcher.

The 6-1 Yankee, who finished 1958 in Manager Casey Stengel's doghouse, allowed only two hits in five innings. He walked three and struck out one. Both hits came in the same inning, but a double play ball got him out of trouble.

Another Yank with his job on the line, veteran pitcher Virgil Trucks, followed Sturdivant and pitched goose eggs for two innings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, hung a 10-6 defeat on Milwaukee, its 10th in 13 games. Lew Burdette gave up six runs and Bob Rush the other four, all in the big Dodger seventh.

The Detroit Tigers, finally getting both pitching and hitting won their fourth in a row, 15-5, over Cincinnati at Lakeland. Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Frank Bolling and Rocky Bridges combined for 13 of the Tigers' 19 hits.

The Philadelphia Phillies came up with an impressive rookie performance as 19-year-old Ed Keegan permitted St. Louis only one run in five innings, but it took a pinch grand slam homer by 38-year-old Dave Philley before St. Louis was beaten 9-5 at St. Petersburg.

Turk Lown, Don Rudolph and Bob Shaw combined in a six-hitter for the Chicago White Sox as Chicago scored five runs in the first two innings off Kansas City starter Walt Craddock. The 8-5 Chicago victory was the first taste of major league ball for Hollywood, Fla.

The Chicago Cubs, San Francisco, Boston, Cleveland, Washington and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Little Minor League Meeting Set Tonight

Plans for the coming season will be reviewed at a meeting of the Little Minor League tonight at 7:30 at the Travelers Hotel. Lionel Smurthewaite, president, will preside.

Martin Left Hard Feelings Among Tigers

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have a hot feud going with second baseman Billy Martin of the Cleveland Indians, a former Detroit outfielder reports.

Tito Francona, traded to the Indians by Detroit for Larry Doby, reported to the Tribe's training camp Monday.

Francona said hard feelings resulted from Martin's comment that several Detroit players were "not giving 100 per cent last year." Martin made the statement after Detroit traded him to Cleveland.

"The stories were posted on the bulletin board in the Tigers' clubhouse," Francona said, "and made some of the guys mad."

"They're layin' for Martin now," he added.

Francona, a 25-year-old outfielder who also plays first base, hasn't played regularly since 1956, his rookie year. He batted .258 in 30 games and hit nine homers for the Baltimore Orioles that year. He bats and throws left-handed.

"I just hope I get a chance to play here," he said.

FRED TAYLOR

Ohio State Basketball Coach To Speak Here.

Taylor To Speak At Cage Banquet

Fred Taylor, a teammate of John Karaffa's at Ohio State and now head cage coach there, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet honoring the East Liverpool High School basketball squad next Monday night.

The affair will be held at the American Legion Post 4 home beginning at 6:30. The dinner is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the East Liverpool High School Athletic Association.

Tickets are $2 and may be obtained at the high school or from Kiwanis Club members.

Taylor was named head basketball coach at Ohio State in June, 1958, replacing Floyd Stahl, who resigned his coaching duties in favor of administrative work.

Taylor has been a full-time member of the Buckeye coaching staff since the fall of 1958, serving as freshman basketball and baseball coach.

Karaffa and Taylor played together on the Ohio State teams of 1950 which went to the NCAA tourney, losing by one point in the playoffs to City College of New York.

Taylor, a native of Zanesville, also starred in baseball and was named to the All-American team in 1950.

Following his graduation from Ohio State in June 1950, Taylor signed a professional baseball contract with the Washington Senators.

He spent the 1950 season with Chattanooga of the Southern Association and the following year hit .296 and batted in 103 runs with the same club.

This earned him a trial with the Washington team and he divided the season between the Senators and Charleston.

In 1953, he was sold to Beaumont of the Texas League and had another good season, hitting 22 home runs and batting in 88 runs.

In the fall of 1953, he accepted a position with the Ohio State Athletic Department and has served on the athletic staff since.

His record this season was 11-11. Ohio State tied for fifth place in the Big Ten conference with a 7-7 mark.

Tri-State Tourney Receives First Entry For 34th Event

The Tri-State tournament received its first entry today when the Wig Wam Restaurant squad of London, Ohio, came into the fold.

Had Connel, tournament director, said this marks the first time that London has been represented in the tourney.

Connell also reminded district squads to get their entries in early since the field may be limited to 16 teams.

The 34th annual tournament will be held April 2, 3 and 4 and April 9, 10, and 11.

Gengarellas have won the title the last two years. If the team is entered this year and wins the title it will mark the first any squad has captured the trophy three times. Should this happen, a "three-year" trophy will be given. It was established in 1940, but no team has won it to date.

Lou Rossini of New York University has been named Coach-of-the-Year by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Assn. of New York. This is the first time in eight years the writers have selected a local coach.

Wells Qualifies In Seniors Event At St. Augustine

Joe Wells of Newell fired a 79 Monday at St. Augistine, Fla., to qualify for today's championship flight of the American Seniors Golf Association tournament.

Entrants had to shoot 80 or better to make the top round.

Eighteen holes of match play are on schedule today and the title round will be played Saturday.

The tournament is limited to golfers 55 years of age or older.

Michigan State's Men's Intramural Building contains a 125-by-127 foot dirt arena in which a baseball infield is laid out for winter practice.

3 East Tech Cagers Due In Nonpareil Tournament

Officials of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's Invitational tournament scheduled to get underway at Memorial Auditorium Wednesday have cut the field from 12 to 10 teams for the 12th annual affair.

A last minute change added one team and dropped three from the original field. Club officials cut Clover A. C., Chuck Brant A. C. and an entry from Farrell.

Officials said they wanted only the top clubs in the tourney and that was the reason for cutting the field to 10.

Gengarellas have come up with one of the strongest entries and at the present rate the team to beat. They have secured the services of Woody Deitch and Clyde Marks of Salem along with three seniors from Cleveland East Tech's Class "A" championship team and three cagers from Youngstown Chaney.

Gengarellas originally were to sponsor Aliquippa High but Eason Insurance will sponsor the Aliquippa team.

Bethel High School will be under the banner of Chambers Co. The other entries include West Virginia All-Stars, Tastee-Freeze, of East Liverpool and Wellsville, Uniontown, Cornecki A.C., Swissvale, Canton Presbyterian and Midland Legion.

Pairings for Wednesday night's opening round show Chambers and Cornecki meeting in the opener at 7, while Swissvale and Tastee Freeze clash at 7:30.

Highlighting Wednesday's schedule will be the West Virginia All-Stars going against Uniontown. The first two games will be sandwiched.

Thursday's schedule shows the winner of the Chambers-Cornecki game meeting Eason's, while Midland Legion faces the winner of the Swissvale-Tastee Freeze game.

The top game of the evening will pit Canton Presbyterian, against Gengarellas.

No games will be played on Good Friday but semi-finals and finals will be held Saturday night.

Detroit Belts Reds' Osteen

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—It looks as though young Claude Osteen must wait until next year at least to be a major league pitcher for his hometown Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds are starting to cut down their spring training roster and Osteen, despite a creditable curve and much ambition, seems destined to throw in the minors this season.

Detroit's Tigers, in Monday's exhibition, jumped on the 19-year-old southpaw for 12 runs on 14 hits, three walks and a balk, and went on to defeat Cincinnati, 15-5.

Pitching Coach Claude King said of Osteen: "He definitely should win in the majors, maybe not this season, but definitely in the next one or two. . . .

He has a lot of pitching savvy and a whale of a curve ball. And don't forget lefties with a good curve win in the big leagues."

Last season, throwing for Wenatche in the Northwest League, he finished 15 of his 17 starts and wound up with a 14-won, 14-lost record.

The Reds have lost six straight exhibition games. The team gets a new chance to reverse the trend today against Washington's Senators. Whammy Douglas and Hal Jeffcoat are booked to pitch for Cincinnati.

America's oldest intercollegiate athletic event, the Harvard-Yale crew regatta, will be held on the Thames River in New London, Conn., June 13.

City League Playoffs Reset For Next Week

The playoffs in the City Basketball League set for Wednesday night have been postponed until sometime next week, Glenn Barnett, league president, said today. Most of the City League players are participating in tournaments around the district this week, Barnett added.

Morrow To Save Best Races For Big Meets

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Olympic sprint champion Bobby Morrow has been running 9.3 hundreds but he says he isn't at his peak.

He doesn't want to be — he's saving that for the big meets like the National AAU, the United States-Soviet Union dual meet and the Pan-American Games.

Morrow was timed in 9.35 at Odessa, Tex., Saturday when he beat his arch rival, Dave Sime of Duke, in a special 100-yard dash that evened their sprint series. Each has beaten the other twice.

"If I'd known they were going to time like that—you can't time in the hundredths — I wouldn't have run," said Morrow. "I guess that's the only place in the world where they do that."

He said since he was timed past 9.3 it had to be 9.4, and that Sime was given a time of 9.4. "We weren't that close," said Morrow.

Anyway, Morrow is aiming at his next appearance — a special 100-meter dash at the Texas Relays in Austin April 4. He won that event in the Olympics of 1956. He has been timed in 10.2 for the 100 meters.

Morrow is ineligible for the relay meets because he has finished his college athletic eligibility and has to appear only in special races. He'll do the same at the Drake Relays.

He also is planning to run at Salt Lake City and the Coliseum and Modesto Relays in California.

Gus Recalls Homer That Never Counted

MIAMI (AP)—Gus Triandos is the husky power guy who belted 30 home runs for Baltimore last season, tying the American League record for catchers. The homer he remembers best is one that didn't count.

"I hit it in the first inning at Detroit," he said, "but then it rained and the game was washed out. So was the home run."

That one would have put him in the record book all alone. As is, however, he isn't cramped for space. Only Yogi Berra has hit as many in one season among AL catchers, setting the record in 1952 and matching it in 1956. Ironically, Triandos is one of that legion of catchers who failed to budge Berra out of a job with the New York Yankees.

Triandos hit 13 of his 30 home runs at home. He hit only two against the Yankees, neither in New York. He had a .245 batting average for the season, .125 against the Yankees.

One of his homers against the champs, however, was a pip, backing up Hoyt Wilhelm's 1-0 no-hitter. It also was the record-tying 30th.

Duke Basketball Coach To Take Texas U. Post

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — Harold Bradley, the veteran Duke basketball coach, will come here late this week to sign a three-year contract as coach of the University of Texas.

Bradley Monday agreed to take the position at a reported $10,000 salary per year. While the terms were not disclosed, Bradley will be paid more than any basketball coach ever got here before.

He will replace Marshall Hughes, who resigned after three disastrous seasons during which his team finished in the Southwest Conference cellar twice and next to last the other time.

This May Be The Year For Chicago, Lopez Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —Al Lopez, who has finished second to the Yankees in seven out of the eight years he has been a big league manager, thinks this may be the year his Chicago White Sox will finally beat New York to the wire.

He thought so last year, and the year before, and the year before that, etc. He was right only in 1954 when his Cleveland Indians had to play at a record-breaking pace to top the Yankees' 103 victory total.

"I think we'll give the Yankees a better run this time," the personable Lopez said. "They got off to a flying start and we did just the opposite last year. In May, they were a mile out in front and we were in last place. With it all, we gave them quite a scare.

Lopez firmly believes his club is better than it was last year and he is willing to make a sporting wager the White Sox won't get off to the same miserable start.

"I think we have more power and I'm sure we have better pitching," he said. "Jim Wilson has retired but Barry Latman will more than make up for him. He pitched well for us in the tail-end of the season last fall and he's big, strong and cocky.

Latman joins veterans Billy Pierce (17-11), Dick Donovan (15-14) and Early Wynn (14-16) as the club's big four. Ray Moore, Bob Shaw, Gerry Staley, Don Rudolph and Tom Qaulters round out the staff.

"For the first time in years the White Sox have three outfielders who conceivably can play every day," Lopez said. "Jim Landis, in center, is now an established star. He was hitting .180 last July but hit around .350 after that.

"Al Smith, our right-fielder, was bothered by a bad leg all last year. He now is sound and has looked good. Johnny Callison is our left fielder. He has had less than two years experience and he's only 19 but we think he will hit."

With Sherm Lollar heading a three-man catching staff that will include Earl Battey and either John Ramono or Les Moss, Lopez has no problems there.

Wheeling Granted Night Meetings By Commission

PARKERSBURG (AP) — Wheeling Downs has been granted night meetings by the State Racing Commission, which apparently eliminates need for further litigation in a court case brought in Ohio County.

The commission granted the half-mile track on Wheeling Island a license yesterday to conduct a night horse race meeting April 25 through June 13. An additional license was granted for an Aug. 10-Oct. 10 night meeting.

Ohio Circuit Court had directed the racing commission to grant Wheeling Downs a license for the June 1-July 25 and Sept. 9-Oct. 31 night racing dates which had been tentatively allotted by the commission last Dec. 2.

A controversy between the Wheeling track and the commission developed after Waterford Park asked reconsideration of the dates allocated at the Dec. 2 meeting here and the commission withdrew them.

Wheeling Downs went into circuit court and got an order requiring the commission to license it for meetings on the dates contained in the tentative allocation.

Waterford, which was allocated April 11-May 30, July 29-Sept. 7 and Nov. 4-Nov. 28 dates, asked reconsideration because it was not equipped for cold weather operation.

Ohio Circuit Judge J. H. Brennan held that the granting of dates and of licenses to conduct racing meetings are inseparable.

The Attorney General's office in Charleston, acting on behalf of the commission, had mailed to Ohio Circuit Court a petition seeking Supreme Court reveiew of the lower court order.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred H. Caplan said yesterday, after the commission's latest action concerning Wheeling Downs, that the petition would not be filed in the circuit court. Instead, the commission will seek a stay of execution of the circuit court order beyond the present April 4 deadline, pending further developments.

Waterford Park now is in the position of having to request new dates for the summer and fall. The track is located north of Wheeling near Chester.

Hawks Accuse Laker Five Of 'Roughhouse'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The action returns to the court tonight in the Western division playoffs of the National Basketball Assn., after an idle day in which the St. Louis Hawks accused the Minneapolis Lakers of specializing in roughhouse.

Monday, Hawk owner Ben Kerner and Coach Ed Macauley claimed that star backliner Slater (Dugie) Martin was deliberately tripped and elbowed in the first game of the playoffs Saturday by Ed Fleming of the Lakers.

In that game, Martin received a dislocated bone in his right leg and will be out for the rest of the series.

The Sunday game was marked by a brawl between Hawk shooting star Bob Pettit and Jim Krebs.

Kerner claimed that Sunday the Lakers were "throwing football blocks against us."

The Hawks loss Sunday evened the series at 1-1.

There is action in the somewhat quieter Eastern division of the NBA Wednesday night. Boston, leading the Syracuse Nationals 2-1 in the playoffs, meets the Nats at Syracuse.

In the Western division, fans are looking for a red hot match in St. Louis tonight.

Red Schoendienst To End 4-Month Stay In Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, popular second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, was due to leave a tuberculosis sanitarium today after a four month stay.

And he predicted he would be "bright and early" for 1960 spring training work.

"I feel like I'd be able to put a uniform on by the end of this season," said Schoendienst, whom many consider the top fielding second baseman of modern times. He added with a grin, "but if my doctors say no, I won't do it."

The latter comment is indicative of Red's philosophy since being stricken with tuberculosis, his doctors say. He was known as a model patient at Mount St. Rose Sanitarium.

Lung surgery helped shorten Red's time in the sanitarium.

Schoendienst said he will work at building up his strength at his South St. Louis home. But he emphasized that he wasn't going to rush things.

Red played some of his best baseball against the New York Yankees in last year's series. Shortly thereafter he learned he had TB.

Montreal Heavy Choice To Oust Hawks In Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — The fearsome Montreal Canadiens ruled top heavy favorites to sail through their semifinal Stanley Cup playoffs with Chicago starting tonight, but if the Black Hawks are worried they're not showing it.

Hawk Coach Rudy Pilous said his operatives have no illusions that they're going to have an easy time of it in the best-of-7 set.

"The Canadiens aren't cocky," he observed. "They are a great championship club. But they could be just a trifle overconfident, and if we get a bit lucky you can't tell what might happen."

The Canadiens have won the coveted cup the past three years and if they take it again this time, they will set a record. Toronto is the only other club to win it three years in a row.

Coach Toe Blake expects ace goalie Jacques Plante, who missed the last three games of the regular season, to be ready to take his place in the nets.

He also said he thought Bernie Geoffrion, recuperating from a strained stomach muscle, might be ready.

Moore Of Montreal NHL Scoring Champ

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Dickie Moore is the 1958 - 59 National Hockey League scoring champion, according to final league statistics released today.

And teammate Jacques Plante won his fourth Vezina Trophy for being the least scored upon goalie. Both honors carry a $1,000 stipend from the league.

Moore finished with 96 points, on 41 goals and 55 assists. This was a new NHL record, bettering by one Gordie Howe's 1952-53 mark.

Plante led the league in shutouts with nine, tieing his production of the last two seasons.

Findlay's Loop Champions Land 3 On All-Stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Findlay College, Mid - Ohio league basketball champion, has three of its players on the league's all-star team. Defiance and Wilmington each have two and the remaining four schools one each.

The team, selected by the loop's seven coaches, Monday, includes:

Fred Polinski, George Keller and Joe Hanauer of Findlay College; Pete Reese of Cedarville College; Ron Kalb of Bluffton College; Joe Wilson and Gene Geren of Defiance college; Jim Rickets of Ohio Northern University; Jim Runyon of Ashland College and Charles Cox and George Morton of Wilmington College.

Honorable mention went to Jim Speckman and Joe Miller of Ohio Northern, Carlos Hamilton of Wilmington, Charles Koch of Defiance, Abie Mast of Bluffton and Gary Steele of Ashland.

Cornell Seeks New Basketball Coach

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Cornell, a soft touch in Ivy basketball, searched today for a coach who would spark the Big Red to the top of the league's totem pole.

Royner Greene, who once turned out the best basketball team in Cornell's history, resigned Monday night because "tensions had piled up in the last two years," when his teams twice finished sixth.

Greene said he would like a change, but was undecided whether to enter business or continue in athletics.

During his 13-year tenure, Cornell won 168 games and lost 145.

His 1950-51 club had a 20-5 record, best in the school's history, and his 1953-54 squad captured Cornell's first Ivy championship in 30 years.

This year's team was 8-15.

Jimmy Ross Jr., new racing secretary at Gulfstream Park, Hallandale, Fla., began as a racing official in 1933 at Havre de Grace in Maryland.

Gus Recalls Homer That Never Counted

MIAMI (AP)—Gus Triandos is the husky power guy who belted 30 home runs for Baltimore last season, tying the American League record for catchers. The homer he remembers best is one that didn't count.

"I hit it in the first inning at Detroit," he said, "but then it rained and the game was washed out. So was the home run."

That one would have put him in the record book all alone. As is, however, he isn't cramped for space. Only Yogi Berra has hit as many in one season among AL catchers, setting the record in 1952 and matching it in 1956. Ironically, Triandos is one of that legion of catchers who failed to budge Berra out of a job with the New York Yankees.

Triandos hit 13 of his 30 home runs at home. He hit only two against the Yankees, neither in New York. He had a .245 batting average for the season, .125 against the Yankees.

One of his homers against the champs, however, was a pip, backing up Hoyt Wilhelm's 1-0 no-hitter. It also was the record-tying 30th.

Duke Basketball Coach To Take Texas U. Post

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — Harold Bradley, the veteran Duke basketball coach, will come here late this week to sign a three-year contract as coach of the University of Texas.

Bradley Monday agreed to take the position at a reported $10,000 salary per year. While the terms were not disclosed, Bradley will be paid more than any basketball coach ever got here before.

He will replace Marshall Hughes, who resigned after three disastrous seasons during which his team finished in the Southwest Conference cellar twice and next to last the other time.

This May Be The Year For Chicago, Lopez Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —Al Lopez, who has finished second to the Yankees in seven out of the eight years he has been a big league manager, thinks this may be the year his Chicago White Sox will finally beat New York to the wire.

He thought so last year, and the year before, and the year before that, etc. He was right only in 1954 when his Cleveland Indians had to play at a record-breaking pace to top the Yankees' 103 victory total.

"I think we'll give the Yankees a better run this time," the personable Lopez said. "They got off to a flying start and we did just the opposite last year. In May, they were a mile out in front and we were in last place. With it all, we gave them quite a scare.

Lopez firmly believes his club is better than it was last year and he is willing to make a sporting wager the White Sox won't get off to the same miserable start.

"I think we have more power and I'm sure we have better pitching," he said. "Jim Wilson has retired but Barry Latman will more than make up for him. He pitched well for us in the tail-end of the season last fall and he's big, strong and cocky.

Latman joins veterans Billy Pierce (17-11), Dick Donovan (15-14) and Early Wynn (14-16) as the club's big four. Ray Moore, Bob Shaw, Gerry Staley, Don Rudolph and Tom Qaulters round out the staff.

"For the first time in years the White Sox have three outfielders who conceivably can play every day," Lopez said. "Jim Landis, in center, is now an established star. He was hitting .180 last July but hit around .350 after that.

"Al Smith, our right-fielder, was bothered by a bad leg all last year. He now is sound and has looked good. Johnny Callison is our left fielder. He has had less than two years experience and he's only 19 but we think he will hit."

With Sherm Lollar heading a three-man catching staff that will include Earl Battey and either John Ramono or Les Moss, Lopez has no problems there.

Wheeling Granted Night Meetings By Commission

PARKERSBURG (AP — Wheeling Downs has been granted night meetings by the State Racing Commission, which apparently eliminates need for further litigation in a court case brought in Ohio County.

The commission granted the half-mile track on Wheeling Island a license yesterday to conduct a night horse race meeting April 25 through June 13. An additional license was granted for an Aug. 10-Oct. 10 night meeting.

Ohio Circuit Court had directed the racing commission to grant Wheeling Downs a license for the June 1-July 25 and Sept. 9-Oct. 31 night racing dates which had been tentatively allotted by the commission last Dec. 2.

A controversy between the Wheeling track and the commission developed after Waterford Park asked reconsideration of the dates allocated at the Dec. 2 meeting here and the commission withdrew them.

Wheeling Downs went into circuit court and got an order requiring the commission to license it for meetings on the dates contained in the tentative allocation.

Waterford, which was allocated April 11-May 30, July 29-Sept. 7 and Nov. 4-Nov. 28 dates, asked reconsideration because it was not equipped for cold weather operation.

Ohio Circuit Judge J. H. Brennan held that the granting of dates and of licenses to conduct racing meetings are inseparable.

The Attorney General's office in Charleston, acting on behalf of the commission, had mailed to Ohio Circuit Court a petition seeking Supreme Court reveiew of the lower court order.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred H. Caplan said yesterday, after the commission's latest action concerning Wheeling Downs, that the petition would not be filed in the circuit court. Instead, the commission will seek a stay of execution of the circuit court order beyond the present April 4 deadline, pending further developments.

Waterford Park now is in the position of having to request new dates for the summer and fall. The track is located north of Wheeling near Chester.

Hawks Accuse Laker Five Of 'Roughhouse'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The action returns to the court tonight in the Western division playoffs of the National Basketball Assn., after an idle day in which the St. Louis Hawks accused the Minneapolis Lakers of specializing in roughhouse.

Monday, Hawk owner Ben Kerner and Coach Ed Macauley claimed that star backliner Slater (Dugie) Martin was deliberately tripped and elbowed in the first game of the playoffs Saturday by Ed Fleming of the Lakers.

In that game, Martin received a dislocated bone in his right leg and will be out for the rest of the series.

The Sunday game was marked by a brawl between Hawk shooting star Bob Pettit and Jim Krebs.

Kerner claimed that Sunday the Lakers were "throwing football blocks against us."

The Hawks loss Sunday evened the series at 1-1.

There is action in the somewhat quieter Eastern division of the NBA Wednesday night. Boston, leading the Syracuse Nationals 2-1 in the playoffs, meets the Nats at Syracuse.

In the Western division, fans are looking for a red hot match in St. Louis tonight.

Red Schoendienst To End 4-Month Stay In Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, popular second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, was due to leave a tuberculosis sanitarium today after a four month stay.

And he predicted he would be "bright and early" for 1960 spring training work.

"I feel like I'd be able to put a uniform on by the end of this season," said Schoendienst, whom many consider the top fielding second baseman of modern times. He added with a grin, "but if my doctors say no, I won't do it."

The latter comment is indicative of Red's philosophy since being stricken with tuberculosis, his doctors say. He was known as a model patient at Mount St. Rose Sanitarium.

Lung surgery helped shorten Red's time in the sanitarium.

Schoendienst said he will work at building up his strength at his South St. Louis home. But he emphasized that he wasn't going to rush things.

Montreal Heavy Choice To Oust Hawks In Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — The fearsome Montreal Canadiens ruled top heavy favorites to sail through their semifinal Stanley Cup playoffs with Chicago starting tonight, but if the Black Hawks are worried they're not showing it.

Hawk Coach Rudy Pilous said his operatives have no illusions that they're going to have an easy time of it in the best-of-7 set.

"The Canadiens aren't cocky," he observed. "They are a great championship club. But they could be just a trifle overconfident, and if we get a bit lucky you can't tell what might happen."

The Canadiens have won the coveted cup the past three years and if they take it again this time, they will set a record. Toronto is the only other club to win it three years in a row.

Coach Toe Blake expects ace goalie Jacques Plante, who missed the last three games of the regular season, to be ready to take his place in the nets.

He also said he thought Bernie Geoffrion, recuperating from a strained stomach muscle, might be ready.

Moore Of Montreal NHL Scoring Champ

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Dickie Moore is the 1958 - 59 National Hockey League scoring champion, according to final league statistics released today.

And teammate Jacques Plante won his fourth Vezina Trophy for being the least scored upon goalie. Both honors carry a $1,000 stipend from the league.

Moore finished with 96 points, on 41 goals and 55 assists. This was a new NHL record, bettering by one Gordie Howe's 1952-53 mark.

Plante led the league in shutouts with nine, tieing his production of the last two seasons.

Findlay's Loop Champions Land 3 On All-Stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Findlay College, Mid - Ohio league basketball champion, has three of its players on the league's all-star team. Defiance and Wilmington each have two and the remaining four schools one each.

The team, selected by the loop's seven coaches, Monday, includes:

Honorable mention went to Jim Speckman and Joe Miller of Ohio Northern, Carlos Hamilton of Wilmington, Charles Koch of Defiance, Abie Mast of Bluffton and Gary Steele of Ashland.

Cornell Seeks New Basketball Coach

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Cornell, a soft touch in Ivy basketball, searched today for a coach who would spark the Big Red to the top of the league's totem pole.

Royner Greene, who once turned out the best basketball team in Cornell's history, resigned Monday night because "tensions had piled up in the last two years," when his teams twice finished sixth.

Greene said he would like a change, but was undecided whether to enter business or continue in athletics.

During his 13-year tenure, Cornell won 168 games and lost 145.

His 1950-51 club had a 20-5 record, best in the school's history, and his 1953-54 squad captured Cornell's first Ivy championship in 30 years.

This year's team was 8-15.

Jimmy Ross Jr., new racing secretary at Gulfstream Park, Hallandale, Fla., began as a racing official in 1933 at Havre de Grace in Maryland.
